Today

Harder Than Steel.
Hear Mr. Mellon.
What Man Is Richest?
Why Brains Grow Old.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright. 1928.)

GIGANTIC corporations, with surplus profits for laboratory experiments, and intelligence to use the profits, are valuable national assets.

The General Electric Company, for instance, of which Mr. Gerrard Swope is president, announces a new combination of metals named "carboly," so hard that it will cut steel and glass.

"It will cut a screw thread in a glass rod, bore a smooth hole in a block of concrete, handle porcelain on the lathe and cut the hardest steel."

That is one more step forward in industry. Perhaps, in the next century, men will begin developing their own brains, as they have developed tools, machinery, chemistry and science generally, in this and the last century.

WHEN Mr. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, speaks via the radio from Washington at 8 o'clock tonight, you will hear a man who has put every American in his debt.

He has paid off and retired one-half of the sixteen billions of Liberty bonds floated in the war.

MR. MELLON is one of the ablest American business men and industrialists. Incidentally he has made a great deal of money, and is now concentrating attention on "how to make it useful."

But don't bother him with advice.

BEFORE President Harding appointed Mr. Mellon he said to this writer at St. Augustine: "I am going to appoint the second richest man in the world Secretary of the Treasury. What do you think of that appointment?"

It has turned out to be a good appointment, as was predicted.

If Mr. Mellon is the SECOND richest man, who is the first? Mr. Rockefeller, perhaps, although that isn't certain. But the four richest are known: Rockefeller, Mellon, Henry Ford and George F. Baker. They all worked for what they have and all use their money well.

ACCORDING to Dr. Frederick Tilney, professor of neurology at Columbia College and a really scientific man, it is not the passing of time but unwise living that causes the brain to grow old.

His address on "The Aging of the Human Brain" interests all men past 50.

Disease, alcohol unwisely used and other foolishness are responsible for tired, inferior old brains. Father Time is not to blame.

HAVE you somewhere in the back of your garage or shed an electric "Dos a Dos" automobile made by the Pope company before 1890 and having demountable wheels?

If you have such a car let Henry Ford know about it. He will pay you a big price for it. He needs it to defend a lawsuit for alleged infringement of patent. Many of those vehicles were sold in 1898. Find one.

NEW YORK is mildly interested because 40 of the poorer class were recently poisoned by alcohol of a deadly kind.

China does things on a bigger scale, although not with alcohol. Christian missionaries in Kansu province report more than 200,000 Chinese killed in an uprising of Mohammedans in that part of Western China.

WE HAVE our religious troubles and prejudices here, but they are mild compared with those of Asia. Those Mohammedans of Western China killed off, at one time, enough Chinese to build all the canals and roads needed in the United States.

Mohammedans constitute only one-third of the population in Kansu province, but they are savage fighters. Other Mohammedans, Afghans, living in India under British rule, are also good fighters. If the British would let them, they say they would kill two-thirds of the Hindus and make slaves of the rest.

Mohammed's energy survives.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE "opened careers to talent" and consequently an American girl will marry the cousin of a king, Count Folke Bernadotte.

The original Bernadotte, of humble French parentage, worked his way up in Napoleon's army, and Bonaparte made him King of Sweden. Now one of his descendants will make a fine young American girl part of Sweden's well-behaved royalty.

RUSSIA, with territory, resources and future possibilities unlimited, is struggling to change some of her possibilities into real money, and wisely concentrates on her magnificent oil wells.

In the next 12 months Russia will have 12,500,000 tons of oil for sale. A new pipe line will enable her to put gasoline on tank ships at 8 cents a gallon.

That may create interesting competition across the water. But don't sell your oil stocks if they are the right kind, having back of them oil in the ground, not promises in the air.

Police Face Tow Quiz

Why an ordinance governing towage of "wrecked, stolen or seized automobiles" to garages of city concessionaires has been made an excuse for an excess of zeal and authority on the part of police still was troubling the grand jury today.

While the jurors waited for District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner to summon police officials to answer the question, they continued examination of slot-machine and liquor racketeers. Thirty-five witnesses had been called for the day, and 30 had reported.

Meanwhile Director of Public Safety James M. Clark and Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh had seized the opportunity to declare a willingness to face the grand jury without the formality of being subpenaed. Gardner said they probably would have a chance before the day ended.

One of the witnesses called yesterday, I. T. Jarvis, of 3558 East street, was taken before Judge James B. Drew this morning after he had failed to report. Jarvis was ordered to pay the costs of his arrest and told to appear before the jury this afternoon.

The first witness heard was William A. McGuire, manager of the Tri-State Auto Adjustment Company, Jones Law Building. He went before the grand jury with his records pertaining to towing contracts.

The district attorney wants to know why police display such zeal in clearing streets of cars parked for the night, and he desired to know more about the selection of particular garages for storage.

Proprietors of five garages, with their records, were haled before the jury yesterday and at the end of the day Gardner announced he had uncovered "some facts."

"It was surprising," said Gardner, "to watch how closely the scale of prices for storage went hand-in hand with the garage keeper's political backing. It was very enlightening, indeed. But, what I want to know is the reason for granting these concessions."

While he digs for the bottom of the towing evil, Gardner will continue to sift the charges of Alderman John J. Verona that the city administration reaps $15,000 a week in return for booze and slot machine privileges.

Witnesses called to the grand jury today included: William A. McGuire, manager, Tri-State Auto Adjustment Company, Jones-Law building; Albert Andries, 1952 Ley street; Frank Smith, Jr., 635 Herron avenue; G. M. Barclay, 952 Behan street; Sam Green, 83 Crawford street; Mike Wallace, 1641 Penn avenue; Matthew Rogina, 4929 Hatfield street; J. G. Steinmark, steward, German Club, Madison avenue and Pressley street; John Brussan, 1812 Wylie avenue; Steve Senjan, 6140 Butler street; George Simon, 910 Madison

HORAN OUT, PROBE LOOMS

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Harold J. T. Horan, Paris correspondent of the Hearst newspapers, left France about noon yesterday. He left in compliance with the demand of the French authorities that he must quit the country by Thursday as a penalty for having transmitted to Hearst newspapers the story revealing the contents of the secret Anglo-French naval agreement.

A few hours following his departure, the French foreign ffice announced that the enforcement of the expulsion threat had been postponed. It was said that a further investigation of the incident would be made by the foreign office.

PRESS ASSOCIATION ACTS

Horan was expelled from membership in the Anglo-American Press Association today by a committee which investigated the case.

The association previously had requested the French authorities to postpone Horan's expulsion until the matter could be threshed out. The reason given by the committee for expelling him from the press association was that he was "on various counts guilty of unprofessional conduct."

Horan left Paris by automobile last night for Belgium. Brussels dispatches said that he had arrived there today and called at the American embassy.

The Horan case continued today to be generously commented on by the Paris papers, being divided in their opinions as to the wisdom and justice of the government action.

"The deportation action is sheer madness," said L' Action

HOOVER LEADS IN STATE POLL BY 16,617 BALLOTS

Nearing the three-quarter mark, the straw vote canvass of Pennsylvania by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph today reaches a total of 76,411 ballots, and shows Herbert Hoover leading Gov. Alfred E. Smith with a majority of 16,617 votes.

On the present standing, the Republican candidate is behind the ratio of votes obtained by President Coolidge in Pennsylvania in 1924. Hoover has captured 60 per cent of the votes in the poll, improving his percentage by a few points during the past few weeks. In 1924 President Coolidge was given 67 per cent of the total vote in the state.

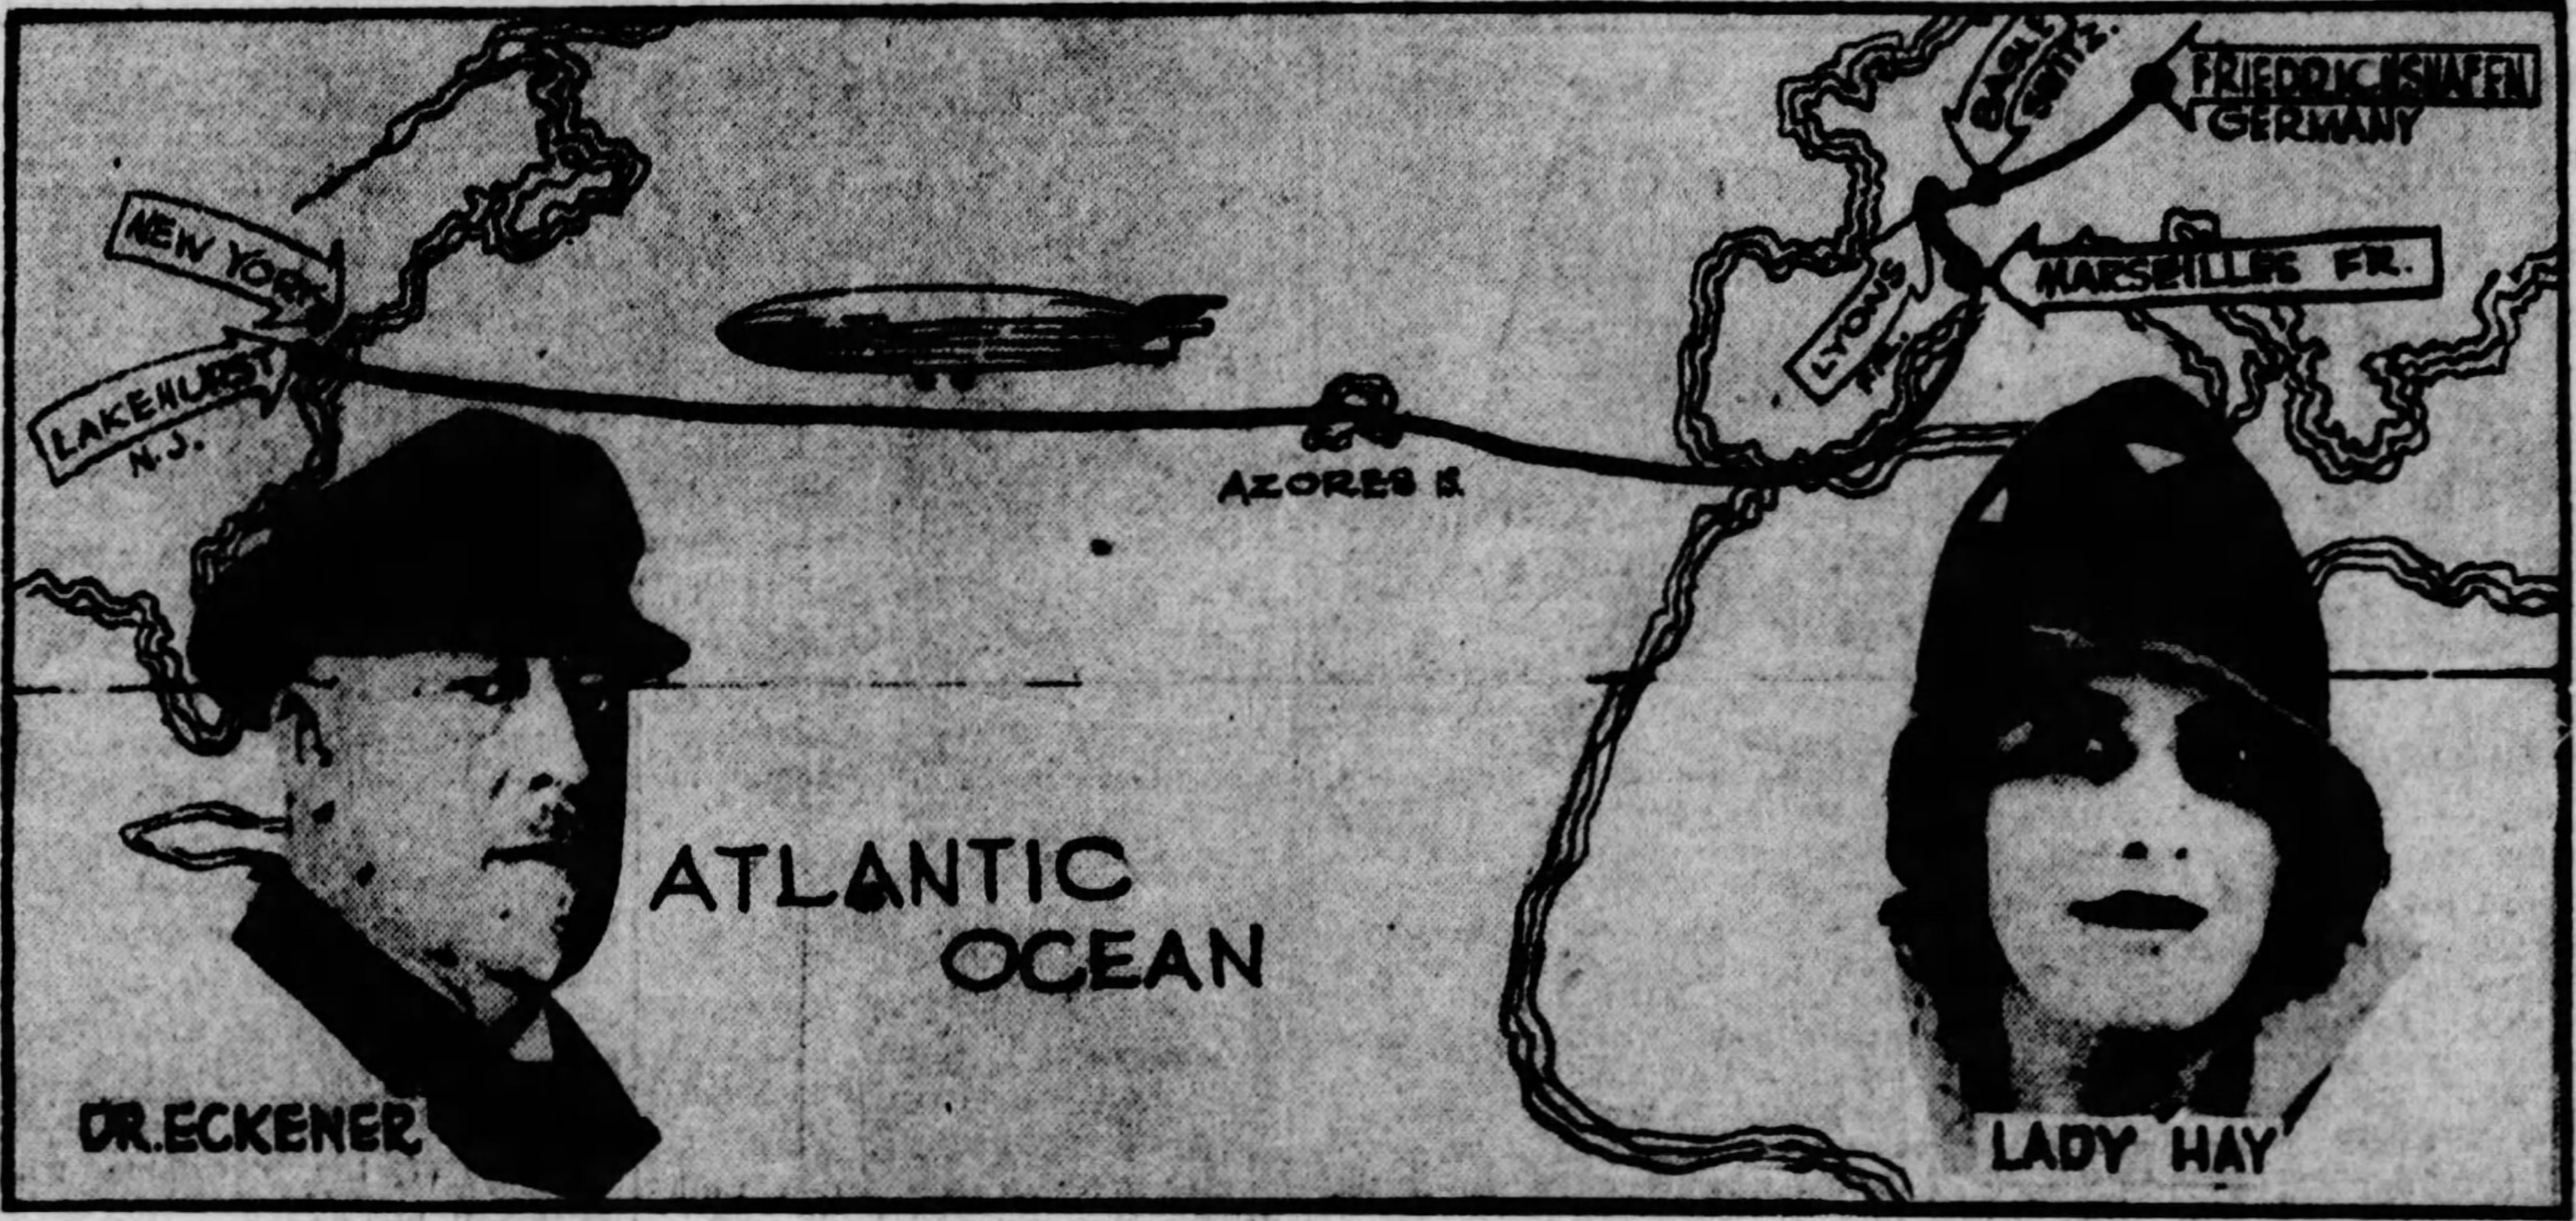
A substantial proportion of the Coolidge vote is going into the Smith column this year, it is indicated. The ratio of the vote of the New York executive in the poll, 40 per cent, is higher than the combined percentages of Coolidge's opponents. Davis received 19 per cent and LaFollette 14 per cent of the 1924 total.

Ballots have been received from voters of more than 60 of the 67 counties of the state. They clearly indicate the widespread breaking of party lines, with Smith the chief beneficiary. They show also that most of the LaFollette vote is swinging to the Democratic candidate.

The standing today in the Pennsylvania poll, conducted in connection with the canvass of the United States by the Hearst papers, is as follows: Hoover 46,514, 37,258 men and 9,256 women; Smith 29,897, 23,170 men and 6,727 women.

This vote was divided in 1924 as follows: Coolidge 52,135, 41,704 men and 10,431 women; Davis 8,485, 7,140 men and 1,345 women; LaFollette 4,791; not voting 11,000.

Path Sea-Bound Zeppelin Cuts Across Europe



COURSE ALTERED BY STORMS

Here is the path that the giant "Graf Zeppelin" has cut across Europe from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Marseilles, France, where it sails out over the Mediterranean Sea, through the Straits of Gibraltar, and over the Atlantic on its way to Lakehurst, N. J., via the southern route past the Azores. Storms made changes of course necessary.

COLUMBIA ROME HOP FAILS

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 11.—With its undercarriage torn and the propeller broken off, the monoplane Columbia was resting on the old Westbury golf course, near Curtiss Field, this afternoon, the spot where it landed a few moments after taking off from Roosevelt Field on an attempted nonstop flight to Rome, piloted by Roger Q. Williams, veteran pilot.

The voyage came to an abrupt end when Williams found his load too heavy to achieve the necessary altitudes. Neither Williams nor his navigator, Piero Bonelli, was injured.

Williams sped down the historic runway at 11:55 o'clock after a morning of preparation and night study over weather charts. His decision to take the Columbia on another trans-Atlantic voyage same suddenly during the past 48 hours when he severed relations with the Roma backers, who had planned a similar flight.

With the cheering farewells of the crowds in his ears, Williams started down the runway, the roar of his motor deadening the cries of spectators. Every inch of the 1,000-foot runway was traversed before he could lift the heavily-laden ship into the air—and then he accomplished the feat only by the trick known as "bouncing."

He had reached an altitude of but 50 feet over the golf course adjoining Curtiss Field, half a mile away and with the plane still laboring badly, decided to land.

HURT RAZING BUILDING, WORKMAN SUCCUMBS

Injured when he fell 20 feet while razing a building owned by the Hill Top Brewing Company, in Brownsville road, yesterday, Conrad Miller, 25, of 1301 Lakewood street, died last night at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Crowds Cheer Zeppelin Off

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS,
International News Service.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 11.—Starting on its epic maiden voyage to America at 7:52 a. m. (1:52 a. m. Eastern Standard Time), Germany's newest super-dirigible, Graf (Count) Zeppelin, and the first trans-Atlantic passenger airship ever built, was speeding westward today. As the ship circled the field in a last farewell at a speed of 50 miles an hour with 20 passengers and a crew of 40 aboard, a roaring cheer went up from a crowd of several thousand proud and joyous Germans. In the throng were also many visitors from other lands to bid the silver-white airliner Godspeed.

GERMANY THRILLED

Thousands of thunderous "hochs" and "gut gluecks" and "auf wiedersehens" interspersed with the strains of "Deutschland, Deutschland, uber alles," reverberated through the morning air as the ship headed southward over Lake Constance and disappeared in the early morning mists.

The ship made a beautiful picture as it soared over the lake with the Alps for a distant background.

Weather conditions were not of the best, but as good as could be expected at this time of the year. There was a light ground wind which helped the airliner climb into the air.

The enthusiasm of the throng at

EXCLUSIVE IN PITTSBURGH

WHEN the Graf Zeppelin left its hangar in Germany this morning it carried among the 60 aboard, Karl H. Von Wiegand, Hearst newspaper correspondent, whose story of the flight will be wirelessed to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Hearst picture services and Hearst newsreels—M-G-M News and International Newsreel—possess exclusive rights to all pictures and films taken aboard the Graf Zeppelin during this epochal flight.

2nd Child Death Is Hinted

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—County detectives today uncovered another case against Phillip Ferraro, 50-year-old New Alexandria man, who with his wife, Mary Ferraro, 34, are on bail awaiting trial in Criminal Court here on charges of involuntary manslaughter growing out of the death of the couple's infant son, Tommy, more than a year ago.

As a result of investigation covering more than a week, detectives say they learned that on September 9 Ferraro severely beat his wife with a cane, breaking her hand. On the night of September 27, a baby was born to the woman in the absence of doctors, and a dog belonging to the family dragged the infant from the house. No trace of the infant has been found since.

When Ferraro learned of the occurrence, it is charged, he seized the dog and placed it on a red hot stove, severely burning the animal. Neighbors reported the occurrences to detectives and Ferraro was re-arrested on charges of aggravated assault and battery and cruelty to animals.

FALL KILLS PRISONER, HURTS 2

Robert Fisher, 27, one of three prisoners who were seriously injured when a scaffold on which they were working fell 50 feet in the county jail this morning, died in the Mercy Hospital this afternoon. Fisher was serving a 60-day sentence on a suspicious person charge. He was sentenced by Magistrate John Orie on September 26.

The other injured prisoners are William McEwan, 21, North Braddock, committed from Sharpsburg on a larceny charge, and Ralph Holland, 20, Pittsburgh, serving 30 to 60 days on a larceny charge.

Fisher's address is given as Youngstown.

The men were working on the scaffold, painting the interior of the jail, when the accident occurred. The swinging scaffold is said to have slipped from a support.

STEERS 500 MI. FROM PATH

PARIS, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The Graf Zeppelin quit the territory of France and headed out over the Mediterranean at 3:30 p. m. The seacoast wireless station at Saintes Marie Delamar sent a radic farewell to the big dirigible. The airship probably will be signaled next over Barcelona or the Balearic Islands.

Warned off the northern route by stormy weather, the Graf Zeppelin turned southward and at length pointed her nose toward the Atlantic, following the southern route by way of the Azores. It meant a detour of about 500 miles, but Dr. Hugo Eckener, in whose hands lies the safety of 20 passengers and a crew of 40, was taking no unnecessary chances with the weather.

Even over the Southern European districts there was rain and mist. The visibility was bad, disappointing thousands of Frenchmen eager to see the first German dirigible to pass over French territory since the end of the war.

SPEED 55 TO 60

From the moment that the huge ship slid from her hangar at Friedrichshafen in a dull mist this morning she droned steadily onward at an average speed from 55 to 60 miles an hour.

Dr. Hugh Eckener, according to messages reaching Paris from points along the route, followed the valley of the River Rhone to the Mediterranean coast. He kept so closely to the winding river that it was thought that bad visibility prevented him from sighting other landmarks and thus reducing his mileage.

The commander's wisdom in picking the southern route was emphasized by weather reports from the Atlantic coast of France. Tempests were raging at L'Orient and other points on the shores of Brittany and Vendee, compelling all fishing boats to run for shelter. More than 50 of

Mercury Hits 82 Here

Summer's return visit sent the mercury to 82 at 3 p. m. today, within four degrees of the peak mark for this date.

Tomorrow will be another sizzler, Forecaster W. S. Brotzman predicted. Showers tomorrow night are expected to break the belated warm spell and usher in much cooler weather, now prevailing in the Northwest.

PUBLIC SQUARE HOUSING CITY'S BUILDINGS URGED

A public square in downtown Pittsburgh, around which will be grouped municipal and county buildings, is suggested by the Golden Triangle Town Hall Association, of which David E. Brown is secretary.

The square, according to the proposal to be announced today, would be located on the site bounded by Fifth avenue and Ross, Diamond and Tunnel streets. Facing this area, the association suggests, would be the Town Hall, the new county building, Courthouse and office buildings.

The Golden Triangle association's suggestions call for the Town Hall erection on a location on the Boulevard of the Allies, at the entrace to the Liberty Bridge. A driveway is proposed leading from the suggested square to the bridge.

Much of the proposed public square would be on the site now occupied by the jail, it is pointed out.

Zoo Improvements :-: These Animals to Be Given Comforts of Home :-: Council at Work

HE NEEDS MORE ROOM

$15,000 FOR HIS COMFORT

SMALL ANIMALS

These are some of the animals who will receive the comforts of their never-to-be-forgotten jungles and plains. Above is the hyena, classed with the small animals, for which the city proposes to spend $25,000 for additional cages.

IMPROVEMENTS $150,000

Improvements at the zoo as proposed by Public Works Director Edward G. Lang total $150,000. City Council has asked for plans for alterations suggested. The zebra, along with deer and buffalo, will get much-needed runways to stretch his legs.

WATER FOWL

For the water fowl, Director Lang proposes a pond at a new aviary, the whole addition to cost about $15,000. Conditions at the zoo now have the animals crowded and cramped and in some cases shut away from even the sunlight. Above is a picture of one of the water fowl inclosures.

RUNAWAYS, TOO

Runways will also be made available for the larger animals, including the tigers. Improvements at the zoo have long been apparently necessary and City Council has earnestly set in to find the money to make them and to add more animals, to cost about $30,000. It's children's paradise.

GERMAN ZEPPELIN IS HEADED FOR U. S.

the field was only a small part of the thrill that today goes through all Germany, which glories in the Zeppelin as the symbol of its own national resurgence from the affects of the war. Four years ago tomorrow, the Los Angeles, now a United States Navy dirigible, started under different conditions. Anxiety was in the air; the Los Angeles was being sent across in payment of a war debt. Today there was complete confidence and pride.

BEATS COMPETITORS

In getting away, in spite of the difficulties of German bureaucracy, and with its fuel supply of the new "blue gas," the Graf Zeppelin triumphed in a double race. It beat the English competitors, the two monster airships being built by Commander Burney, and also the giant flying yachts which the German Lufthansa planned to second across the ocean this autumn.

The first goal of the Graf Zeppelin on this maiden voyage is Lakehurst, N. J., where it will greet its sister ship, the Los Angeles.

Officials at the field estimated that the Zeppelin would reach Lakehurst in about 60 hours. This would bring it to its destination Saturday afternoon.

The Graf Zeppelin is commanded by Dr. Hugo Eckener, who also built and guided across the ocean the Los Angeles. Lieut. Commander Rosendahl, commander of the Los Angeles, is a passenger aboard the 'Count."

Altogether, three nations—Germany, America and England—are represented among the passengers.

WOMAN ABOARD

England is represented by a woman—the only woman on board—Lady Drummond Hay, equally noted for her beauty and her journalistic achievements. Another among the passengers is Karl H. Von Wiegand, European director of the Hearst newspapers.

Robert Hartmann, M-G-M News and International Newsreel photographer, also is aboard.

It was still dawn when Dr. Eckener ordered the ship cleared for the start. The crew scampered aboard and were immediately lost in the interior and the five gondolas of the mighty monster.

When "all aboard" was sounded the passengers lined up along the windows of the front cabin that seems to grow out of the body of the craft. The baggage of the passengers had already been stowed away. This was confined to 44 pounds per passenger although it was understood that Lady Drummond Hay was allowed to exceed this limit.

THOUSANDS CHEER

When all the passengers were on board the ship was weighed and "found not wanting." Thein the sand bags that held it down were shaken off and the water ballast adjusted. It is floated loosely within its anchorage.

"Los!" shouted Dr. Eckener, and hundreds of hands gripped the landing ropes, and slowly the ship was floated from the hall, clearing the edges of the roof by inches, so it seemed. Tight ropes fastened to the wheels that ran on rails insured a straight course for the ship so it would not bump the narrow walls.

A hush fell over the crowd as the silver-gray ship stuck its nose from the hangar at 715 a. m. with the flaming red block letters "Graf Zeppelin" printed upon it.

What followed was so simple and quick it almost surprised the crowd. The ship had cleared the hangar, and its 763 feet covered half the length of the field, held firmly in the grip of 300 men.

The passengers were still chatting with friends and shaking hands. The crowd was milling about the ship. Suddenly Dr. Eckener, standon the bridge at the very front of the front cabin in uniform, gave the command "Hoch."

Three hundred pairs of husky arms "tossed the ship into the air." Engine bells rang, the motors began to roar. The propellers whirred. The swish of a water cascade relieving the ship of last earthly ballast joined the symphony of sound. The official time of the departure was given as 7:52.

Almost before the crowd realized it, the ship was high above them. It looked like a great cloud. The passengers could be seen waving hats and handkerchiefs in farewell.

Then the enthusiasm broke loose. Cheer after cheer went up. Hats flew into the air. Thousands of hands were stretched heavenward. Some ran across the field to follow the course of the ship.

WEATHER GOVERNS TRIP

Dr. Eckener said that the exact route the ship would follow over the Atlantic would depend upon the weather.

"That is one of the advantages of airships," said Dr. Eckener. "It is fast enough to dodge a storm and insure a safe passage."

A special weather organization has been created to supply the ship with the latest weather bulletins. They will be sent by radio as the great air liner carries a wireless outfit.

On the first half of the trip the ship will be supplied mainly by the German weather observatories of Lindenberg, which guided Gen. Umberto Nobile on his stormy ride across Europe last spring, and by Hamburg. Later it will get in touch with the weather stations at Horta, in the Azores, and toward the end of the trip with the weather stations of America, which have promised co-operation. Besides this, it will receive the regular weather reports from steamers on the ocean and arrange its course accordingly.

Dr. Eckener's plans after reaching Lakehurst, N. J., are uncertain. A great deal depends upon the arrangements made in America. It is certain, however, that he will fly to Washington and several other cities. It is possible that the "Graf" may go as far as Cuba.

The Graf Zeppelin may go into regular trans-Atlantic passenger and freight service between Seville, Spain, and Buenos Aires, Argentine, after several scheduled special trips are finished. Large airports with huge airship hangars will be constructed near those two cities.

No Life Saving Devices Taken On Zeppelin

FRIEDRISCHSHAFEN, Oct. 11.—Before the Graf Zeppelin took off for America this morning, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the commander, said:

"Over mid-Atlantic the atmospheric electrical condition may interfere with the radio but that need cause no fear.

"We have neither parachutes nor life saving apparatus aboard. What would be the use of carrying them? In the worst case we could drift upon the ocean for days."

Here Are Facts On Giant Zeppelin

Length—770.8 feet.

Height—100 feet.

Capacity — 3,707,970 cubic feet.

Motors—Five 12-cylinder, 550 horsepower Maybach-Zeppelin motors, weighing 2,450 pounds each. Separate gondolas house each motor, distributed along bottom of bag to avoid interference from one another's backwash.

Fuel—Blau gas, commonly known as "blue gas," a highly compressed gaseous fuel derived from oil. Its specific gravity is almost the same as air, so that fuel consumption during the voyage does not disturb the weight balance of the ship, and makes it unnecessary to let out buoyant gas to counterbalance the loss of weight from consumed gasoline or other liquid fuel.

Speed—Maximum, 80.7 miles an hour; traveling speed, 68.3 miles an hour. At traveling speed and with a load of about 33,000 pounds, the dirigible is estimated to have a traveling range of more than 6,000 miles.

Cost—About $1,000,000.

Accommodations—Crew of 40 and 20 to 25 passengers on long flights. On short flight, 40 to 50 passengers or more.

Owners—The German people. Built by Zeppelin Company on funds raised partly by popular subscription and partly by government subsidy.

DEFENDANT VANISHES AS TRIAL JURY WAITS

While a jury waits, wonders and grows restless in the assignment room of the county courts, attaches of the Common Pleas Court today are endeavoring to find Lawrence T. Coyle, of Brackenridge, who wandered from the courtroom late Tuesday and who hasn't appeared since.

Coyle, the defendant in a damage suit filed by George H. Kraynick, Duquesne, left the court, accompanied by a constable, shortly after the case opened. They said they were going to subpena other witnesses. But no other witnesses have appeared—and neither have the constable or Coyle.

R. B. Elliott, Coyle's attorney, says he hasn't any idea where Coyle might be. Efforts to locate the man have failed so far, and the identity of the constable isn't known, it was stated.

Kraynick, in his suit, alleges Coyle was responsible for a fractured leg he (Kraynick) suffered in a traffic accident on the Freeport road in August, 1925. Kraynick contends he was riding a motorcycle when Coyle drove along on the wrong side of the road and ran into him.

DELAY OUSTING OF HORAN

Francaise. "It will serve to antagonize the entire corps of American journalists in France.

According to L'Oeuvre, Horan should not be blamed for his part in the matter but says: "The blame rests with the altogether too many leaks in our public offices."

Editor Alfred Oulman, in Le Petit Bleu, administration organ, says:

"The Horan affair must be looked at from the French viewpoint rather than the professional. For a foreign journalist enjoying the hospitality of France to procure for himself an official document which he utilizes in his country against France, commits a deed which is inadmissable and intolerable.

"If a French journalist had done the same thing here he would have been prosecuted for divulging a document involving the safety of the state. What is intolerable from a French journalist cannot be tolerated from a foreign journalist residing in our country.

CALLED POLITICAL AGENT

"Horan's act was the act of a political agent in the service of a foreign group hostile to French rather than the act of a journalist who wishes to inform quickly and exactly the American papers which he represents in Paris.

"Would America tolerate in its own country such an action on the part of a French journalist? The French governmen does well to expel this journalist. American journalists cannot unite in fellowship with one of their number expelled from France for a fault which is inexcusable."

L'Ami Du Peuple asserted:

"Inasmuch as the French government declares that the document in question is not a secret, why the comedy of deportation? It will certainly serve only to further muddle the case."

LONDON RAPS EXPULSION

By ROBERT J. PREW,
Universal Service Special Cable.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The victimization of Harold J. T. Horan, Paris correspondent of Universal Service, for his exclusive dispatch giving first authentic details or the Anglo-French naval agreement, continues to excite unfavorable comment in the English newspapers.

The conservative Evening Standard yesterday afternoon remarked:

"Among the press representatives in Paris, feeling is running strong over the unjust treatment accorded Mr. Horan. Nobody takes seriously the absurd stories about robberies at the Quai D'Orsay, and the suborning of French officials.

"The view is taken here that the French foreign office's letter was published because the Quai D'Orsay wished it to be published, and its publication was only one of a long series of calculated indiscretions.

"The injustice of Horan's treatment is all the more flagrant because similar indiscretions of authors in the French press go unpunished."

BELATED ENLIGHTENMENT

Commenting on the British cabinet's decision to publish the terms of the Anglo-French naval agreement, the Daily Express says:

"Bit by bit from this source and from that, by the courtesy of the Hearst press and by published official comments of other governments, the world now knows pretty well what it was all about.

"Therefore we cannot profess any great gratitude to Whitehall for the modicum of belated enlightenment that is now promised. We welcome it only as one welcomes the end of a particularly painful exhibition by a particularly dear friend.

"Even that amount of welcome may be premature, and certainly will be unless Parliament shows its opinion of these transactions in so decided a fashion that nothing like them will be attempted again. Let the inevitable debates on the agreement be as many nails in the coffin of secret diplomacy and bureaucratic obsurantism."

these vessels took refuge in the harbor.

PASSER OVER LYONS

At 3:33 a. m., Eastern Standard time, the ship passed over Basle, Switzerland. An hour and a half later she crossed the Franco-German border and passed over Belfort, heading southwest. She flew over the city of Lyons and then turned directly to the south, sailing down the Rhone Valley to the Mediterranean. Montelimar was passed at 9:05, Eastern Standard time, and Arles shortly after. Her last touch with France was over the Rhone Delat at the wireless station in Saintes Maries Delamar.

Barcelona, Spain, or the Balearic Islands were then ext polts in her path with the likelihood that she would pass over Gibraltar at the entrance to the Mediterranean and would then head for the Azores.

It was not expected that the ship would reach the United States before Sunday morning.

All France eagerly watched the progress of this new trans-Atlantic air voyage and the newspapers gave reports of the start at Friedrichshafen prominent first page space. In every town along the possible route, the population had been waiting for days and nowhere did there appear any signs of animosity over the new "raid."

The time of the Zeppelin's arrival in Lakehurst, N. J., all depends on Dr. Eckener's ability to avoid a depression at sea and pick a route which is likely to carry him across with a minimum of adverse winds, in the opinion of experts who saw the start today.

TROUBLE WITH RADIO

A radio station at Nordeich, Germany, reported the greatest difficulty in communicating with the Zeppelin because of static interference. The big airship continuously asked for weather information and said it was having trouble in understanding even the most powerful European radio stations. Large American stations were heard intermittently, but not distinctly enough to understand what they were sending.

After leaving Belfort the Zeppelin ran into hanging clouds in a deep stratum and had to navigate solely by compass for some time.

Beginning at 5 p. m. (noon E.S.T.) the Zeppelin began sending massages in code, chiefly to friends of those aboard, to several representatives of Eckener and to the German government.

The dirigible was expected to follow the usual air custom of sending out "All's well" messages at 2 p. m. (3 p. m., E. S. T.).

The Graf Zeppelin will be the third dirigible to make a trans-Atlantic flight. The Los Angeles (formerly the ZR-3), left Friedrichshafen on October 12, 1924, and arrived at Lakehurst, N. J. October 15, 1924, completing the 5,000-mile journey in 81 hours.

The R-34 (British dirigible) arrived at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, July 6, 1919, from East Fortune, England, completing the 3,200-mile voyage in 59 hours. It left Long Island July 10, on return trip to England, arriving at Pulham, July 13, in 75 hours.

SPEED REDUCED

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The speed of the Graf Zeppelin was reduced this afternoon from 60 to 53 to 54 miles an hour, according to a computation based upon cablegrams. The ship was reported out over the Mediterranean west of Marseilles at 3:30 this afternoon, French time. Allowing for the devious variations of the course it was estimated the dirigible had traveled about 450 miles since leaving Friedrichshafen at 7:52 a. m., German time.

HOOVER TO URGE HIGH TARIFF AT BOSTON

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—A pledge to revise the tariff upward to protect American industry against shifting economic tides and a promise to use every agency of the government to promote foreign trade, in order to open new markets for American manufacturers, will feature Herbert Hoover's speech at Boston Monday night, it was learned here today.

The Republican nominee will devote his address to an analysis of business conditions, the effect of the tariff upon industry and labor and proclaim the steps necessary to keep America properous. He will maintain that the tariff being partly responsible for prosperous industrial conditions, should be kept in friendly hands and that the Republican party must be given the task of revising it to meet changing conditions, if the nation is to continue properous.

Hoover will devote a large part of his address to foreign trade. He will cite numerous statistics to show that America's foreign commerce has grown by leaps and bounds under a Republican administration. He will pledge the government's aid in promoting new business abroad and argue that an expanding foreign trade is necesary to provide markets for the ever-growing output of American industry.

Reports, circulated by Democratic spokesmen, that Hoover owns oil lands in Mexico and an oil concession in the Republic of Colombia caused some excitement at Republican headquarters. The reports were denied vigorously by Henry J. Allen, publicity director, who wired his denial to former Senator H. C. Hansbrough, in Chicago, when told the latter intended incorporating the reports in a speech.

Hoover meanwhile expressed pleasure at receiving the indorsement of Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, who commanded the famous Twenty-sixth Division in the World War, and with an indorsement by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. Lewis will speak in behalf of Hoover on October 17, over the Republican radio hookup.

"You are the outstanding man to solve the economic problems which now confront the country," Edwards wired Hoover, "and your championship of the protective tariff and the success which will attend you, assure to us a safe defense against the menace of a competitive tariff which would certainly turn the interests of the country over to the cheap labor of foreign lands."

"I am supporting Mr. Hoover," Lewis explained, "because I consider him America's greatest industrial statesman. I confidently expect his election and feel certain it will bring a period of unusual progress for the nation."

BURNED IN CHARITIES HOME, CHILD DIES

Burned while at play in the Catholic Charities Home, 1318 Pennsylvania avenue, yesterday, John O'Donnell, 2, died today in St. John's Hospital. The flimsy dress of the child swept into the flane of an open grate and he was seriously burned before attendants reached him.

W. R. HEARST LAYS HORAN CASE BEFORE KELLOGG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, conferred with Secretary Kellogg today on conditions in Europe and the developments surrounding the case of Harold J. T. Horan, Paris correspondent of the Universal Service, who was requested to leave France by French authorities.

Yesterday the State Department instructed the American embassy in Paris to make certain that Horan's rights under French law were not violated.

After calling upon President Coolidge at the White House, Mr. Hearst said that in his opinion by arresting Horan, the French authorities had behaved "like spoiled children."

He said, however, that there was nothing that either he or the State Department could do about it since the question was a matter of domestic jurisdiction with France.

Mr. Hearst said that as far as he could see the general trend throughout the country was in favor of Herbert Hoover in the forthcoming election.

Business, judged by the reliable barometer of advertising in newspapers, he said, appeared to have recovered from the depression that was indicated in the earlier part of the year.

STAR WITNESS MISSING IN MURDER FARM PROBE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—Jessie Clark, one of the state's star witnesses against Gordon Stewart Northcott, Los Angeles "ape man," and his mother, Mrs. Louisa Northcott, became the mystery woman of the murder farm investigations today.

Reported to have passed through Los Angeles, headed for Riverside, Cal., she had not been located today. It is generally believed that Riverside officials are keeping her concealed from the public.

Riverside investigators declared today that they had forged another link in their chain of evidence when they established that quicklime destined for the Northcott farm was purchased in El Monto on March 26, the day after young Stanford Clark says Walter Collings was slain.

BYRD LEAVES U. S. ON WAY TO ANTARCTIC

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—Commander Richard E. Byrd today is on his way to the bottom of the world. Amid the cheers of thousands of spectators the great whaler C. A. Larsen slipped out of San Pedro harbor to begin its journey into the frozen wastes of the Antarctic.

The ship, the largest whaling boat in the world, carried a 10,000-ton cargo of whaling and exploration supplies.

Commander Byrd arrived at the ship accompanied by Mrs. Byrd. She did not go abroad the vessel.

Among the supplies carried aboard the Larsen are 75 sheep, which will provide fresh meat and several milch cows. The expedition will cost approximately $1,150,000. The personnel embraces 82 members.

"SCIENCE FIRST—NO RACE"

Just before Commander Byrd sailed for New Zealand he issued the following statement:

"We are starting later than any other expedition in the Antarctic. The reason is that no other expedition will go as near to the South Pole to establish a base as we shall, and that takes time. We shall be starting under the best ice conditions.

"We are going as near the pole as possible to establish our base and to make our explorations for scientific purposes and reasons.

"I hope the public will not be impatient at the delay that may be caused by ice, for we are going where we will get by far the best chance to accomplish the scientific results we hope for.

"There is no rivalry between the Antarctic expeditions, nor any intent for a race to the pole. If any members of another expedition come our way, we shall be very glad to see them and to give them all hospitality and courtesy."

RAID FOLLOWS FAMILY ROW

Accused of chasing his mother-in-law from her home with a revolver early today, Thomas Vaughn, 22, of 11 East Lacock street, was arrested and lodged in the North Side Police Station. He told police that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Danforth, of 123 East Ohio street, was conducting a disorderly house and that she was keeping his wife, Helen, from attending to her own household duties. On the strength of Vaughn's charges, police went back and raided Mrs. Danforth's home, arresting her and her daughter, Mrs. Vaughn, two other women and a man. Mrs. Danforth was charged with keeping a disorderly house and the others with visiting a disorderly house. All are scheduled for hearings in Morals Court.

Weather Conditions.

The Atlantic coast high is developing southward slowly and increasing somewhat in pressure. The highest barometer is 30.38 inches, at Elkins and at Lynchburg. It is still causing clear skies east of the Mississippi except in Florida, where heavy rains occurred.

The western low pressure area stretches, in the form of a narrow trough, from north of Lake Superior southwestward to Southern California. The principal center of disturbance is over Arizona, lowest barometer 29.34 inches. The low is producing scattered thunderstorms over Minnesota and the upper lakes and snow over Montana, Wyoming and Southeastern Idaho. Snow occurred also over the Canadian Northwest.

A high of marked intensity is coming down over Alberta. It is causing freezing temperatures and below over the Canadian Northwest and as far south as Southern Wyoming. From the Plains states eastward the temperatures are above normal.

River Conditions.

The rivers are still stationary at low stages. Stage at Pittsburgh, 9.7 feet; Dam No. 2, 8.3, and Dam No. 6, 7.6. The dams are up.

POWER PROBERS REVEAL UTILITIES PUBLICITY FUND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The payment of approximately $84,000 annually to E. Hofer & Sons, of Salem, Ore., by individual utility companies in many sections of the country was disclosed yesterday through the testimony of Robert M. Hofer, manager, in the Federal Trade Commission's power investigation.

The firm sponsors a monthly magazine, "the Manufacturer," and a weekly industrial news service, both of which have been sent regularly to between 13,000 and 14,000 newspapers in the 48 states for about four years. Hofer said the publications had consistently opposed the government in business and municipal operation of utilities, but emphatically denied that this policy had been influenced by the money received from utility interests.

Examined by Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, the witness said the activities of his firm always had been above board. He testified that it had fought public ownership for years prior to meeting with utility representatives in New York four years ago, when the arrangement for financial support was made.

Numerous letters from the Hofer correspondence were introduced. One under date of May 26, 1925, written to A. R. Gwinn, of the Central Illinois Public Service Company, Springfield, Ill., said the service was primarily for small city dailies and country weeklies.

"In the aggregate," it continued, "these papers reach the majority of American citizens who hold the balance of power in our state and national elections."

The letter defined the objects of the work as to reduce the volume of legislation that interferes with business and industries; to "minimize and counteract political regulation of business that is hurtful;" to "discourage radicalism by labor organizations and all sorts of agitators;" to "fight constantly for reasonable taxation by city and county governments," and to wage "a scientific educational campaign against all socialistic and radical propaganda." In conclusion Hofer referred Gwinn to W. H. Hodge, of the H. M. Byllesby Co., Chicago, or Martin Insull, of the Middle West Utilities Company, Chicago, concerning his firm's work.

Beaten Up, Says Thaw Suspect

City detectives beat him brutally, William Beatty, 25, of 14 Courtright street, testified today in Criminal Court, where he is standing trial on a charge of trying to blackmail three Pittsburgh millionaires, including Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw.

In his own defense, Beatty told of being given the "third degree" by Detectives Robert Burke and Jerry Deasy after he had been arrested nine weeks ago in Highland Park, where the sleuths believed he was waiting for money he had demanded from Mrs. Thaw, A. Mansmann, East End merchant, and H. G. Goldensen, South Side furniture dealer.

On cross-examination, Beatty admitted to a lengthy police record; he admitted having been arrested several times in Pittsburgh and having been convicted of grand larceny in Cleveland.

MRS. THAW NOT TOLD

Mrs. Thaw, seldom able to leave her room since breaking her hip more than a year ago, was represented by Attorney P. S. Space. Mrs. Thaw, 86, never saw the letter directed to her. It was opened, it was testified, by a secretary, and turned over to the attorney. Mrs. Thaw knows nothing of the case now being tried, not even that her life had been threatened.

It was on August 7 that Detective Lieut. David F. Corbett was given the case. He at once detailed six sleuths. The letters, all alike, specified that the cash be buried at Highland Park entrance in Highland avenue.

He told them he was out of work and went to the park to loaf. He said he had been employed at the National Casket Company plant. The detectives found, they said, that he had not worked there, and that other statements made by Beatty failed to jibe with the facts. He denied writing the letters, but was indicted as a suspect.

Assistant District Attorney John F. Haggerty is prosecuting the case while Attorney James A. Chambers is defending Beatty. The case will likely be completed and go to the jury late today.

AL SMITH WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING SET

Women of the Al Smith Club, 137 Seventh street, will hold a card party in the Fort Pitt Hotel at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Proceeds from the event will be used to further the campaign of Gov. Smith for the presidency of the United States. Meetings are held daily at 12:20 p. m. in the club's headquarters. Tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock the club's regular Friday meeting will be held. Speakers will be Miss Margaret Reardon, of Pittsburgh, and J. M. Flood, of Virginia.

GASOLINE BURNS

Only embers and blackened metal parts remain of this oil train, aflame at Zyba, Kan. In the fire, 27 cars of gasoline burned for 10 hours.

SMITH GIVEN ROUSING VIRGINIA WELCOME

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service.

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. SMITH, RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 11.—Gov. Al Smith, aboard the first Democratic campaign train the South has seen since the Civil War, passed leisurely through Virginia today, making numerous stops.

Everywhere the New York Governor received a welcome that seemed to belie "bear" stories of Democratic disaffecion below the Potomac River.

Gov. Harry F. Byrd boarded the special at Fredericksburg, Va., soon after it left Washington early today. He was accompanied by a distinguished welcoming delegation of Virginians, including Senator Claude Swanson and Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, who was one of Woodrow Wilson's close personal friends.

CROWD CHEERS

A considerable crowd was at the station at Fredericksburg, despite the early hour. They cheered loudly and clamored for a sight of the brown derby. But Gov. Smith had not arisen and the Virginians had to be content with applauding their own distinguished Virginians.

A crowd of several hundred, mostly students of Randolph-Macon College, was at the station at Ashland shortly after 9 o'clock. The Democratic nominee appeared on the rear platform for a few moments there and was the recipient of a college cheer.

Throughout the morning the special made its way through country made historic by the battles of the Civil War. The train was late getting into Richmond, the schedule having been changed from 9:15 to 10:15.

"POISON PEN" WRITER FINED

James S. Braddock, 73, wealthy retired merchant, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., pleaded guilty to sending a scurrilous postcard through the mails and was fined $200 by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker in Federal Court today. He was charged with depositing the card at the Mt. Pleasant postoffice last April 12, addressed to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte Hay Beard, 508 West North avenue. The contents had to do with money transactions between the two, the government alleged.

TO FIGHT FIRE IN MIFFLIN MINE

Means of combatting the fire which is eating away the coal under the Neal farm, Mifflin township, was discussed at a conference between the township commissioners and State Mine Inspector John I. Pratt this afternoon. The mine has been on fire for months, and the flames are spreading.

Recently the smoke and fumes became more pronounced, and today it was reported that a number of families in Thompson Hollow had been sickened by the gases.

LOS ANGELES BACK SAFE

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 11—(INS.)—The U. S. Navy dirigible Los Angeles was back here today from a long swim across country to San Antonio.

The big American airship came over its home field shortly after dark last night after being in the air since last Friday night.

Lieut. Commander H. V. Wiley, in charge of the Los Angeles on her 4,000-mile tour, said the airship behaved perfectly.

Knife Story Fails As Divorce Grounds

Although he accused his wife of throwing a knife at him, Bert F. Smith, of Soffel street, Mt. Washington, was refused a divorce from Catherine Smith, of Kathleen street, Mt. Washington, yesterday, by Judge James R. Macfarlane. The husband also charged his wife had tried to shoot him. He said she spent much time with neighbors, went to movies and dances and did not keep the house clean.

The wife contested the suit and in her charges accused her mate of leaving her and of loafing.

The court points out that Mrs. Smith is the mother of four children and found the husband himself was not without blame.

ERIE SCOUT ON BYRD'S SHIP RADIOS 'ALL WELL'

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Paul A. Siple, Erie Boy Scout, accompanying Commander Richard A. Byrd's expedition to the South Pole, sent a radiogram yesterday to the Erie Scouts from the City of New York, on which he is journeying to Australia on the first leg of his trip. Siple reported everything satisfactory.

Bridge Blamed For Quaking Mantels

The vibration of the Elizabeth Street Bridge shakes ornaments from the mantels in her home and causes other disturbances, Mrs. Mary J. Cavanaugh complained to Council yesterday. She was informed that an ordinance had been passed appropriating funds for repairs and new approaches to the bridge.

Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang said he would make a personal inspection at once to see if some immediate remedy can be found.

SYNOD CHOOSES MEYERSDALE

GREENVILLE, Oct. 11.—The invitation of the Amity Reformed Church, of Meyersdale, to the Pittsburgh Synod, Reformed Church in the United States, was accepted by the Synod at its annual meeting, and the 1929 sessions will be held in Meyersdale next October.

In addition to the election of the Rev. George L. Roth, of St. Paul's Church, Somerset, as president, the following officers have been chosen: Vice president, Elder T. K. Saylor, of Johnstown; corresponding secretary, the Rev. F. R. Casselman, of Johnstown, and treasurer, the Rev. W. M. Diefenderfer, of Sharon.

The synod refused to accept the resignation of the Rev. Dr. A. M. Keifer, for 20 years superintendent of St. Paul's Orphans' Home in Greenville, and also head of the Old Folks' Home, founded last year. Instead, Dr. Keifer was given an assistant, James B. Pierce.

There are now 105 children in the Orphans' Home and about a dozen residents in the Old Folks' Home.

RUNAWAY ARMY PLANE SOARS 40,200 FT., FROZEN

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—Riding a runaway Army plane at an altitude of 40,200 feet at a temperature of 73 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, is the tale that is being related at Wright Field here today by United States Army Captains St. Clair Strett, pilot, and A. W. Stevens, of the photographic section, following a spectacular flight of five hours that began here and ended at Rushville, Ind.

Strett and Stevens took off from here yesterday at 11 a. m. in the X-C-O-5 ship in which Lieut. John Macready made the world's altitude record of 38,000 feet. They had intended to fly to Indianapolis and from a point near Macready's ceiling attempt a glide to Dayton.

Above Indianapolis, Capt. Stevens reported today, the controls of the ship froze, and the ship continued to climb despite Strett's efforts. The ascent continued until the ship neared Rushville, Ind., when the fuel supply became exhausted and the two fliers landed in a field near Rushville about 4 p. m. yesterday. An hour later they arrived here.

The fliers maintained life during the trip by the use of liquid oxygen. Calibration of the barograph, it is believed, will establish a world's record for a ship with two passengers.

G. O. P. CLANS BURY HATCHET TO BACK HOOVER

HIT-RUN AUTOS CAUSE INJURY OF FIVE

Struck by a machine operated by a "hit-and-run" driver in Penn avenue at Atlantic avenue last night, Eugene Dayton, 8, of 5312 Brown place, was reported in a serious condition early today at West Penn Hospital. The boy, a son of Patrolman Leon Dayton, suffered a fractured skull.

Four city employes were injured, two seriously, late yesterday when a truck in which they were returning home from work was struck and overturned by an automobile in Washington boulevard at Leech Farm road. The driver of the other machine disappeared and his machine was taken to Frankstown Avenue Police Station.

The injured are Thomas Deasy, 25, of Calvin street, driver; James Kilpatrick, 22, of 708 Oakwood street; Charles Rowan, 24, of 349 Meyran avenue, and M. Y. Poling, 701 Wallbridge street. Deasy and Kilpatrick are in Pittsburgh Hospital, both suffering fractured skulls. The others were taken home.

Albert Dallon, 8, of 8 Pine alley, McKees Rocks, is in a critical condition in the Ohio Valley General Hospital as a result of being struck by an automobile in Helen street, McKees Rocks, late yesterday. His skull is fractured, the hospital reported. Frank Neggla, 22, of 103 Helen street, driver of the car, is charged with aggravated assault and battery by McKees Rocks police before Justice of the Peace James J. Westwood.

NIGHT RIDERS RIDE AGAIN, ROB TWO IN NORTH SIDE

The "Night-riding Trio," who staged a series of holdups a week ago, was abroad again last night and two stickups were reported from the North Side early today.

Marshall Steele, 1949 Crafton boulevard, was standing at Federal street extension and Lafayette avenue, he told police, when an auto with three men drew up, and two alighted and robbed him of $38. A short time later police were notified that George Retelтes, 1238½ Sunday street, was robbed of $40 in a similar manner at California avenue and Sedgwick street.

Chester Forsythe, 24 Robinson street, reported that he was held up by two Negroes in Second avenue, near the Tenth Street Bridge and robbed of $100. He was beaten on the head and was attended at Mercy Hospital.

Wyoto Raffells, 53, of 823 Wylie avenue, was slugged and robbed of $2 by two white men early this morning in the rear yard of his home. He was removed to Mercy Hospital in Central Police patrol. Seven stitches were required to close a wound in his head.

ROBBER LEAPS OUT WINDOW

Surprising a Negro looting the home of J. B. Barber, of 40 Morewood avenue, yesterday, Mrs. Margaret McCord, daughter of Mr. Barber, unarmed and alone, chased him out of the house.

Finding the intruder in a second floor room, she pursued him to the rear of the house where he escaped through a window onto the roof of a garage and from there leaped to the ground.

Mrs. McCord ran down the stairs and out into the yard but failed to see where he had gone. She then notified police.

A search of the house revealed that nothing had been stolen.

EMINENT ECONOMIST WILL SPEAK AT PITT

Dr. Charles A. Beard, eminent political and social economist and one-time head of the political science department of Columbia University, is scheduled to speak at the University of Pittsburgh tomorrow at 11 a. m., before all students of the university. His subject is "Ten Years After the Deluge."

KLINE, LESLIE PLEDGE UNITY AT MEETING

Mayor Charles H. Kline and Senator M. G. Leslie, putting their factional differences aside temporarily, appeared on the same platform at a meeting in Hotel Henry last night to denounce the injection of religion as an issue in the present presidential campaign.

"Religion has no place in politics," said the Mayor. "It never can have a place in politics as long as we are real Americans, standing by the American principle that every man has a right to worship God as his conscience dictates."

"It is unfortunate that the question of religion has entered this campaign," stated Senator Leslie. "It should not have been allowed to enter. It is a source of worry and concern to all who believe in American principles. The Republican party should discredit those who are shooting poison and disturbing friendliness and neighborliness."

At the meeting, ward chairmen, city and county officials and Republican leaders who have been maneuvering for advantage, with their eyes on the mayoralty contest next year, smoked the pipe of peace in honor of a temporary armistice during which they all undertook to work for the Hoover-Curtis ticket here.

ONE FIGHT AT A TIME

"There has been a lot of talk about fights next year and the year after," said Councilman Daniel Winters, voicing what, judging from the applause, was regarded as the keynote thought of the gathering. "Let's forget those fights now, and take care of them when they come. Let's take care of this fight now."

All factions were represented at the meeting, over which County Chairman Joseph G. Armstrong presided. Two of the "three musketeers" who started the drive against the city administration, which resulted in the present grand jury investigation, were presented. They were Thomas Flanigan, of the First Ward, and Owen McManus, of the Second. Alderman John J. Verona, of the Third, according to his friends, would have been present had he been in the city. Superintendent of Police P. P. Walsh was present, as was P. J. O'Malley, rival of McManus in the Second.

All of the speakers agreed that the Republican organization here is facing a fight, but predicted success.

SPEAKERS

The speakers included former State Chairman W. L. Mellon, who said he has no doubt of a Republican victory in the state or nation; County Commissioner E. V. Babcock; Senator James J. Coyne, chairman of the city committee; P. J. Donahoe, chairman of the Tenth Ward, who said that his workers "will take care of the Smith sentiment in the Tenth Ward in a way that will please all of you; Controller Robert G. Woodside, Councilmen James F. Malone, Robert Garland, John S. Herron, Harry A. Little and W. Y. English, Alderman P. J. Sullivan of the Sixth Ward, Congressman Harry A. Estep, former Congressman William H. Coleman, chairman of the campaign committee; Senator Frank J. Harris, Senator Morris Einstein, who said the Twenty-fifth Ward will give Hoover a larger majority than it gave Coolidge; Samuel J. Grenet, chairman of the Twenty-seventh Ward; Herman P. Brandt, candidate for Senate in the Fortieth District, and Judge Elder W. Marshall.

Defeat of the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 5, which would authorize the Legislature to grant exemptions as to subjects of taxation or amounts, in the case of inheritance taxes, was urged by Controller Woodside. He urged its defeat because it fails to include exemption held by war veterans' organizations. Councilmen Garland and Malone appealed for support of Amendment No. 8, which authorizes the increase of Pittsburgh's debt limit from 7 to 10 per cent. Support of the metropolitan district amendment also was urged by Garland.

BOMB THREATS RECEIVED BY WILLEBRANDT KIN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—A threatened bombing of the ranch home of the parents of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, caused police to throw a special guard about the premises at Zmple, Cal., today.

The warning of vengeance was received by the couple, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Walker, in a letter attacking Mrs. Willebrandt for speeches she made in the East relating to prohibition and the Democratic party.

Police also were informed that Kathleen Norris, noted woman novelist, would be "molested" if she attempted to speak in behalf of Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee.

Mrs. Norris addressed an audience at Fresno, Cal., last night after she had received three telephone calls and a letter, police were informed, warning her not to appear. She planned to deliver an address here today.

Government authorities were asked to aid in a search for those responsible for the telephone calls and letters.

VERDUN VETS ADVISED HOW TO CLAIM MEDALS

Publication in the Sun-Telegraph of the receipt of a medal by D. W. Frampton, of 522 Sandusky street, for his participation in the defense of Verdun, has brought from the Commission of the Book of Gold at Verdun, France, which is handling the distribution of medals, a request that this newspaper explain how other defenders, residing in this vicinity may obtain medals.

Only those who were engaged in the defense of the Verdun front from July 31, 1914, to November 11, 1918, are eligible for the medals which are of bronze, with the French tri-color ribbon. Soldiers applying for the medals should give their complete war record, that their service can be checked with officials' records. Applications should be sent to the Commission of the Book of Gold, Verdun, France.

PROTEST POLES LOCATION

The advisability of putting electric wires underground was advanced by Councilman John S. Herron at a Council meeting yesterday.

He made his suggestion after N. R. Criss, representing residents of Allendale street, had appeared to complain against the erection of 50-foot poles for wires of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, the Duquesne Light Company and the Bell Telephone Company. A permit had been granted, it developed, but work was stopped when complaints were made.

Criss suggested that the railways company carry its lines along a ravine. Representatives of the companies concerned were asked by Council to confer with the residents.

SHOT IN HUSBAND'S CAR; ASSAILANT NOT TRACED

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Despite a day of investigation into the fatal shooting of Mrs. Frank Patton, 37, of Tyrone, who died at the Altoona Hospital of wounds received while riding in her husband's automobile and allegedly at the hands of a "hitch-hiker," state police had made no arrest today. The husband, who police say was the only witness, was questioned for hours, but was not held. An arrest is promised within a few days. The coroner has ceased investigation, stating the affair occurred in Huntingdon county. Coroner Dr. M. L. Schrum of Huntingdon county refused to conduct an inquiry, believing the shooting occurred in Blair county.

Wakes Up From Punch, Gets $10 Fine

In his lunch wagon at First and Ferry streets, Vincent Barnes argued with H. D. Walters, of 1514 Greenwood avenue, over an alleged debt of Barnes'.

"I called him a liar," Barnes testified in Morals Court today, "and when I woke up there was a big crowd around."

Each was fined $10.

$12,000 DAMAGES ON $4,500 FARM ASKED

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 11.—County Commissioners investigating a claim for $12,000 damages put in by a farmer residing along the Perry highway north of Zelienople, as the result of the improvement of that road, have discovered the farm is assessed at $4,500. The commissioners now have adopted a rule of securing waivers of damages before contracts are authorized for road improvement. No waivers, no roads, now is the rule.

FORNEY PROTEST GROWS

COAL COMPANY CONTROL SOLD

Jesse F. Sanford, one of the receivers of the Carnegie Coal Company, and George F. Olser, president and general manager of the Chartiers Creek Coal Company, have purchased the controlling interest in the Chartiers Creek company, operators of the Hazel mine at Canonsburg, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Olser. Sanford and Olser bought the stock formerly owned by A. M. Marion, former president of the company, and E. C. Gerry, former general manager.

Sanford, already a stockholder and vice president, acquired controlling interest through the deal which was concluded last month. He still remains as vice president. Olser, until last February, was a vice president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation.

DRY LEAGUE, CLERGYMEN, AND WOMEN FIGHT PARDON

Protests against the granting of a pardon to Alfred Forney, alleged head of the slot machine ring of Allegheny county, have been made to United States Attorney General John G. Sargent by the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U., by the Anti-Saloon League and several affiliated groups, and by the East End Ministerial Association, it was revealed today.

Mrs. Ella George, of Beaver Falls, president of the W. C. T. U., said the 50,000 members of the organization asked that Forney be made to serve his sentence.

The Rev. Davis E. Cruea, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said that more than a score of telegrams had been sent to Washington in the last two days by his organization and smaller groups allied with the league.

Five ministers on a committee representing the East End Association also have signed a protest made to Washington officials, they said.

GIRLS INJURED, PILOT JAILED FOR CRASH

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 11.—As a sequel to a plane crash in Salem township, near here, September 30, in which two young women and a pilot were injured, Charles Stanko, 39, of East Pittsburgh, the pilot, was arrested by state highway motor patrolmen and lodged in the county jail here. He will have a hearing on a charge of violating the aeronautics law.

Injured in the crash were Mary Fedak, 20, and her sister, Josephine Fedak, 18, both of Salem township. They are still in the hospital here.

Stanko, officers say, was stunting and was flying without a pilot's license in a plane that was not registered with the Commerce Department.

He suffered severe injuries, and was not arrested until he had recovered.

WASHINGTON TO FORM POOL TO BACK BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Organization of a $500,000 industrial corporation to develop the community commercially and industrially, has been approved by the Chamber of Commerce. Stock will have a par value of $100 a share. No loans will be made, but investments will be made in corporations from time to time.

ALLIED BOARD WILL FIGHT 25C FARE

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

The work of fighting the 25-cent bus fare and of investigating the entire transportation problem was started last night at the first meeting of the Transportation Committee of the Allied Boards of Trade.

A series of questions on the operations and policies of the bus and street car lines is being prepared, according to C. V. Shoup, chairman of the committee. These will be read before a meeting of the representatives of the 48 member boards of trade to be held next week after which A. W. Roberston, president of the Philadelphia company, will be asked to answer them.

The questions will bear on the costs of operation, salaries of officials, engineering problems and finances of the Pittsburgh Railways company and the Pittsburgh Motor Coach company.

"Legislation to correct many of the existing evils in the relationships of transportation companies with the municipalities and the public may be sought after the investigation has been completed," said Mr. Shoup. "Such action may be forced by an aroused public indignation."

"The one-man car problem has been met in some places by the passage of ordinances in boroughs served by the lines forbidding the use of streets to cars not handled by a crew of two men. This might be done on some of the lines here."

Members of the committee reported that offers of financial assistance had been made to the committee and that tremendous public interest has been shown in the movement.

W. G. Negley, an attorney with offices in the St. Nicholas building, will act as solicitor for the committee.

Every phase of operations, financing and engineering will be included in the investigation to be undertaken.

Establishment of a new bus line from Pittsburgh to Wildwood on October 15 is announced by the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company. The route will be by way of Millvale and Etna, and is designed to fill the needs of the growing communities beyond Etna.

Effective the same day, the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company puts into effect reduced rates on the Pittsburgh to Butler route. A reduced rate also has been arranged between Butler and New Castle, on busses operated by the same company.

RAID POOL ROOM AFTER FIGHT

Daniel Humecki, Carson street, pool room proprietor, was fined $100, and John Latipsky, said to be a bartender, was fined $25 as the result of a fight in the place last night during which Harry Dabner, of Roscoe street, was struck over the head with a billiard cue. Dabner complained to the police, who raided the room and reported confiscating two gallons of moonshine and some homebrew. Dabner was discharged at the hearing.

LINCOLN TRADE BOARD PLANS CELEBRATION

The Lincoln Avenue District Board of Trade is planning for a jubilee celebration upon the completion of the widening and repaving of Lincoln avenue from Frankstown avenue to the city line. President Charles Ross has appointed Joseph Marks, A. C. MacCumbee, Brook N. Edmonston, James Sloan, Edith Williamson, Anna Williamson, H. F. Thompson, H. C. Hankey and Sydney Grine a committee of arrangements.

IMMERSION FOR GLORY BARN CONVERTS

Dozens suffering from a multiplicity of ailments testified that they received relief last night at the healing service conducted by Evangelist John W. Sproul in his West Carson street Glory Barn

At the close of his service, at which he preached on "The Wedding Garment," Mr. Sproul announced that he would conduct the first baptism service in the Glory Barn a week from tonight. The rite will be administered by immersion.

Evangelist Sproul branded as a heretic the minister who preaches that Hell is not eternal. He said in part:

"For 6,000 years God has been preparing the royal Feast of Grace. Though His Son, Jesus Christ, was sent to invite all God's creatures to the Feast, the vast majority flatly refused the honor and flatly rejected the King's kindly invitation.

"Another class attempts to present themselves at the feast minus the appropriate regalia.

"Today the heedless throng journeys toward the grave and judgment clad only in their own righteousness, spurning the robe of Christ's righteousness, made available to every man by the atonement which Christ provided by His death on Calvary's Cross and without which the best of us, as well as the worst of us, are doomed to be cast into the outer darkness.

"The preacher who tells you that Hell is not eternal is a heretic. He is untrue to the gospel of Christ. He is your worst enemy. Beware of him."

HOSPITAL WORK EXPLAINED

The function of a hospital as a protection in its community was described to a division of North Side women enrolled as team captains in the campaign to raise $5,000,000 to build a new home for the Allegheny General Hospital. The meeting was held yesterday at McCreery's.

About 30 women were addressed by H. L. Mason, Jr., vice chairman of the appeal, and Mrs. Walter McFarland, hostess, the chairman of the North Side women's division.

Mr. Mason emphasized the urgent need for more space and better facilities at the hospital.

He then told of plans for the new 15-story hospital able to take care for 150,000 outpatient visits a year and departments in every major phase of therapeutics. Provision for a larger school of nursing and more comfortable quarters for the nurses will be made in a new home to stand near the hospital in North avenue, facing East Park.

FLOOD LINES DEBATED AT NEW CASTLE MEET

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Members of the State Water and Resource Board convened at the City Building here today and tentative channel lines along the Shenango river for flood prevention purposes were discused. Practically all firms, railroads and industries along the river will be affected should the tentative lines be established permanently. C. E. Ryder, chief engineer, advised those in attendance that the board hopes to do what it can to prevent floods, but that under the law, has no power to establish the lines. The city can establish the lines after the lines have been approved by the board. The conference came to a close at noon.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

THAT'S THE SONG OF SONGS FOR ME" will again be heard over the air tonight to let the radio listeners know they are at "The Song Shop." This is the new method of introducing the latest in popular music over WCAE each Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The opening song has been adopted as the official signature of the new broadcast series, which each week presents well known composers in some of their latest works. The song was written jointly by Harry Levy, author of "Lovely Lady" and other musical successes, and Henry M. Neely, familiar to WCAE listeners as "The Old Stager" of the weekly Philco hour.

Both figure prominently in "The Song Shop;" Neely as director and Levy as leader of the 20-piece orchestra which accompanies the guest composers, and the regular artists. The latter include Mildred Nunt, croonr, and "The New Yorkers," a male quartet of carefully blended voices, under the leadership of Ed Smalle, pianist and arranger. The members of the quartet are Henry Shope, first tenor; Colin O'More, second tenor; Walter Preston, baritone, and Harry Donaghy, bass.

Walter O'Keefe, popular composer and singer, will be a feature of the Champion Sparkers' program to be broadcast through KDKA tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. O'Keefe will be heard in a song group, composed in collaboration with Harry Archer, for their musical comedy, "Just a Minute." Numbers to be heard include "Anything Your Heart Desires," "Pretty, Petite and Sweet" and "Heigh-ho, Cheerio." The orchestra, directed by Gus Haenschen, will play "Are We Down-Hearted? No!" "You Took Advantage of Me," from "Present Arms;" "You Bet I Do" and "Roses of Yesterday." Another feature will be a piano solo by Frank Banta.

Selections by Halvorsen, von Suppe, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Albeniz, Friml, Moskowski, Poldini and Chaminade will be offered by the United Salon Orchestra through WJAS at 9 o'clock. The Halvorsen composition, "Entrance of the Boyars," will open the program, following which the orchestra will play the Overture to von Suppe's "Isabella." Other interesting numbers to be heard at this time are Albeniz's "Jota," Friml's "Russian Dance" and the Moskowski "Valse Celebre."

Taking part in "The Music Room" concert at WJAS at 9:30 o'clock will be a string quartet, tenor, contralto and baritone.

The first number on this program is the Andantino Grazioso from the Haydn String Quartet, Op. 31, No. 1, played by the Music Room Quartet. The tenor soloist follows with Schubert's "An die Musik," and other numbers on the program of interest are Brahms' "Feldeinsamkeit," which will be sung by the contralto, and "Gypsy Songs," by the same composer, to be rendered by the baritone soloist.

A geographical medley chosen from the music of many lands features the weekly WCAE Halsey-Stuart Hour at 10 o'clock.

The Hollandish "Dance of the Wooden Shoes," by Kriens, a native Hollander, opens this weekly celebration in the home of the "Old Counsellor"—that lavish host whose oracular pronouncement on investment securities have already helped thousands of listeners.

Deppen's "Japanese Sunset" and "The Sleeping Beauty Waltz," from the Russian Pantomime by Tschaikowsky, provide further illustrations of the descriptive music of this period. The complete program: "Dance of the Wooden Shoes," Kriens; "Out of the Dusk," Lee; "Dancing Bonnie," Hahn; "Japanese Sunset," Deppen; "Once in a Lifetime," from Earl Carroll's "Vanities;" "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Tschaikowsky.

Complete broadcast schedules follow:

Mellon on Air Tonight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. — Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon will go "on the air" tonight broadcasting "Republican accomplishments," a subject on which he is well qualified to speak owing to the part he has played in the nation's affairs during the past eight years.

The speech will be delivered over a coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Company, from WRC. In Pittsburgh the speech will be broadcast over station WCAE at 9 o'clock Eastern Standard time.

Tonight's address is the first of two political speeches which the secretary of the treasury will make over the radio in the interest of the Hoover campaign. He will deal largely with tax and debt programs inaugurated during the Coolidge administration and the government's financial policies generally.

Secretary Mellon and Hoover served as members of the American Debt Commission, which had charge of the refunding of Europe's debts to this country.

A social failure just because of "B. O." (BODY ODOR)

Our friendly little plot brought happiness to Irene

IRENE was one of the most attractive girls in our crowd. Yet one grave fault kept her unpopular.

Ellen and I longed to help her. But it was such a personal matter . . . .

Finally we devised a little plot. Pretending to discuss a girl she had met at a recent party, Ellen said—

". . . and she might have been the hit of the party! But 'B. O.'—you know, body odor—is unpardonable . . . ."

Irene glanced up sharply. A flash of understanding crossed her features . . . .

Our friendly little plot worked wonders. Today Irene is happy, popular. She has hosts of friends. And all because she found an easy way to get rid of "B. O." Irene tells her own interesting story below. Read it.

"B. O." unpardonable—end it!

"Like lots of other people, I, too, was fooled by body odor. I thought I was safe when I wasn't. I didn't realize that our pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste a day even in cool weather; or that this odor becomes so familiar to us that we can't tell when we offend.

"Then I discovered Lifebuoy—now I'm never afraid of 'B. O.' With its antiseptic lather, Lifebuoy deodorizes pores. After a Lifebuoy bath one actually does feel cleaner, fresher.

Healthier complexions, too

"Lifebuoy is so soothing and mild, it agrees splendidly with my skin. Keeps it clear and smooth.

"And it gives such wonderful lather and gets rid of germs, too. No wonder the whole family are Lifebuoy fans. Its pleasant and clean scent vanishes as soon as you rinse."

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

11 AMENDMENTS O. K.'D

There's somebody like him in every office

LISTLESSLY he begins the day. But he has no grip on his job. His desk piles up with unfinished work. As people help and pity him, he realizes that he might as well face the truth. He is through. The pace is too much. Something has been stealing his energy—killing his ambition. He isn't sick—and yet somehow, these days, he never feels well.

Thousands of men are slipping and failing, falling behind the crowd, all because they fail to realize how deadly constipation is. Constipation can wreck the strongest body. Headaches, sleepless nights, listlessness, wan complexions are just a few of its early symptoms. In the end, it often leads to serious disease.

What a pity more people do not know there is such prompt relief from this terrible scourge! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation safely. More — to prevent it just as surely.

Only ALL-BRAN is 100% effective

It is bulk that relieves constipation. Because it is 100% bran, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies bulk in generous quantity. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it through the intestines—gently distending them, sweeping, purifying, cleansing. In a part-bran product the amount of bulk is usually too small to be completely effective. That's why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran—100% effective.

ALL-BRAN
brings natural relief

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is totally different from dangerous drugs and pills whose dose must be constantly increased to be effective. It works as nature works. The amount you need for healthful regularity need never vary.

A pleasant cereal. To eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Mix it with other cereals. Sprinkle it into soups. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily — chronic cases, with every meal. The health of the entire family can be maintained by serving ALL-BRAN in some form every day.

But get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't run the risk of part-bran substitutes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

3 FAIL TO WIN APPROVAL OF CIVIC CLUB

The state and federal affairs committee of the Civic Club of Allegheny County has approved 11 of the 14 proposed constitutional amendments to come before the voters of Pennsylvania November 6. The committee opposes Item No. 4, authorizing $5,000,000 in bonds for the erection of a National Guard building; Item No. 8, which prohibits the increase of the debt of any city of the second class above 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property without the consent of the electors thereof, and Item No. 9, authorizing $50,000,000 in bonds for rebuilding and improving highways.

The items approved follow:

No. 1. Providing that printing and binding for the state government shall be done under contract, or by the state.

No. 2. Authorizing issuance of $8,000,000 in bonds for the erection of buildings and equipment at Pennsylvania State College.

No. 3. Authorizing $25,000,000 for purchase of additional land for forest purposes.

No. 5. Authorizing Assembly in case of inheritance taxes to grant exemption by general laws as to subjects of taxation or amounts.

No. 6. Empowering Court of Quarter Sessions to change boundaries of election districts under certain conditions.

No. 7. Authorizing Pittsburgh to levy special assessments against property to be benefited by public improvements.

No. 10. Authorizing $50,000,000 for land, buildings and construction of penal, delinquent and mental defective instiutions.

No. 11. Providing for changing of debt limit for Philadelphia from 10 to 14 per cent and for changing debt limit of any county from 7 to 10 per cent.

No. 12. Providing that tax laws may grant exemption or rebates to residents or estates of residents in other states which grant exemption or rebates to residents or to estates of residents in Pennsylvania.

No. 13. Authorizing use of voting machine.

No. 14. Providing for consolidation of county poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of county of Allegheny into Consolidated City of Pittsburgh.

UNION FROWNS ON POLITICS

Members of the Pittsburgh Typographical Union No. 7, in a resolution has severely condemned the action of some of its members in using the name of Typographical Union when indorsing candidates for public office.

"Our organization being purely an economic body, non-partisan in scope, no member has the right to use its name in connection with the indorsement of any candidate, commodity or article," a statement says.

PITTSBURGH REALTOR SECOND AS ORATOR

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 11—(AP.)—R. F. King, of Lebanon, president of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association, in his opening address at the annual convention yesterday, recommended a brokers' license law for Pennsylvania, a law to prevent free lot frauds, legislation to accelerate real estate transfers, and denounced further taxation of real estate, which he contended already bears 78 per cent of the state's tax burden. In a "home town speech" contest, Horatio Raney, of Delaware county, was the winner, with first honorable mention to J. Meryl Silk, of Pittsburgh.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

RESCUED FROM ROMANCE

By BARRY O'DELL

ALTHOUGH a veritable wizard with the written word, Billy Norton, advertising manager at Siegel's Department Store, was a social and vocal "dud;" he was bashful and he stuttered abominably.

Daily, with the connivance of his battered typewriter, he packed the great store with a throng of women hungry for the bargains which Billy so temptingly set forth. Yet to save his soul, he could not have greeted one of these feminine customers with even a simple "Good morning," without blushing furiously, and twisting his tongue into an inextricable knot.

One morning Billy paced his office on Siegel's mezzanine floor, mentally kicking himself. You see, in spite of his affliction, he had managed to fall in love; the object of his affections being Miss Glenning, the dainty manager of the jewelry department. Being utterly unable to declare his love orally, he had impulsively hammered out a passionate missive to the lady, and mailed it to her home address, the evening before. Billy had proposed marriage; in fact had poured out his whole soul on paper, and the letter resounded with such phrases as "light of my life;" "dream girl" and others of the same burning nature. And now—in the cold gray light of the morning after—he found that he didn't love her after all!

"D-darn it all! I'd have to t-t-talk to her all the ti-time," he soliloquized mournfully.

Not only that, but his whole plan of life would be changed. He'd have to give up his comfortable bachelor quarters, possibly his pet goldfish and canary bird also. Billy gazed reproachfully at his old friend the typewriter, which for once had played him false. What wouldn't he give to have that letter back unread!

In the midst of these gloomy reflections, in rushed Bert Adams, of the drapery department, the store's practical joker.

"Hello, Billy," Adams seemed to be laboring under some excitement.

"Hello, B-bert," responded the advertising man mechanically.

"Congratulate me, old man!" Adams went on, enthusiastically.

"What f-for?"

"My engagement to Helen Glenning. She accepted me last night, and you're the first one I've told."

Love-blinded Bert failed to note the deficiencies in Norton's stuttering well-wishes and presently rushed out again to break the glad news elsewhere.

"Ju-Judas -priest!" groaned the advertising man, sinking into his chair. "Enga-ga-ga-aged to that c-c-clown! It's all off now."

True, he had escaped matrimony, but poor Billy shuddered with horror as he visualized the unmerciful "kidding" to which he would be subjected if Bert, the practical joker, ever got hold of that letter.

During the whole miserable day his work suffered, while all sorts of desperate schemes flitted through his mind. The letter would even now be reposing in Miss Glenning's mail-box; or—more likely by now—her mother had brought it inside the house. For a time, he even considered going out there and robbing either the mail-box or the house itself. Thoughts of the possible consequences deterred him, however, and at length Billy reluctantly decided to let fate take its course.

That evening Norton sat in his apartment in much the same state of mind as a condemned criminal the evening before his execution.

Suddenly the 'phone rang.

Miss Glenning's voice came over the wire.

"Oh, Mr. Norton, I'm so sorry!" she exclaimed. "I received a letter from you this morning; I know it was from you, because I just got a glimpse of your signature. But do you know, before I got a chance to read it, that bad little brother of mine snatched it out of my hand and put it in the fire. Was it anything important?

"No—no—indeed!" responded Billy happily; "J—just a f-f-friendly note."

After congratulating the young lady on her engagement to Bert, the youth turned away from the phone with a vast sigh of relief.

Later that same evening, Miss Glenning regarded her sleeping kid brother thoughtfully.

"Sorry I had to blame it on you, Dicky;" she reflected. "But there's no harm done, and I didn't want to make the poor fellow feel bad. Even if he does blush and stutter, he's a good sport—and he writes a wonderful love letter!"

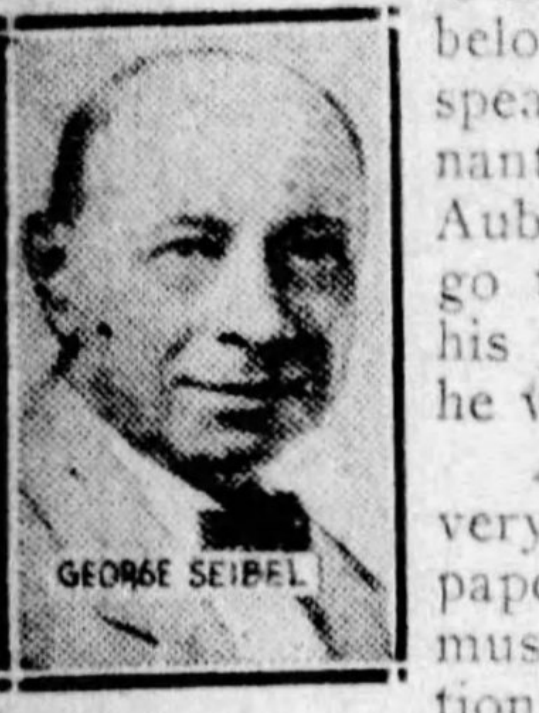
Tearing Off Old Wall Paper In Oxford Inn May Uncover Great Shakespeare Scandal

By GEORGE SEIBEL.



IT LOOKS as if the great Shakespeare scandal would leak out at last. It is reported by wireless from London that a room in which Shakespeare often slept has been rediscovered at Oxford. This room is in a house which once belonged to John Davenant, called Shakespeare's close friend. It is the same Davenant, about whom a gossipy old chronicler, Aubrey, said that Shakespeare "was wont to go to Warwickshire once a year, and did in his journey lye at this house in Oxon where he was exceedingly respected."

All this is probably correct—the old house very likely is still standing—the layers of wallpaper stripped from the walls undoubtedly must have revealed the paneling and decorations there in 1592. But the point is that the house was the inn where Shakespeare always stopped, and that the keeper of the inn was father of Sir William Davenant the poet. And William Shakespeare was godfather to young William Davenant.

William Davenant was very proud of his godfather, and on one occasion boasted of the fact. "Have a care," said one of the wise men of the village, "lest you take the name of God in vain."

Now the discovery of this house, and the very room in which Shakespeare slept, may be seized upon by Frank Harris and others who have told us what a wicked fellow Shakespeare was, to prove their case. Maybe we shall find out he was quite as disreputable as Byron, Shelley, Burns and a lot of others among English writers—without crossing the Channel to consider the more than dubious morals of the French.

This isn't the only scandal about Shakespeare. There's another that sounds equally compromising. The leading man of Shakespeare's company, the first to play Hamlet and Richard III, was Burbage, whose first name was Richard. The story goes that Shakespeare overheard his friend and colleague "making a date" with a fair lady. Shakespeare took careful note of the address, and arrived on the spot before Burbage, who may have had to stay for a late rehearsal. When Burbage arrived and knocked at the door, Shakespeare laughed at him from the inside, and told him that according to English history, "William the Conqueror came before Richard the Third."

Murder will out, and so will other infractions of the Decalogue. Baconians should be glad to hear that at last the wicked Lothario from Stratford is to be unmasked. A committee from the Baconian Society ought to proceed to Oxford with magnifying glasses, to scrutinize wallpaper and paneling of the room where Shakespeare slept. Who knows what he may have scribbled there.

Someone may also rise to vindicate Shakespeare, if this happens, as another Shakespeare find, which is also a Keats find, shows the author of "Endymion" to have done. Samuel Johnson, the same who invented the Dictionary, made an edition of Shakespeare and supplied it with copious notes in some of which he took violent exception to the Bard's profanity and improper language. This point of view was so prevalent at the time that a gentleman by the name of Bowdler even produced a family edition of Shakespeare with all the bad words stricken out. But Keats apparently did not share the opinion of Johnson and Bowdler. In the seven-volume edition of Shakespeare recently discovered, Keats has supplied a footnote to a footnote of Dr. Johnson—the single word "Fool!"

No knowing what Shakespearean discoveries may yet be made, if they keep on scraping off wallpaper in the rooms of old houses.

GUILD SEASON NEAR END

The seat sale for the fourth Theater Guild production in the Nixon, "Arms and the Man," by Bernard Shaw, which will be played all next week, opens today. This is the last Guild play in the Nixon for several weeks, as "Porgy," the fifth play on the subscription bill, will not be presented until after a Chicago run. Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne head the cast in "Arms and the Man."

"The Skull," mystery thriller, in the Pitt, is given just as it was presented during its New York and Philadelphia engagements. Matinees are today and Saturday. The engagement is for one week.

There will be one more matinee performance and three evenings of the operetta, "Blossom Time," which is current in the Alvin. This year everything is new from curtain to curtain.

Headlining the Keith-Albee vaudeville in the Davis next week will be Marie Valente, known as Europe's variety star. On the same bill there will be Harry Burns, Italian comedian, in a sketch called "I Think You Touch."

Lon Chaney, in "While the City Sleeps," will be the screen feature in the Penn next week. The stage presentation is titled "Oh, Teacher!"

Clara Bow, the flaming haired star, in "The Fleet's In," is coming to the Stanley next week. Her role is that of hostess of a dance hall. A stage program will follow the feature picture.

Victor McLaglan in "The River Pirate" will be the feature of the screen program in the Aldine next week, sound films being part of the bill.

In "The Singing Fool," coming to the Grand next week, Al Jolson is seen first as a singing waiter in a New York night club and later as master of ceremonies in a gay cabaret.

Among the vaudeville attractions in the Harris next week will be Herbert Rawlinson, a celebrated screen star. "Charge of the Gauchos" and "Good Morning, Judge," will be seen on the screen.

"Round the Town" will be the burlesque in the Academy next week. The company is headed by Boob Blake and Sylvia Pearl.

"The Whip," announced for the Regent, opening Saturday night and continuing next week, features Dorothy Mackaill, Ralph Forbes, Anna Q. Nilsson and Lowell Sherman.

One of the headline vaudeville attractions in the Sheridan Square next week will be Julian Eltinge, female impersonator, in a new act. "Four Sons" will be a screen feature.

THESPIANS COMING :-: IN ATTRACTIONS :-: LISTED FOR FUTURE

Clara Bow is the star of "The Fleet's In," Stanley screen feature for next week.

Lynn Fontanne will be prominent in "Arms and the Man,' on Nixon stage next week.

Lon Chaney, in "While the City Sleeps," next week's photoplay on Penn screen.

Frankie James will be seen with McIntyre and Heath in "Headin' South," Alvin, October 22.

Pauline Frederick is booked for the Pitt stage, October 22, in "The Imperfect Lady."

SOCIALIST CANDIDATE HERE, SEES 2 OLD PARTIES SAME

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, arrived in Pittsburgh this morning.

Tall, clean-shaven and pleasant-mannered, he faced cameramen in the Pennsylvania Station. Then, after the cameras had clicked, he shot a few verbal barrages against the two major parties.

"Properly speaking," he said, "the Republican and Democratic parties aren't two parties, but one. There are no differences between them. They are financed by the same group of men.

"It doesn't matter which of these two parties wins the election, more than it mattered whether the Cardinals or the Yankees was victor."

Then, without hesitation, he declared:

"The amount of bigotry on both sides is appalling—it is racial and religious.

"Democratic leaders tell the South: 'Smith will save you from the Negro;' Republican leaders tell the South: 'Hoover will save you from the Pope'."

Continuing Mr. Thomas asserted:

"Though Smith has made a few progressive gestures, the Democratic party is more ramshackle than the Republican. It is the party of child labor exploitation in the South. It is graft-ridden."

In concluding this tirade of the Democrats, Mr. Thomas said:

"And God knows I'm no Republican."

Mr. Thomas was met at the station by Dr. William J. Van Essen, Allegheny county chairman of the Socialist party; Emil Limbach, chairman of the campaign committee, and Robert Lieberman.

The candidate will give an address in the Carnegie Music Hall, Forbes street, tonight. This afternoon he will address the Liberal Club, comprising Pitt students, in the Heinz House on the university's campus.

SALVATION ARMY FINDS MANY JOBS FOR IDLE

During the past 12 months the Salvation Army was successful in finding work for 772 idle persons. Outside of its three industrial homes, the Army was able to place 655 persons in jobs. Of this number 184 were women. From its industrial homes, where men are given the chance to work until permanent places can be found for them, 117 men found employment after the Army had satisfied itself that they were industrious and honest.

Caring for such men and women until work can be found for them is one of the Army's activities which will be supported for another 12 months by the home service fund campaign now in progress. Of the $116,500 sought, it was announced yesterday $41,000 had been reported. The campaign ends with Red Shield Day, Saturday.

TYSON'S ORCHESTRA BOOKED AT SANDERS

Tyson's Melody Lane Orchestra will play for the dancing at Sanders Inn, Freeport Highway, Aspinwall, Friday and Saturday nights. A special Columbus Day program will be given Friday.

MISS VIRGINIA CLARK

(Advertisement.)

Lucky?

When she comes to the footlights to acknowledge Broadway's applause of her marvelous dancing in "Sidewalks of New York," theater-goers sit forward to admire her youthful charms; the fresh crispness of her rose-petal skin and her gleaming black hair. She's Virginia Clark, of 143 Twenty-third street, Jackson Heights, New York City.

"When friends say I'm lucky to have such clear skin and soft, shining hair," says Miss Clark, "I have to tell them it isn't luck at all. In my case it's the result of care. For my hair, I use the simple method that's all the rage among New York girls now. It's so easy. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it. This makes my scalp feel just grand and keeps away all dandruff. It keeps my hair and scalp so clean I don't have to shampoo nearly as often as I did. It makes my hair soft and easy to dress; holds it in place; and gives it more lustre than brilliantine!"

Danderine quickly removes that oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color; makes it fairly sparkle. Dandruff disappears when you use Danderine. Waves set with it, stay in longer. It isn't oily and doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles. Over five million used a year!

MT. LEBANON GEMS GONE, GIRL QUIZZED

County detectives today will question Ruth Schrechgine, 20, of Pioneer avenue, Dormont, who was arrested yesterday in connection with the theft of three diamond rings valued at $500 from Mrs. C. A. Herman, McCauley street, Mt. Lebanon. Detectives say the girl worked for Mrs. Herman. Articles of wearing apparel that had disappeared from Mrs. Herman's residence were found in the girl's room, detectives say.

HUNDREDS MORE ADDED, TIME LIMIT TWO WEEKS

Richer and richer grow the rewards for Zain ad writers. Your chance of winning a prize through a bright idea for an advertisement is increased today through the decision to add several hundred premiums to the regular list for the third period, which begins today.

The third period will run for two weeks, expiring Wednesday, October 24, at midnight. The prizes will be double the amount of each preceding period, with a lot of extra ones thrown in for good measure. There will be two cash prizes of $100 each, and 600 other awards.

And, besides, here comes the B. K. Elliott Company with some notable additions to the list of special prizes. This company offers a pair of binoculars for the best ad written about its business during the entire ad test, a Moore Pen Desk Set for the second best ad, and a fountain pen for each of the three best ads each period.

$1,000 STILL AVAILABLE

By all means take advantage of this splendid opportunity to win something worth while, while at the same time making enjoyable use of your wits in a captivating game.

In addition to winning one of the periodical prizes you may capture the grand prize of $1,000!

You do not have to know anything about the technical side of advertisement writing. Professional advertising men and women are barred, and so are newspaper employes. Only simon-pure amateurs are eligible.

You will find on this page the rules for the test, together with a list of the 39 local business concerns about whom the advertisements must be written.

STUDY ADVERTISERS

By becoming thoroughly acquainted with the stores, products and services of the participating advertisers you fit yourself, as you could in no other way, to write convincing ads.

Are you acquainted with the store of the Stevenson & Foster Co., 421-27 Seventh avenue, dealers in stationery and office supplies? Whether you want paper and envelopes for social correspondence, or an elaborate set of blank books for the accounts of a large business, you will find what you require at Stevenson & Foster's.

The subject of music should inspire many interesting ads. It has been a never-failing source of inspiration to the greatest writers. Visit the S. Hamilton Company's stores, at 815-817 Liberty avenue; 6008 Penn avenue, East Liberty, and 722 Wood street, Wilkinsburg. Hamilton's business is to put music in the home.

Do you have a savings account? Doesn't it give you a warm glow of satisfaction to think of a snug sum at work earning interest? The Union Savings Bank, in the Frick Building, Fifth avenue and Grant street, will make your money increase. Savings are safe there. It is one of the strongest banking institutions, with vast resources to protect you.

You know something, of course, about electric refrigeration and its advantages. But do you know in what respects the Kelvinator excels? Visit the store of the Kelvinator-Leonard Corporation, 205 North Highland avenue, or call on any Kelvinator dealer and inquire. The dryness of the atmosphere in a Kelvinator is one point worthy of your thought.

Write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, at least as large as a postal card and preferably commercial letter size. Put your name and address on the back of each sheet, and also on the flap of the envelope in which you enclose your ads. SEND THE ADS TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

MARION CURRIE

Miss Marion Currie, of Ray Shannon and company, appearing at Harris Theater this week, amuses herself at odd moments by writing advertisements for the $15,000 Zain ad-writing test for amateurs, which the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is conducting. You, too, should get into the captivating game. A bright idea may win you the $1,000 grand prize. There are many hundreds of other awards to be made.

Rules for Sun-Telegraph-Zain $15,000 Ad Test

1—$15,000 in cash and prizes distributed over seven weeks. Grand prize, $1,000. Grand weekly prize, $100. Five prizes each week for six weeks for best ads written for each concern participating—195 each week, 1,170 prizes in all.

2—$1,000 for best ad submitted during entire campaign. Winners to be selected by committee of Pittsburgh advertising men and women.

3—Ads for third period must be received by midnight, October 24, at the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. Ads arriving after that time will be automatically entered for the next period, and so on.

4—Ads submitted for the grand prize must be received before midnight on November 15, 1928. In order to compete for grand prize, contestants must have submitted at least one ad on each concern listed.

5—One person may submit any number of ads. The test may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about any one or all, or any product or all, of the concerns listed. A person may win more than one prize.

6—Write only one ad on one piece of paper at least postcard size. Place name of advertiser at top, write words, phrase, poem, slogan, essay or letter. Sign YOUR name and address plainly on BACK of each sheet. Also on the flap of the envelope. SEND TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

7—Ads are to become property of advertiser to use in any manner he sees fit. No ads returned. No subscriptions necessary. No blanks to sign. No entrance fee required. No coupons to clip. All professional ad writers and newspaper employes barred.

8—In the event of a tie, the prizes will be awarded to EACH winner.

SPECIAL PRIZES

The following special prizes, in addition to the $15,000 in prizes originally announced, are offered in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Zain Ad-Test:

POTTER TITLE & MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO. offer $10 in gold to each writer of the five best ads submitted on the subject of "Title Insurance" during the entire Ad-Test.

YELLOW CAB CO. (Court 5700) offer a book of Yellow Cab coupons for best ad each period.

MAX AZEN offers a $100 Fox Scarf for the best ad on their store during the entire Ad-Test. If the $1,000 grand prize ad is about their store the writer will receive a $500 natural squirrel coat.

B. K. ELLIOTT CO. offer a pair of binoculars for the best ad written about their business during entire Ad Test; a Moore Pen Desk Set for second best ad, and a fountain pen for each of the three best ads each period.

HALLER BAKING CO. offer a book of 10 tickets for Haller's Special Family Bread for each of the five best ads each period, exclusive of the five newspaper winners.

FEDERAL TOBACCO CO. will give one box Arco Specials to each of five winners on this product each period.

TECH ICE CREAM will give a gallon of ice cream for each of the five best ads on their product each period, exclusive of the first five winners selected by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

CRUIKSHANK BROS. offer one case of "Cru-Bro" Jelly (2 doz.) for each of the five best ads submitted each period as selected by this concern.

K. OF C. CHIEF TO SPEAK HERE

Columbus Day will be observed here with a banquet tomorrow night in the Fort Pitt Hotel under the auspices of Pittsburgh Chapter, Knights of Columbus. The Rev. Richard Blackburn Washington, Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody and T. A. Daly will be the speakers. Bishop Hugh C. Boyle will deliver the invocation. John E. Laughlin will be toastmaster.

A cablegram from Pope Pius XI, congratulating the members on their record in boy welfare work, will be read at the banquet.

"Joy of Living"

What A Flavor!

It's fun to watch anyone enjoying his first bowl of Heinz Rice Flakes. First there's the doubting, "nothing-new-under-the-sun" expression. Then the first glad ray of surprise. And, finally, the happy grin of deep-down delight in this new cereal food with a flavor like toasty, crunchy nut-meats.

Now you no longer have to eat tasteless foods to get the "roughage" your system needs. You simply rely on Heinz Rice Flakes. For, by a new process in cereal-making, which Heinz discovered and owns, Heinz Rice Flakes have the natural "roughage" of the original rice. This gives the flakes the properties of a gentle, natural laxative.

Eat Heinz Rice Flakes every day for happiness and health.

HE CAME AWALKING!

HENRY L. BURT

Henry L. Burt, 82, who arrived in Pittsburgh from Philadelphia afoot carrying two heavy cases, says that many persons whom he encountered on the trip offered him whisky, which he doesn't use, but that only one offered him a ride, though he would have welcomed much more help. The Samaritan whom he remembers most kindly was a Negro woman, near Lancaster, who gave him a square meal. Today he is bound by train for Chicago, his destination, helped by Volunteers of America.

OFFICER CALLED GRAFTER ARRESTS GLENSHAW MAN

Accusing Mounted Patrolman George Specht of grafting his meals and of unfairness in tagging automobiles, August Schoenberger, 46, of Glenshaw, talked himself into arrest last night in front of a Broad street restaurant. Today he was fined $5 by Magistrate W. J. Soost and announced he would take an appeal.

The policeman had just finished eating and, it is charged, was followed to the street by Schoenberger, who is alleged to have said: "The only reason you paid your check was because I was present, you grafter."

Schoenberger is also alleged to have said the patrolman quit issuing tags while selling tickets for the police field meet, but to have resumed his tagging after the meet had been held. Schoenberger said his own car had been tagged twice. He was arrested on a disorderly conduct charge.

ADMITS OWNING WINE; W. VA. JURY ACQUITS

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Although she admitted in court the possession of 13 gallons of grape wine, which the state declared contained no less than 12 per cent of alcohol, a jury in Magistrate Withrow's court here promptly acquitted Mrs. Octavia Flynn of a charge of violating the prohibition law.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH
BY HAVEY J. BOYLE

BEN PRAGER, a tipstaff in the Court House, is the national adjutant of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor. There are 648 members of that organization, scattered through the country. Every member has been awarded either the Distinguished Service Cross or the Congressional medal for valor. Mr. Prager served in the Spanish-American War, in the insurrection in the Philippines which followed that war; with the troops along the Mexican border in 1916, and in the Great War. He is reticent as to how he qualified for the Legion of Valor, noting that that had been "written up" several times by inquiring reporters.

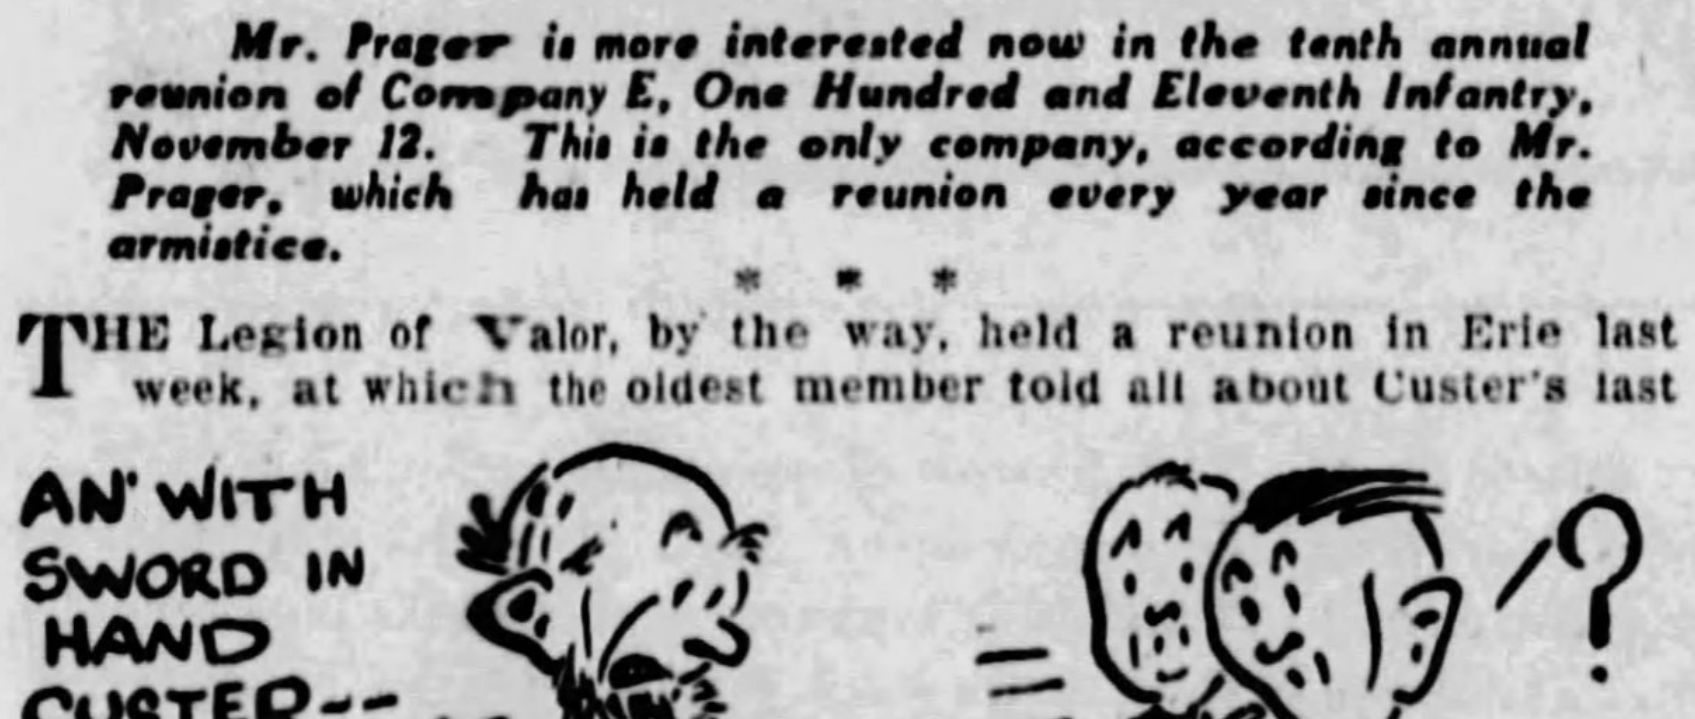
Mr. Prager is more interested now in the tenth annual reunion of Company E, One Hundred and Eleventh Infantry, November 12. This is the only company, according to Mr. Prager, which has held a reunion every year since the armistice.

* * *

THE Legion of Valor, by the way, held a reunion in Erie last week, at which the oldest member told all about Custer's last stand. This veteran had seen service in that campaign.



AN' WITH SWORD IN HAND CUSTER--!

Dropping into another courtroom for a few moments we heard commonwealth and defense counsel summing up after all the evidence in an assault and battery case had been heard. After listening to defense counsel we concluded that there was danger of a grave miscarriage of justice. It developed that the defendant, to whom his attorney referred, we thought, almost lovingly by his first name, was just a big, innocent, carefree boy whose good nature was being imposed upon by the ogre who represented the other side.

WE BEGAN worrying about this as the story went on and came to a conclusion, but doubts began to assail us when the other attorney got up, smiled expansively at the jury, and seemed to want to take the jury into his confidence in a real chummy fashion. As he leaned over the jury box rail we assumed that here by a coincidence was an attorney who had known those 12 men and women all his life. Just regular old pals, we surmised.

* * *

At the end of this second talk we were up in the air. We didn't know whether the big, good natured, carefree defendant should be allowed to run loose. Still we remembered the eulogies of defense counsel. Well, we thought, we'll hear what the judge has to say

* * *

IT DEVELOPED in the charge to the jury that there was much to be said on both sides of the question. Here was what the law said on the subject. Well that didn't help so much. Finally, it resolved itself into this: If the jury believed the witnesses for the one side then the jury should so find, but on the other hand, if the jury believed the witnesses on the other side, then it should so find. It seemed here that nothing could be more logical than that.

Vare Quiz Reopens Here

Col. Eric Fisher Wood, chairman of the executive committee of the Vare-Wilson senatorial fight in 1926, and James M. Malone, president of City Council, who was chairman of the campaign committee, Allegheny county, during the campaign, will be the principal witnesses to appear before United States Senator C. C. Waterman, when the senatorial probe resumes here tomorrow morning.

The inquisition will open at 10 o'clock in room 506, Court House. Between 60 and 100 ward chairmen, politicians of boroughs and townships and prominent men who took active part in the campaign have been ordered to appear.

In a letter to James E. Routley, assistant chief clerk, County Commissioners office, William R. Douglas, Vare's secretary, stated that "witnesses would be examined on the question of whether they entered into a conspiracy with Senator Vare or anybody else to bring about a fraudulent election as far as the senatorship was concerned."

It was suggested by Douglas in his letter that "in order to build up a good record for Allegheny county, prominent leaders from various sections of the county should be summoney to testify.

The strain of conducting the investigation is beginning to take its toll on Senator Waterman. A request for a room far removed from noise was made to Routley. Douglas stated that Senator Waterman's nerves were on the verge of breaking. The investigation was started in November, 1926.

ARREST 27 IN HILL RAID

A raid on Hill district resorts last night staged by Inspector James Hoey, placed 27 women in front of Magistrate J. W. Orie in Morals Court this morning. Five of the proprietors, three Negro women and two white women, each was sentenced to pay $100, and 22 visitors were fined $25 each.

RECORD POTATO CROP ON MT. CHESTNUT FARM

Husband and Wife Serve on Same Juries

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kohl, 1121 Faust street, Twentieth Ward, served on the same juries in Common Pleas Court yesterday on two different cases. It was the first time, it is said, for husband and wife to serve on juries together in the history of the local courts.

In the first case, a settlement was reached without the case going to the jury, the lawyers agreeing upon a verdict for $2,500 in favor of Anna Thompson, who had brought an action for damages for personal injuries against W. B. Sheets and Marcley J. Sheets as a result of an automobile acident. Dismissed, Mr. and Mrs. Kohl went with the other jurors to the assignment room and were called on another case.

CALLENDER BIBLE CLASS QUITS PARENT CHURCH

The Callender Men's Bible Class of the South Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Wilkinsburg, today is looking for a new home. Its members last night voted to "peaceably withdraw" from the Sunday school of the church.

The class will affiliate with some other church in the district, several invitations having been received, one from a Catholic church. Barred from the South Avenue Sunday school rooms, members of the class for the last two Sundays have held their services on the street in front of the church.

The reassignment of the Rev. Sheridan W. Bell as pastor of the church last Monday by the Pittsburgh district conference convinced those class members who believed the trouble could be patched up under another pastor, that withdrawal was the only solution.

The teachings of Dr. T. Morton Sankey, class instructor, had been objected to by Dr. Bell and members of the church board who removed Dr. Sankey and appointed a successor. The class refused to take the substitute and were barred from the church.

More than 250 members were present last night at the meeting held in Calvary Lutheran Church, Wilkinsburg, and only a few were not in favor of withdrawing from the church. It was also announced that wives and daughters of the class members would withdraw from the congregation.

Dr. Sankey is to continue as teacher of the men's class and if their wives and daughters form a class, as was discussed, the women will seek to have R. E. Miles as their teacher. Mr. Miles announced that he would resign as a teacher of another woman's class at the South Avenue church.

Both the men's class and the women's class will accept one of many invitations to join with another church in Wilkinsburg. One of the invitations is from St. James Catholic Church, of which the Rev. Stephen Walsh is pastor. Other Methodist Episcopal churches in the borough have extended invitations.

PUTS UP CASH AS BOND WITH BRIDGE BID

Cash totaling $2,000 was submitted by I. Ungar, contractor, instead of the customary certified check, to guarantee bids for two bridge projects opened yesterday by County Commissioners.

Ungar inclosed a $1,000 bank note with a low bid of $8,360 for the removal of Bridge No. 5 over the Monongahela River at Riverton. Seven other contractors bid from $16,000 to $36,000.

Ungar inclosed a $500 bank note and five for $100 each with a low bid of $4,325 for building Coraopolis Bridge No. 2 over the back channel of the Ohio River.

Low bidders and prices on other projects were:

M. O'Herron & Co., building Washington road, Mt. Lebanon township, $33,415.
Neeld Construction Company, removing Thirtieth Street Bridge, $7,200.
Frank Limbaugh, furnishing cast iron light brackets for Thirty-first Street Bridge, $1,542.
Pennsylvania Drilling Company, drilling test holes for Allegheny River boulevard, $6,960.

HOUSING PROBLEMS UP AT LUNCHEON

Housing problems were discussed by John Ihlder, executive director of the Pittsburgh Housing Association, at a luncheon meeting in the William Penn Hotel at noon today. The luncheon followed a meeting of the board of directors. The speaker urged more moderate priced homes, to combat the slum menace.

TWO DRY LAW OFFICERS GIVEN PRISON SENTENCES

Jail sentences were meted out to two confessed dry law violators, with records of prior offenses, in Federal Court today by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker.

Wilbur Dry was sentenced to serve two months after he pleaded guilty to possessing three pints of whisky and 15 cases of home brew in McKeesport, July 31. Marcus Kozar was sentenced three months and fined $501. He pleaded guilty to selling and possessing liquor and materials for making home brew at McKeesport at various times last summer.

WIFE'S POISON THREAT HELD DIVORCE GROUNDS

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Loss of health because of his fear of eating poisoned foods proved sufficient cause for divorce in the Erie county courts when Judge W. E. Hirt granted a plea for separation brought by William F. Reynolds, 52. Reynolds testified his wife made repeated threats to poison him, and he said it was necessary for him to quit eating his meals at home.

JAWORSKI BENCH WARRANT ISSUED; REWARD AWARDED

About the time Judge James B. Drew signed a bench warrant today in the first formal step to have Paul Jarworski, notorious killer, returned from Cleveland to Pittsburgh, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner recommended to the County Commissioners that the $5,000 reward offered for Jaworski's capture be paid to John Zavworski, of Cleveland.

It was Zavworski who tipped Cleveland police off as to Jaworski's presence in a restaurant there—a tip that led to a fatal gun battle that resulted in the bandit's capture. Frank Frankowski, Cleveland, also filed a claim for the reward.

The bench warrant, signed by Judge Drew, will act as a detainer until requisition papers can be procured and served. The warrant was signed on a petition from Chief of County Detectives George W. Murren. It sets forth Jaworski escaped from jail here a year ago last August, while awaiting sentence to the electric chair for murder.

MELLON TO GIVE EDISON MEDAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—A gold medal commemorating his scientific services to the country will be presented Thomas A. Edison at his laboratories in West Orange, N. J., on October 20, by Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. Preceding the presentation, President Coolidge will deliver a short address from Washington over a national radio hook-up. The program will then be switched to the laboratories and broadcast from there.

PREPARING SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT

CATHOLIC SISTERS OF PITTSBURGH DIOCESE

The teaching sisters of Pittsburgh Catholic Diocese are preparing an exhibit of parochial school art to be held October 12-13-14 at Cathedral High School. The sisters have been working under State Department of Education supervision in planning art courses for parochial schools.

5 Hurt in Mystery Crash

With a wrecked automobile and a woman's hat as evidence, police today sought the identity of several persons reported injured in a crash at Murray avenue and Pocusset road about 5:30 o'clock this morning. Blood splotches were found at the scene, but bystanders told police the injured had been taken away in a taxicab. Hospitals revealed no clue.

The automobile, bearing Pennsylvania license plates 297-910, the police reported, overturned after colliding with a machine belonging to Frank Murri, of 2109 Delaware avenue, Swissvale, parked in front of the Bell Telephone Company exchange in Pocusset road.

Police said the wrecked car, according to the state records, belongs to R. D. Robinson, 2737 Mt. Royal road. It was removed to the garage of Gumto and Anderson, 6029 Rodman street.

At the Mt. Royal road address it was said over the telephone that a young woman, a member of a party of five in the Robinson car, had suffered lacerations, but that the rest had been only slightly hurt. The names of those in the car were not obtainable.

NEAR EAST AID ASKS CLOTHES

The local division of the Near East Relief has designated next Wednesday as "Bundle Day," when castoff clothing will be collected throughout Allegheny county for shipment to the destitute.

A plan has been worked out with Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of schools, whereby all the 148 buildings will be "bundle stations," and the children in attendance will co-operate and serve as collectors. The Near East Relief is caring for more than 32,000 orphans in Armenia alone, and has estimated that 3,000 bales of clothing, each weighing 250 pounds, will be necessary to clothe them during the severe winter. Pennsylvania's quota is 1,000 bales.

PINCHOT TO STUMP FOR FOREST BONDS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot here on a brief visit, announced last night he has practically abandoned his proposed stumping campaign in the West for Herbert Hoover.

He will make occasional speeches in behalf of the Republican presidential candidate in Pennsylvania and may go on short excursions into neighboring states, but will be able to make no protracted speaking tours because of his decision to canvass the state in behalf of the $25,000,000 forest bond issue and against the open season for doe deer.

CIVIC AND BUSINESS CHIEFS HONOR HEINZ AT MEMORIAL

Civic and industrial leaders of Pittsburgh gathered at the H. J. Heinz Company plant, Progress street, North Side, today, to pay homage to the character, ideals and accomplishments of the late founder.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, was the principal speaker and was introduced by Howard Heinz, son of the founder and president of the company. Many of those in the audience were friends of the founder.

The exercises, constituting the the ninth annual founder's day commemoration, were held in the Heinz auditorium. In the audience were many of the Pittsburg employes including those who worked for the company during the life of the founder. Employes unable to get into the auditorium heard the exercises in adjoining rooms through an amplifying system.

DAVIS' EULOGY

"Those who knew Mr. Heinz, even if only by reputation," Secretary Davis said, "were aware that he had solid claims to be regarded as a human benefactor. His business was one that appealed to every housewife in the land. He saved them from many hours of drudgery and unpleasantness."

"I think that the supreme success of Mr. Heinz as a business man came from his love for his work. The man who loves his work is bound to succeed; the man who hates his work is bound to fail. The first will have his trials and he may have partial failures, but his eventual triumph is certain.

"Mr. Heinz not only loved his work; he loved the men who worked for him. To them he was an elder brother or father."

The secretary reviewed the philanthropies of Mr. Heinz, his relations with the workers he employed, his application of common sense to business, his interest in civic and political affairs and characteristics that made him an outstanding Pittsburgher.

J. Harry Letsche, Jr., representing the employes, declared that Heinz and Pittsburgh as synonymous because the main plant of Heinz Company is located here and the wide scope of the activities of the founder of the business. His address dealt with the friendly relations that existed between Mr. Heinz and his employes and his tense interest in them.

After the exercises, the honor guests were entertained at lunch by Howard Heinz and the company's board of directors.

Each year Heinz employes hold exercises to observe the birthday of the founder of the business that bears his name. The business began in a small way in Sharpsburg in 1869 and has grown until it is world-wide, employs over 11,000 people with 25 branch factories in four countries, more than 300 receiving stations and salting houses, 83 sales branches and warehouses in three countries and over 175 foreign agencies, while it is estimated that 150,000 people are engaged in growing crops for Heinz kitchens.

SUN-TELEGRAPH WRITER LEGIONNAIRE SPEAKER

George H. Snyder, of The Sun-Telegraph editorial staff, was guest-speaker at the weekly luncheon at the Nixon Restaurant of Pittsburgh City Post No. 59, American Legion, yesterday.

"Bankers and business men with whom I have talked recently are unanimously of the opinion that good business is here to stay for the remainder of this year," said Mr. Snyder. "It is difficult to predict the outlook for 1929, but there are no clouds on the horizon at present which give any cause for apprehension."

Election Threat Attributed To Boys

Boys practicing their Halloween pranks are believed responsible for hurling a stone, bearing a warning, through a window into the home of Brook Frye, 2610 Larkins way, rear, last night. The family was seated in the front part of the house when the stone shattered the kitchen window.

"Get that Hoover sign out of your window or your daughter will suffer. If you don't you will suffer. (Signed) A Friend," the note read.

Mr. and Mrs. Frye have an infant daughter.

Will Rogers Says

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 11.

Hoover has always attended all our disasters, cheered the unfortunate, and cared for the maimed. Where was he when Babe Ruth unleashed death and destruction on the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Who is going to take up the cause of home run control?

It certainly has taught St. Louis a lesson. I bet you they will be careful the next time to watch and not try to win a pennant on the same year that it looks like the Yanks will win.

Smith and Hoover are gradually creeping back on the front page again.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

OLD-FASHIONED—BUT TRUE

WHEN a pair of perfectly good talkers and poor listeners decide to get married, the nearest divorce lawyer can afford to order his wife a new sport car.

This modernistic furniture would be all right, if you only knew which pieces to sit on and which to put on the mantelpiece.

Why does any man think that a woman who doesn't love him before marriage can "learn to love him" afterward merely by hanging up his clothes, counting his laundry, sewing the buttons on his plus-fours, and listening to his early morning song in the shower? But, shush! The funny thing is that she sometimes does!

HELEN ROWLAND

The modern girl spends less time getting the tangles out of her hair than her mother did—but the tangles she has to straighten out of her life, after a few wild, free years, are far more painful and irksome.

Funny! You see hundreds of statues to famous, prominent and successful men in Washington but not one of the originals, as far as we can ascertain, ever owned a red sport car or prided himself on his technique in a rumble seat.

Apparently, it is just as safe to pick out a husband by counting the buttons on his coat, "Eenie-meenie-minie-mo," as by all the eugenic tests—just as safe to blindfold yourself and choose with your heart as to keep your eyes wide open and choose with your judgment.

* * *

A good friend is like a good tooth, impossible to replace—but once a friend and a tooth go bad and start hurting you, the wisest thing to do is to "have 'em out!"

* * *

Many a woman is happy and doesn't know it because the man she thought that she could never live without married the other girl.

* * *

Better marry and be a poor man's chum than stay single and be a rich man's office fixture.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, October 12

ALTHOUGH the planetary configurations in a large measure promise new developments in certain directions, with a modicum of liveliness, yet there is danger from ill-considered action, tumultuous conduct and sudden and ill-advised changes, journeys or removals. The disruptive and disintegrating auguries are strongly operative and may only be offset by calmness and proper deliberation of pending issues. Shun all hasty acts, contention and impetuosity.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of possibly sudden and not entirely welcome change or removal, or abruptly precipitated travel. These may bring reverse conditions accompanied by contention and strife, with many hazardous aspects to the affairs. Calmness and amiability are enjoined.

A child born on this day may have a stirring and eventful career, which may be rendered unfortunate by a proclivity to tumultuous and rash action, unless trained in infancy to self-control and general constraint of behavior.

What mighty contests rise from trivial things.—POPE.

Healthier children now

PRESENT-DAY methods of dental hygiene have done an astounding service to the health of children. For a long time no one guessed that decayed teeth had such an important bearing on the health and development of children, and upon the spread of contagious and infectious diseases among them. Observations have shown that children who practice proper methods of oral hygiene are remarkably free from diseases, and show better mental and physical development.

The introduction of Squibb's Dental Cream, a dentifrice scientifically designed to prevent acid decay, has contributed much toward the effectiveness of oral hygiene methods. Squibb's Dental Cream contains more than 50 per cent of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia—a safe, effective antacid. Thus it neutralizes acids at The Danger Line. Of course, Squibb's cleans beautifully and cannot harm the most delicate gum tissues because it contains no grit or abrasive. It is harmless if swallowed. 40c a large tube.

MRS. CORDLE'S DAUGHTER LIKE A DIFFERENT GIRL

Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

DAUGHTER OF MRS. G. H. CORDLE
833 Hazel St., Macon, Georgia

Macon, Ga.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel much relieved and I am giving it to my daughter, too. At twelve years of age she was so pale that even her lips had no color. She couldn't hold out to do any work to amount to anything. I gave her the Vegetable Compound and now at 13 years of age she is like a different girl. We are willing for you to use these facts for a testimonial as we cannot praise the Vegetable Compound too much. We will continue to take it and tell of its wonderful value."—MRS. G. H. CORDLE, 833 Hazel Street, Macon, Georgia.

Will Answer Letters

"I am a young mother, eighteen years of age. From early girlhood I suffered terribly because of a run-down condition. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it would help me, as she was worried. I did, and now I feel fine. After suffering for five years like I did and then taking nothing but the Vegetable Compound, you may be sure I am recommending it to others. I am willing for you to use anything I say as a testimonial and I will answer letters from any woman wanting to know about the medicine."—MRS. DEWEY MOORE, 827 Broderick St., Columbus, Ohio.

How to Keep Well

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

Don't Make a Playroom for Your Stomach

IN a novel I read the other day was an interesting bit of conversation. Two of the characters were discussing the death of a prominent financial man. One said of the deceased:

DR. COPELAND

"They used to call him a thinking machine down in the street. Made a fortune in chemicals, but he didn't know enough about chemistry to avoid fermentation. That's what stopped his heart. He was the human yeast cake."

This is the layman's way of describing the causes of a death from what is usually called "acute indigestion." The fermentation in the digestive organs produced enough pressure on the heart to paralyze its action. The broker had indeed contributed to an effect that was not unlike the action of yeast on the bread dough.

This was the novelist's breezy way of recording in fiction what is too common a thing in reality. I recall the sudden death, years ago, of a famous Wall street man. His untimely departure was caused just this way.

Men and women who are living what we call "sedentary lives" cannot make playroonms of their stomachs. The low vitality, the lack of nervous force and muscular action, the slowly acting digestive processes, the chemical deficiencies of the digestive fluids—all these combine to create what may be a dangerous condition. In the stomach of such a person food is not cared for as it should be.

The active, exercising, muscle-using, deep-breathing person can digest almost anything that does not bite him first, as a friend of mine says. The chemistry of such a body harmonizes with its muscular power. Digestive processes are equal to caring for almost any sort of a meal.

But our friends who walk little and exercise little, who are tied to their desks or work tables who never play in the open, who neglect to do all those simple things that add richness to the blood and strength to the muscles—these are the people we call "sedentary" in their habits. All such are in danger of attacks of indigestion. An unusually severe attack, accompanied by a lot of gas formation, may prove fatal.

We must have desk workers. We could not get along without dressmakers and milliners. Without tailors and harnessmakers man and beast would go undraped.

But those good friends of ours who engage in these sedentary pursuits, must not forget that the human body cannot thrive unless there is daily practice of the simple rules of personal hygiene. It is more important to get physical exercise in the open air than it is to eat an abundance of food.

A thousand times, I suppose, I have told you that a man lives on one-third of what he eats; the doctors live on the other two-thirds. Bear this in mind, you sedentary ones!

The intestinal tract is largely muscular in its construction. If your arm muscles and leg muscles and shoulder muscles are weak, it is reasonable to believe that your stomach and intestinal muscles are weak. Exercise is needed to drive the blood in a forceful, cleansing stream to every part of the body, to cleanse and strengthen what we may call the digestive muscles. The sunlight that enriches the blood adds to the powers of all those organs having to do with digestion.

Choose your food with care and treat your body decently. Then you will escape the fate of the man who was a "thinking machine," but made himself a "human yeast cake."

A Substitute for Dieting

PARTICULAR people do frown on those who "pick and choose" at the table. A "diet" is often embarrassing and always a hardship. And nine times out of ten it is unnecessary.

Try this simple experiment; see if that "indigestion" doesn't disappear from the very hour you first take Pape's Diapepsin. To restore good digestion just eliminate excess acid. A tablet of "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or when pain is felt will instantly neutralize the acidity and banish all digestive trouble and pain.

So, do buy a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today. This not only means instant relief, but by soothing, healing and strengthening your weak and disordered stomach a little "Pape's Diapepsin" keeps your digestive system healthy and helps to prevent various disorders. You may have decided that nothing could give you a "strong" stomach; just make the diapepsin test!

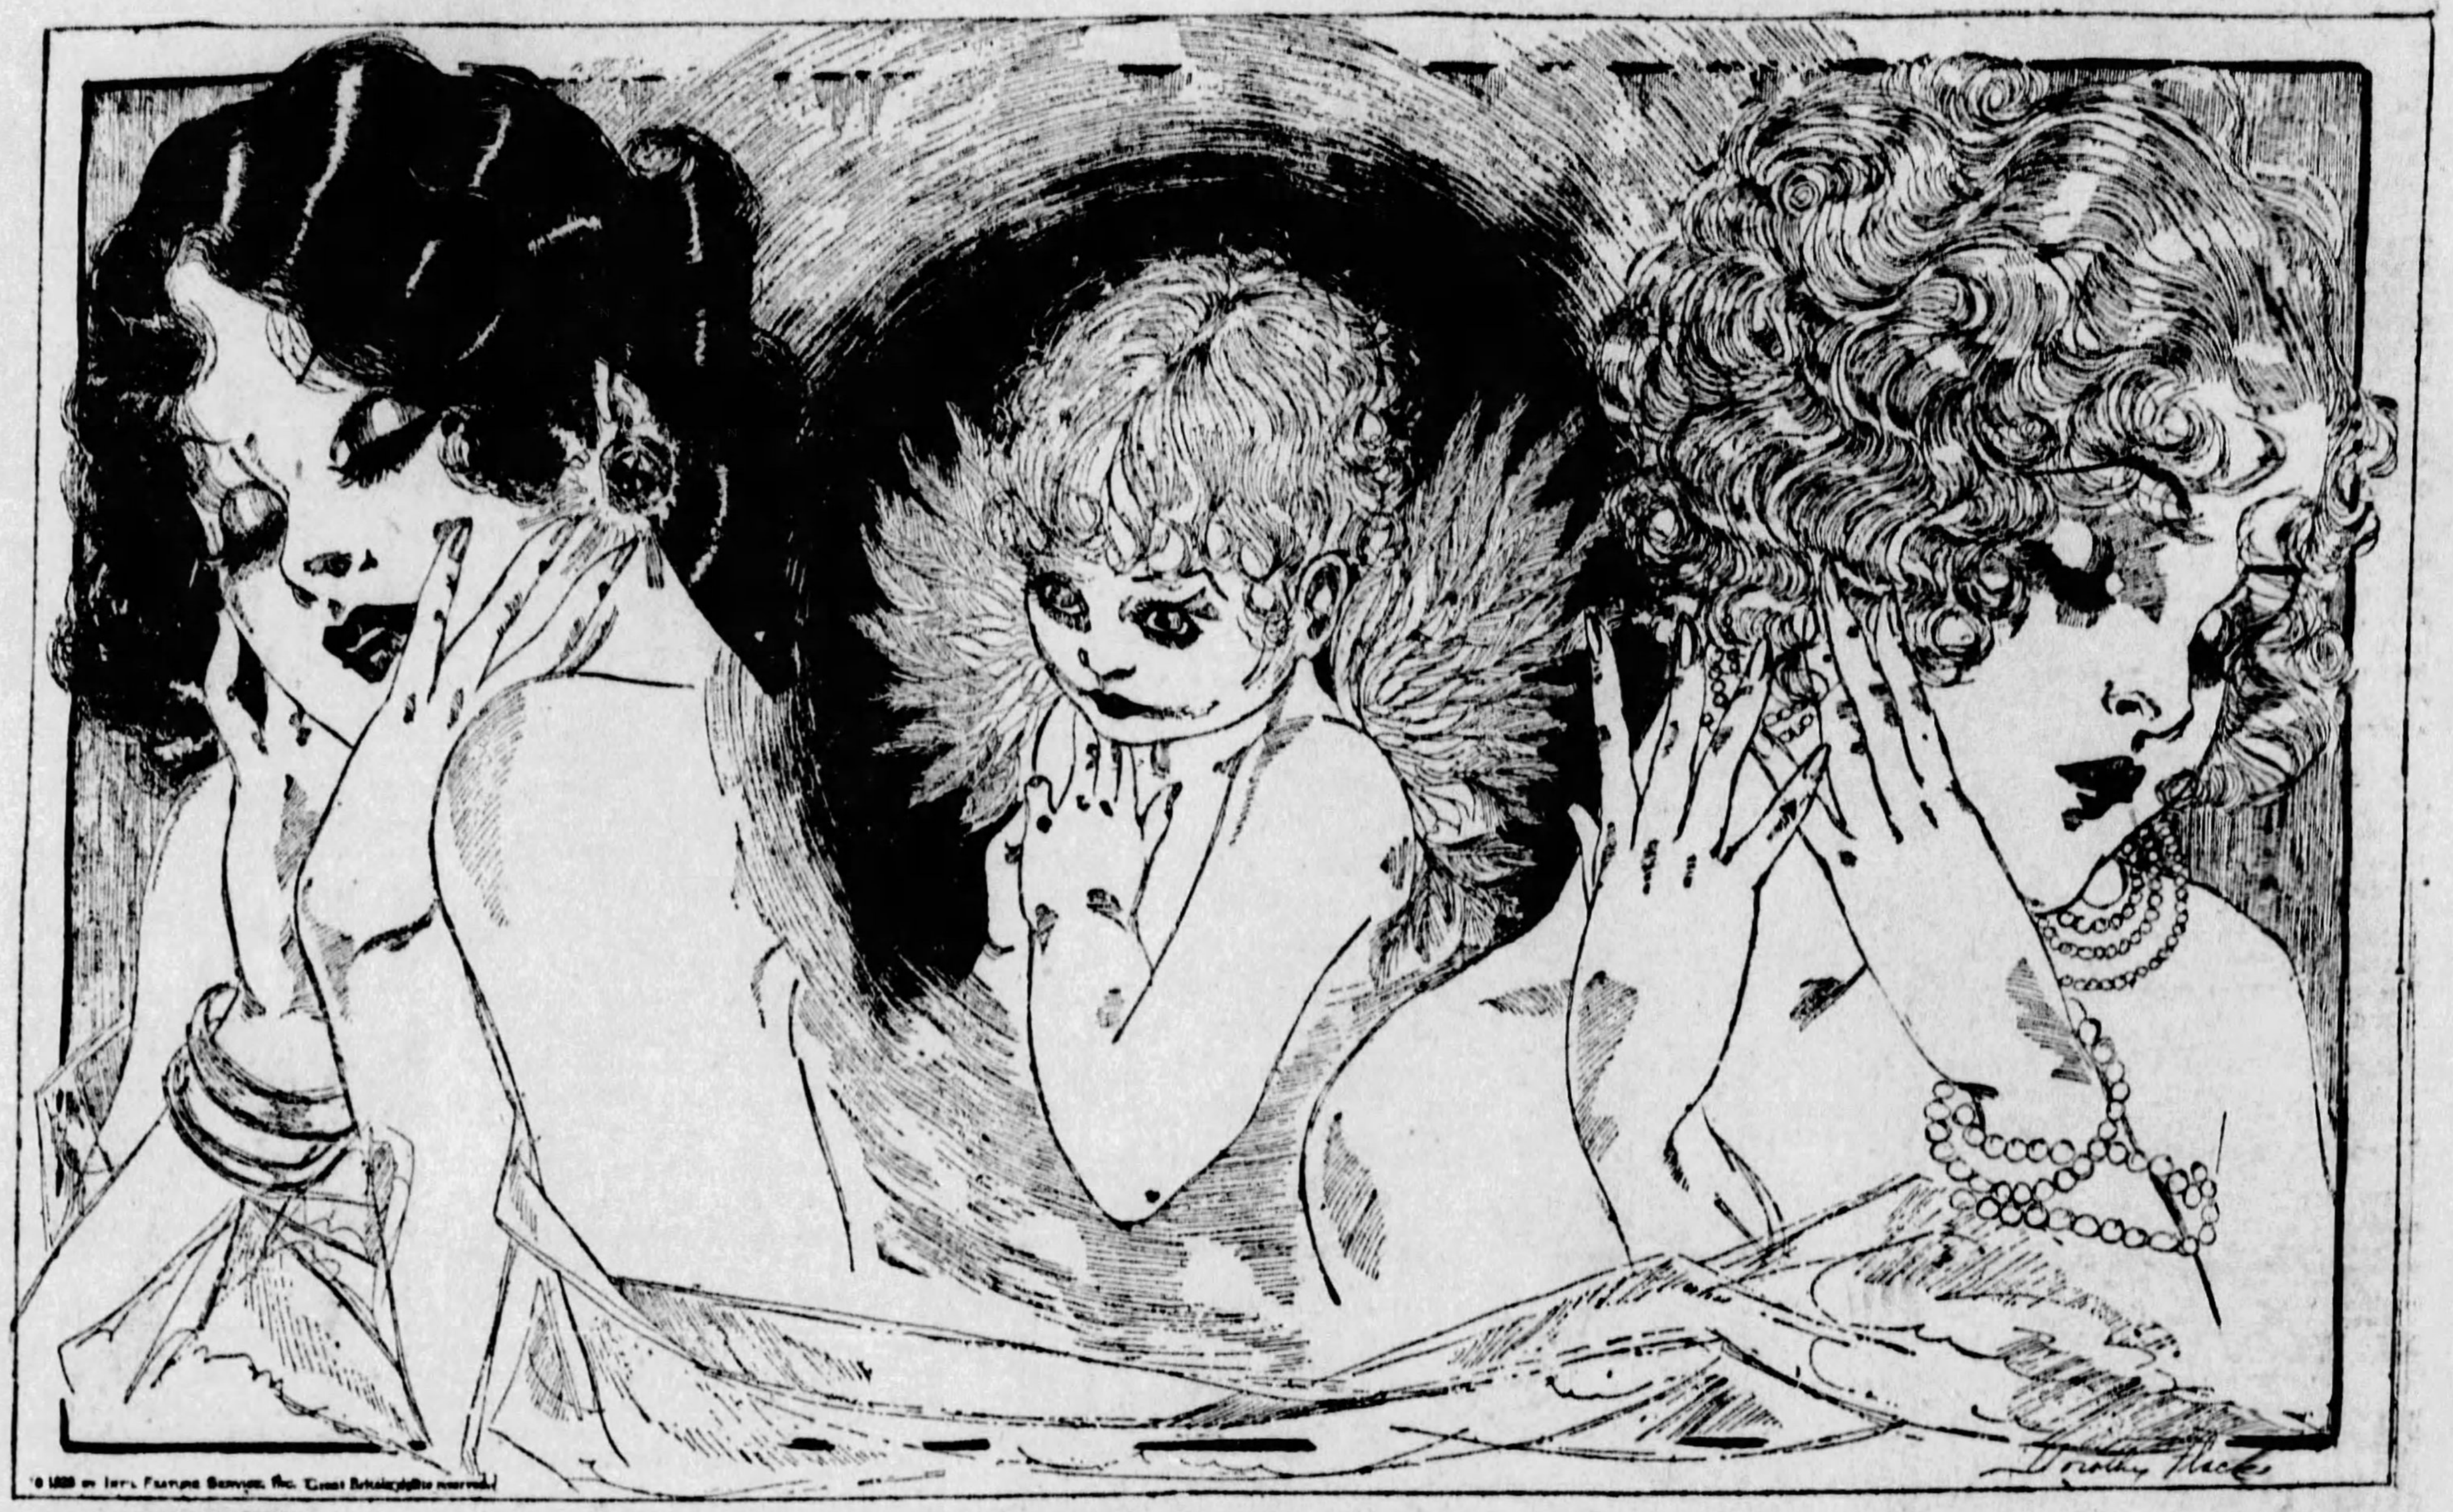
"There's None So Blind"—

Drawn by Dorothy Flack



"THERE'S none so blind as he who won't see!" And especially is this true of those who refuse to recognize Love when he comes to them.

Deliberately they shut their eyes—and their hearts—to his pleading, and go their selfish ways, secure in the thought that they have foiled him. But there's no such thing as denying or foiling love. For sooner or later, we must all succumb to his pleadings and then—well, then we're sorry that we "played blind" for so long.

It may be fine and lovely to go dancing along, heart whole and fancy free, but the time eventually comes when each begins to get the wee-est bit fed up with things. Then it is we turn to Love. Sometimes it happens, that it's then too late, and oh what a broken heart we carry around—forever! For Love punishes those sometimes when they refuse him admission to their hearts.

So don't be so blind that you won't see Love when he comes calling. Be ever on the watch for him, for in this way, and this way alone, lies happiness forever and ever and ever.

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

The Red-Bearded Man Stirs a Sensation

THE red-bearded man awaiting me in the doorway of the barn while Jim stood protectingly by looked even more grotesque than usual. His hat was pulled low over his forehead and his coat collar was turned up around an old scarf swathing his neck and chin, although it was a warm day.

"Hello! Goot day! Scuse, plees, Missis. Sore troat."

He pointed to the scarf as he croaked the words and his eyelids, curiously half closed as I had seen them upon my other meeting with him, blinked nervously.

"That is all right," I answered impatiently. "What is it you wish to say to me?"

The eyelids twitched again, and I had the annoying impression that underneath them were keen amused eyes watching my reactions intently, as from the breast of his nondescript coat he drew a sealed packet of papers.

"Two mens came your house last night," he said, and at my involuntary terrified start he added words patently meant for reassurance.

"You no need be 'fraid. Nobody else know, and I not tell. Here! You plees gif dese papers to dose men. Put somedings ofer dem."

He picked up a small egg basket in which Junior delights to gather eggs, laid the packet in the bottim, filled up the basket with eggs from a box where Jim had been sorting them, and handed it to me.

"Plees no vait," he said commandingly. "Und let no vuns, no vuns see dose only two mens und your goot frendt, lady mit gray hair."

I walked swiftly back to the house and went directly to Lillian's room upon learning from Katie that "Meester Drake und Meesis Underwood, dey feenish breakfast."

"Well!" Lillian said tensely when she had answered my knock, and when I had told her of my encounter with the red-bearded man, she moved swiftly toward the door.

"This is a matter for the chief," she said. "Come along. Allen says he's awake."

We found my father propped against his pillows, looking infinitely less alarming than he had done upon the preceding evening. But he was still worn and pallid.

"D'ye mind if I tell the Chief this whole mess about 'The Larches' from the beginning?" she asked, and with a laugh at my patent relief she told my father in terse, succinct phrasing the whole story of Princess Olina's flight from the royal party, of the operation on her nose, changing her facial appearance, of her tenancy of The Larches, and of the mysterious and annoying espionage which had been kept upon her by the Transvanian vagabonds in the shack. Last of all she told him of the code paper I had found and copied when the princess lost the miniature of her mother, and of my discovery that the characters were Sumerian.

"But I'm not going to let her say a word until she's finished," she said as Allen Drake exclaimed "Sumerian!" and exchanged a tense comprehending glance with my father. "You ought to know, Allen, that it's better for her to be absolutely unhampered."

"If she's as successful in the stunt as she was the last time she tackled a code of Sumerian characters, I'm willing to agree to any conditions," he said with a bow to me and an expression of approval in his eyes which was a heady draught to my vanity.

"Then that's that," Lillian said "And now for the most important link in the chain. One of these men in the shack is known to Dicky—how, we don't know—although we think Dicky knew him on the other side. At any rate he sent Jim for Madge just now—Dicky has told Jim that he is to do whatever the man asks, and when Madge went to the barn, the man gave her a packet to deliver to you—he knows you came here last night, and evidently knows your identity. Better get the package out, Madge."

With fingers that trembled I took the package from beneath the eggs in the basket while my father was receiving Lillian's assurance that no other outsider save the red-beared man knew of his presence in the farmhouse. Then I held it out to my father while Lillian and Allen pressed close to his shoulder. And then I heard a simultaneous exclamation:

"K. seven! He is K. seven!"

MARIE THERESE JOHNSTON

Penn. Mother Praises Friend

There isn't a mother living who won't agree that no half-sick child should be the subject for an experiment with medicines of uncertain merit. When your child is bilious, headachy, half-sick, feverish, restless, with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy, you know that nine times out of ten it's a sign his little stomach and bowels need purging. And when you know that for over fifty years leading physicians have endorsed one preparation for this condition, there doesn't seem to be any reason for "trying" things.

Rich, fruity California Fig Syrup clears the little stomach and bowels gently, harmlessly and in a hurry. It regulates the bowels, gives tone and strength to them and to the stomach; and helps to give your child new strength, energy and vitality. Thousands of Pennsylvania mothers praise it. Mrs. Mary A. Johnston, 2012 S. Church Lane, West Philadelphia, says: "I'll never forget the friend who got me to give my baby girl California Fig Syrup. Nothing else helped her bowels, which were weak and sluggish. California Fig Syrup stopped her trouble quick, brightened her up, gave her an appetite. I have used it with both my children for colds and little upset spells ever since. I consider them Fig Syrup babies."

Insist on the genuine article. See that the carton bears the word "California." Over four million bottles used a year.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Announcement of Debut of Emily McKeen Stuart Raises Season's List of Pittsburgh Debutantes to 21

EVER since the season started we've been complaining about the briefness of our list of debutantes. Not that it seemed to make much difference in the number of parties! But we had so many buds last winter that, from the vantage point of September, this season appeared to be a bit anti-climactic.

From day to day, though, we've heard of the various girls who are planning to come out this winter, until the list has grown to a quite respectable length. There were, if I remember rightly, about 30 debutantes last winter, and now the twenty-first name has been added to this season's group. This latest bud is Emily McKeen Stuart, daughter of the James Lyall Stuarts, of Cochrane avenue, Sewickley. The Stuarts were at Bass Rocks, Mass., all summer, in fact they have just recently arrived at home from the East. And while no definite date for Emily's coming-out party has been decided on, I do know that Mrs. Stuart is going to introduce her daughter at a tea which she will give late in November.

TODAY'S party for the debutanes is quite a big affair, I understand. It is a buffet luncheon which Mrs. George J. Willock, of Solway street, and her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Dickson, of Wilkins avenue, are giving for two of the buds, Jane Allderdice and Bettie Guiler. Jane's mother, Mrs. Taylor Allderdice, will introduce her at a tea October 23, you know, while Bettie will be introduced November 6 by her mother, Mrs. Leonard Guiler.

Mrs. Willock and Mrs. Dickson are using the entire first floor of the club for their party, and the decorations for their tables consist of masses of autumn flowers.

OUR attention is sharply divided, just now, between the debutantes and the many October brides. Certainly the month is thickly studded with important wedding dates. One interesting nuptial event on the last Saturday in the month, October 27, already has been announced, and that is Katharine Wyckoff's. Katherine is a daughter of the A. W. Wyckoffs, of the Bellefield Dwellings, and she is going to marry Richard Seth Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Smith, of Cleveland, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the Church of the Ascension.

Katherine's own attendants are limited to one matron of honor, and she will be the former Burd Blair Dickson, who was married to Frederick J. Stevenson last October. Mr. Smith will have his brother, E. Morse Smith, of Chicago, for his best man and the ushers will be John M. Adams, of Pittsburgh, Katherine's brother-in-law; James Osborne, George Hodgson and Richard Taylor, of Cleveland; John S. Blyth, of New York; John Brothers, of Canton, O., and Carlton L. Albrecht, of Massillon, O.

Several parties already have been given for Katherine, and, of course, there will be many more before she is married. I understand that her sister, Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Stevenson are going to give the rehearsal dinner the night before the wedding.

MISS LOIS OLIVIA LINHART, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Black Linhart, of Allequippa street, has chosen next Tuesday as the date for her marriage to Dayton Leslie Grabill, of Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Grabill, of Toronto. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock in the evening in the Linhart home, with the bride's father officiating. Mrs. Kenneth L. Arnold, of Toledo, O., sister of the bride, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Linhart, will be her attendants. Kyle Grabill, of Toronto, will be his brother's best man, and the ushers will include Edward L. Linhart and Kenneth L. Arnold.

MISS MARY SCHREINER, daughter of Mr. ad Mrs. Edward Schreiner, of Howe street, has chosen next Wednesday as the date for her marriage to John Hilleary Botts, of Atlanta, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Botts, of Roanoke, Va. The ceremony will be performed at 5 o'clock in the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer by the Rev. Dr. Robert N. Meade. Miss Janet Botts, sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Polly Kelly and Miss Margaret Jane Petty, both of Pittsburgh. Donald Lee Wiltsee, of Winston Salem, N. C., will be best man and the ushers will include John B. Schreiner, brother of the bride; Lewis Hester, George Goodridge and Curtner Akin, all of Pittsburgh.

MISS MARY LYON CAMPBELL, daughter of Mrs. Laura M. Campbell and the late Dr. William M. Campbell, of North Highland avenue, whose marriage to Dr. Andrew McNally Neff, of Pasadena, Cal., will be solemnized October 20, will have Miss Grace M. Armbrust, of Coraopolis, for her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Mrs. John M. Robb, of Carnegie, and Miss Virginia L. Wallis, of Harrisburg. Dr. William E. Kaschenmeister will be best man and the ushers will include Dr. Harold T. Lacey, Dr. Ralph T. K. Cornwell, Dr. Theodore O. Elterich and Dr. Arthur B. Thomas. The ceremony will be performed at 7:30 o'clock in the Highland Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Dr. George C. Fisher. Miss Campbell will be given in marriage by her brother, William Macfarlane Campbell, Jr., of Evanston, Ill.

THE marriage of Miss Elizabeth Manor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Manor, of East Liverpool, O., and John Scott Robb III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott Robb, of Carnegie, was solemnized Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock in the blue room of the Hotel Schenley by the Rev. J. H. Lawther, of the First Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool. Miss Emmaline Robb, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Oliver Evans was best man. A dinner followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Robb left for a trip to Cuba. They will be at home in the Fairfax Apartments, Fifth avenue, after November 15.

MRS. WILLIAM HARMAN WILLS, of Hill avenue, Wilkinsburg, has left for Philadelphia to attend the wedding of her daughter, Miss Frances Dorothy Wills, and Thomas Lawton Slaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Slaugh, of Olney, Philadelphia, which will be solemnized Saturday at 12 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, William Harman Wills, Jr., of Dunkirk, N. Y., and the best man will be Joseph Wahl. Mr. and Mrs. Slaugh will make their home in Swarthmore.

MR. AND MRS. J. A. DONOVAN, of Pasadena, Cal., formerly of Pittsburgh, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen E. Donovan, to Loraine A. Rhodes, of Salem, Va. The wedding will take place November 1 in Pittsburgh.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. S. BRASLEY, of Stanton avenue, will be at home to their friends Sunday night at 9 o'clock in celebration of their golden wedding.

Y. W. PLANS TO HOLD DINNER OCTOBER 23

TUESDAY, October 23, is the date selected for the membership dinner of the Young Women's Christian Association of Pittsburgh, which will be held in the Hotel Schenley. This date has been chosen because it is the night on which the national business girls' department of the Y. W. C. A. has selected to rally all business women members in the country and special emphasis will, therefore, be placed on this particular group. Miss Sarah S. Lyon, of the national board, who recently returned from the conference of world "Y's" at Budapest and the international missionary council at Jerusalem, will speak. The program will include a pageant and music.

RALPH MUNN, director of Carnegie Library, will address the South Hills College Club tomorrow night, speaking on "The Value of a Library to a Community." The meeting will be held in the Lutheran Church auditorium, Mt. Lebanon. Mrs. John Angie and Miss Grace McMillan will present an instrumental duet. Hostesses are Miss Helen McLain, Miss Eleanor Bardsley, Miss Irene Blank, Miss Agnes Burton, Miss Katherine Dorsey, Miss Anna Gossett, Miss Mable Love, Miss Florence McKinney, Miss Marie Rewbridge and Miss Irene Wood.

THE Pittsburgh chapter of the Thiel College Alumni Association will meet at luncheon in the Schenley Hotel on Saturday. The Rev. Dr. E. Clyde Xander, president of Thiel College, will speak on "Ways and Means of Co-Operation Between Alumni and Their College." Among the other speakers will be Dr. Thomas V. Holleran, football coach, and Charles D. Rissell, athletic graduate manager. After luncheon the alumni will attend the Thiel-Carnegie Tech football game.

THE ways and means department of the Congress of Clubs will inaugurate a series of weekly bridge parties beginning Monday. Dr. Ben G. Graham, associate superintendent of Pittsburgh schools; Elmer Stephan, director of art in the schools; Miss Gertrude Scott and Mrs. Chester B. Story will speak tomorrow at the joint luncheon of the departments of education and fine arts. A musical program will be in charge of Mrs. William L. Stone and Mrs. Charles Wright Fulton.

MISS ANNA BELLE STEWART, of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., who is located at Colcord, W. Va., will be the speaker at the annual harvest home luncheon of the Women's Missionary Society of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church tomorrow. Mrs. Romaine Smith Russell, accompanied by Earl B. Collins, will sing.

* * *

THE Guild of the Shadyside United Presbyterian Church will hold its annual rummage sale tomorrow and Saturday from 2 to 9 o'clock, at 6124 Penn avenue. Miss Eleanor Gillespie, president of the Guild; Miss Grace Hackett and Mrs. Martin Ballard, are in charge of the sale, with Miss Adelaide Mitchell assisting.

COLUMBUS DAY was observed yesterday by the Wilkinsburg Wednesday Afternoon Club when the members met with Mrs. F. H. Braddock at her home in South Trenton avenue. "His Native Country" was described in personal reminiscences by Mrs. H. N. Bassler, and Mrs. H. G. Kiser talked on Italian art and music. Mrs. Craig Geddis outlined her plan for Pittsburgh's junior matinees and H. E. Carmack spoke on the Metropolitan Plan.

AT yesterday's meeting of the Edgewood Woman's Club, which was president's day, Mrs. Rufus Emery, a former president, described an extended visit which she had made to South America. Mrs. Dean Harvey, the new executive, reviewed the list of 12 "immortals" compiled recently by a committee of jurists. With Earl Mitchell at the piano T. Reed Kennedy, baritone, sang and tea followed the program.

* * *

MRS. M. M. REDENBAUGH will discuss budgeting at the meeting of the home economics department of the Avalon Woman's Club tomorrow afternoon, in the home of Mrs. Henry Dotzenroth, McKinley avenue

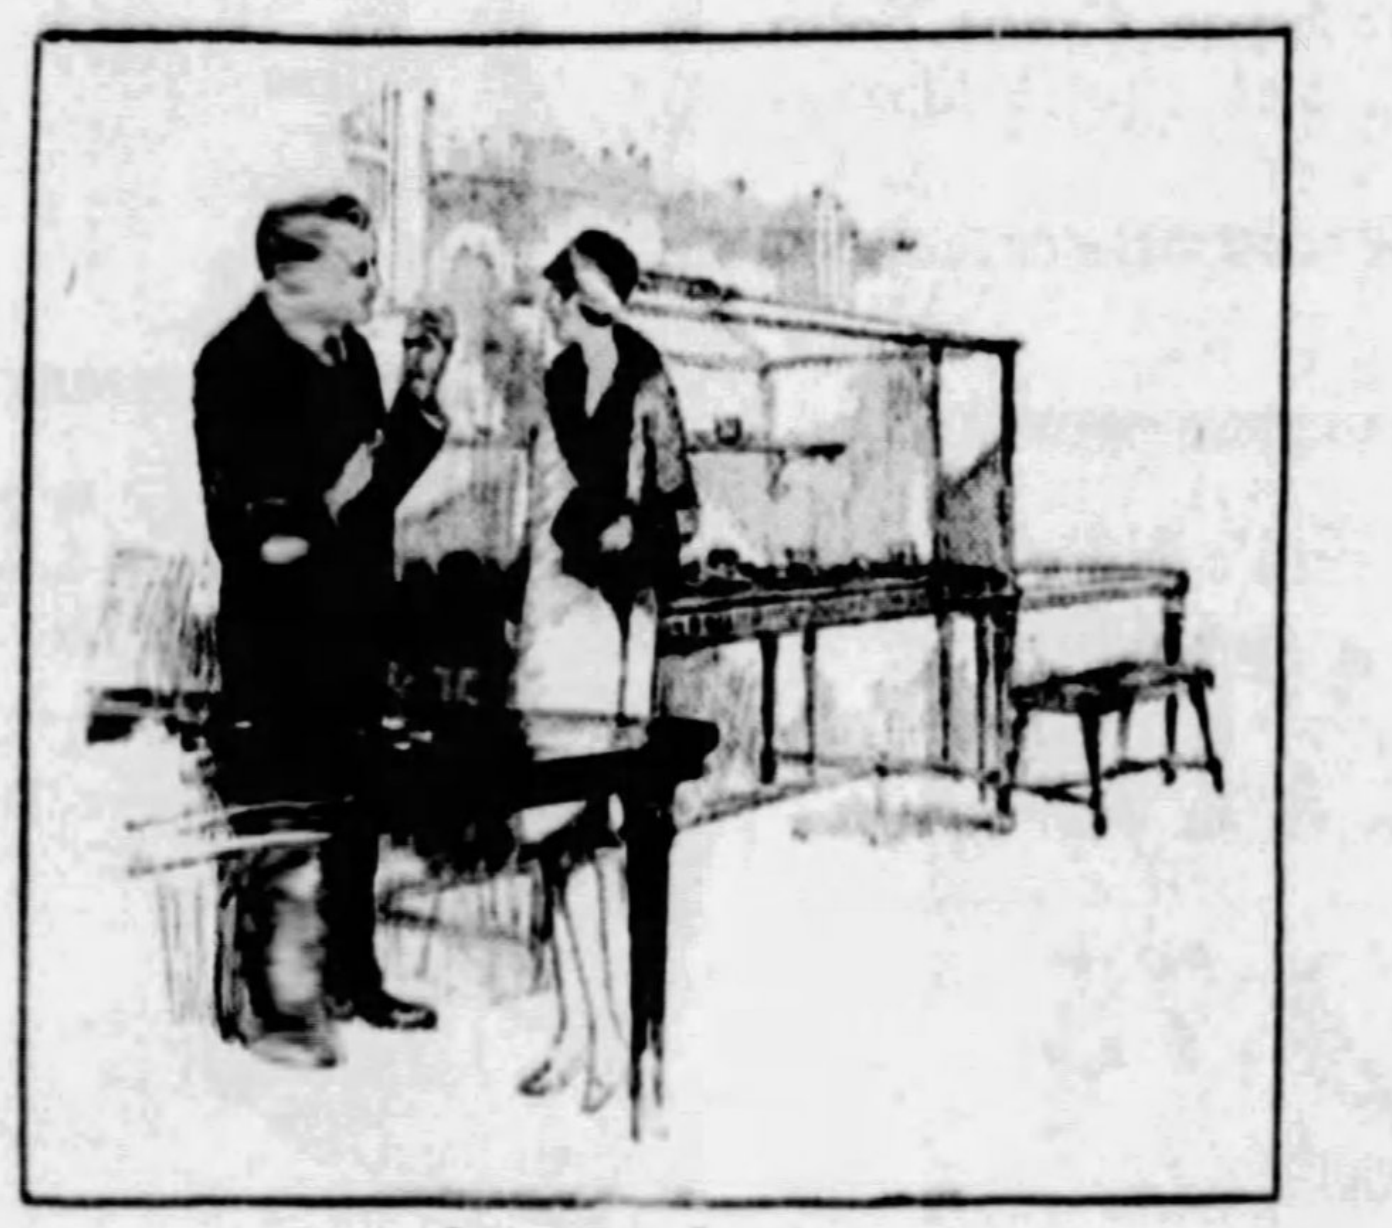
Worthy Mechanism Characterizes Every Grogan Timepiece



Instruments of precision

The Grogan Company, with its space practically doubled, now occupies the entire ground floor with shops and offices on the second floor of the Grogan Building at Wood Street and Sixth Avenue. This gives to Pittsburgh one of the world's outstanding jewelry establishments, both in beauty of appointments and broad range of precious merchandise.

GROGAN watches and clocks are "instruments of precision." There are many fine models exemplifying the talents of both watchmaker and jeweler, some of which are adorned with precious stones, but in every instant the case is regarded with favor only when it houses an accurate and worthy mechanism. A visit to this department will be found most interesting.

The Houbigant double compact presented in a wafer-thin hexagonal gold case, charmingly embellished, is sold for $2.50. The single with face powder and extra refill for $1.50. With rouge only in four shades (Pour Brune, Pour Blonde, Carnation and Orange) at $1.

"FACE POWDER HOUBIGANT"

Face Powder Houbigant is a revelation to those who perhaps have hitherto contented themselves with something less than perfection.

Of an incomparable smoothness, it adheres invisibly and lastingly, lending to the complexion a radiant bloom that excels Nature's most generous gifts.

In six exclusive shades (Naturelle, Rachel, Ocre, Rosée, Ocre-Rosée and Blanche) each a triumph of the art of makeup .... it becomes the more alluring when it is considered that each box is fragranced with the exquisite parfums Houbigant.

That face powder Houbigant may be used to full advantage requires a face powder base. Realizing the need for one of an outstanding merit, Houbigant offer Quelques Fleurs Skin Lotion, which is not only exquisitely dainty, but marvelously effective—$1 the bottle.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW CEMENT PLANT

Construction work has been started on the new cement plant of the Davison Coke and Iron Company on Neville Island. The blast furnace of the American Steel and Wire Company and 140 acres of ground were bought early this year. A by-product coke plant will also be constructed on the site.

Production of pig iron and cement will be started next June and coke will be made by October, 1929.

The blast furnace will have a capacity of 600 tons of pig iron a day. The coke plant will consume 1,000 tons of coal a day and the cement plant will have an annual capacity of 1,000,000 barrels. Provision is being made to treble the initial coke capacity, to double the pig iron capacity and to increase the cement capacity by 50 per cent in the future.

SHOE RUBS FOOT, GANGRENE SETS IN

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—His foot rubbed by the inside of a shoe, Harry Senor, 22, of Dunbar, is in a critical condition from gangrene.

"AWNING" BUSINESS MEN ROB 4 NORTH SIDE HOMES

Three young "awning" men spent a busy day on the North Side yesterday—robbing homes. They entered four, according to complaints made to police today, made away with about $400 in cash and about $200 worth of jewelry.

They have an inimitable way of working, police explained. They all call at a home and when their ring or knock at the front door is answered, they ask if they may take down the awnings. But they make their charge prohibitive. When they come to a house that fails to bring an answer to their knocks and rings they take for granted that no one is home and proceed to enter and ransack the house.

Entrances to the four houses yesterday were made either through cellar windows or back doors.

All of the robberies reported occurred in the same locality—three on Termon avenue and one on Orchlee street.

Between $300 and $400 in cash was reported stolen from the home of J. C. Rowie, 1433 Orchlee street. In addition, a diamond ring, watch and revolver, all valued at about $240, also were stolen.

The home of Adolphe Hill, 1223 Termon avenue, was ransacked and a number of small pieces of jewelry were taken.

A small amount of money and a pocketbook were reported stolen when the men entered the home of Mrs. Walter McFarland, 1119 Termon avenue.

Alfred Boliver, 1227 Termon avenue, said that his home was entered and ransacked, but he couldn't tell whether anything was missing.

Neighbors of the victims gave police descriptions of the men and the descriptions tally. The men are said to be between 20 and 25 years old.

COURT BANS DUMP IN ALEPPO TOWNSHIP

Judge James R. McFarlane in an opinion yesterday in Common Pleas Court enjoins Julius A. Scott of Aleppo township from maintaining an odoriferous dump which annoys neighbors. J. D. Berg of Osborne, whose home is on Beaver road about 700 feet from the defendent's property, made the complaint. Burning of rubbish was held responsible.

Joan Tries to Borrow Money From Her Aunts to Get Bill Out of Jail

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Joan Hastings, seventeen, and beautiful, lives a secluded life with her two old maiden aunts in a run-down house. Aunt Evvie reveals to her her unmarried mother's tragic love affair and death, but Joan refuses to believe anything but good of her. She falls in love with Bill Martin, a garage worker, who comes once a week to care for Aunt Evvie's car. Meanwhile, the aunts plan to send Joan away to school. Bill tells the girl that he's very poor and it may be years before he can think of marrying, but she vows she will wait for him. Joan is overjoyed when news arrives that she is to go away to school, and writes a note to Bill asking him to meet her. Through a series of unforeseen circumstances she is unable to keep the appointment, and later they see each other in the rose garden at night. On her last evening, before leaving for school, Joan waits in vain for Bill to say goodby. She rushes to his home the next morning and finds he had been sent to jail, an innocent victim of a bootlegging gang.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VII.

JOAN was beginning to understand. The sick man had a job driving a milk truck—at least he thought it was a milk truck, but it was a truck full of whisky. And because his tooth hurt him so much he asked Bill to drive for him, and the federal authorities wouldn't believe Bill didn't know it was whisky . . . and they took him away . . . and put him in jail . . .

"Oh, but they'll let him go—the people that hired him will tell that Bill didn't know. They wouldn't be mean enough to let an innocent man suffer—"

The sick man whom they called Milt shook his head gloomily. "Those people will be busy saving their own skins. Besides, they didn't hire the kid, they hired me, see?"

"Milt!" Eunice cried in a high, thin voice. "Did you know it wasn't milk? If I thought you did—oh, my God—"

Milt groaned and clutched his aching jaw. Now my own wife accuses me. Oh, well—I can stand it I guess—it don't matter. The babies still love their Daddy. Come. Come to Daddy, Rosalie . . . Ruby."

Joan stood bewildered, holding tight to Mrs. Martin's little red hand. Bill's mother was the only one who was real, the others were just people out of a nightmare, a terrible, mixed up nightmare . . .

"What are we going to do?" she kept repeating dully. "We've got to do something—"

"He shouldn't have been speeding—and he wouldn't have got caught!" Milt broke in harshly.

Joan blanched. Her hand flew to her throat, nervously. It was true—it was her own fault Bill was in jail. He was coming to her, fast as the wind.

Suddenly Milt turned to Joan. "Say, how did you come to know about all this, eh? He was try- to finish the run, and see you—eh? After 10 o'clock at night, eh? Pretty late—"

"Milt!" Eunice cried sharply. "It's Miss Van Fleet's niece, I tell you! Are you crazy, Milt? Talking like that—" she turned to Joan, voice like honey. "You mustn't mind Miss—Miss—"

"Hastings."

"Miss Hastings—he's nearly crazy with that tooth of his, and all our trouble. You must excuse him. And excuse the kitchen, too. I didn't get around to cleaning it this week, with mamma laid up, too, and all—"

"Oh, but he's quite right," Joan said in her clear, honest voice. "He was coming to see me—that's how I knew something had happened."

They all stared at her. To think of Bill, going with Miss Van Fleet's niece! "Well!" Eunice said gustily. "The rich Van Fleets . . . Well!"

Now the man was talking again. "Ball—maybe Miss Hastings could help out, if she's an old friend of Bill's."

"You mean—money?"

He licked his lips nervously. "I'd take care of all that myself, only, just at the present—financially embarrassed . . ."

"How much?" she cried eagerly. "Tell me—quick—how much?"

"Oh, 50 anyway—"

"I'll go home and see. I think—I hope—Oh I know I can get the money! I'll be right back—wait—"

She ran all the way home, all the way up the high, dusty hill. Her face was scarlet, her breath was coming in terrible, aching rushes, her bright hair hung close to her face in tight, wet curls.

She burst into the dining room, holding her side and panting. "Can I have my ticket to sell—will you let me have my ticket?"

"Go and wash your face this minute!" Aunt Evvie commanded. "What do you mean coming to breakfast like that?"

Joan took a step toward the door, when she wheeled defiantly. "I haven't got time. Listen—Aunt Evvie—listen—I'm in a terrible hurry—I've got to get—"

"You've got to clean yourself up before you talk to me!" Evvie thundered.

Aunt Babe pulled Evvie's skirt. "She's sick—delirious—don't you see, Evvie? It's the excitement. Joan—let me see your tongue!"

"Aunt Evvie," Joan burst out desperately, "I'm not sick. I've been running, that's all. I need money—terribly—"

"Money!" Babe cried. "Evvie—what—"

"Will you let me tend to this, Babe? The child is raving. Joan, will you sit down? I suppose I'll have to get a doctor—"

With a tremendous jerk, Joan freed herself from Evvie's restraining hand. She was still panting, but she managed to talk more coherently now. "Listen! You don't understand. I've been to Bill's house—"

"But—who's Bill?"

"Bill Martin. We're engaged. We're going to be married—"

"Now I know you're crazy, Joan Hastings. Engaged! Where did you ever meet any young man to get engaged to—"

"He's—the boy who cleans the car—"

"My car? Joan! To think of a niece of mine looking at a greasy—"

"I love him, I tell you! We're engaged, Aunt Evvie. I don't care whether anybody in the whole world likes it or not. We are. And he's in trouble, and I need the money—to get him out—"

"Don't talk nonsense. Engaged indeed. Get him out of what—"

"Jail! He's innocent, but they think he isn't. I want my ticket to sell, for the bail money. You'll have to let me. I'm not going away now. It's no use looking that way, Aunt Evvie—I'm not going—I'm going to work—"

"That's enough." Evvie's fist struck the table heavily. "No more of this maudlin talk. Love—bah, puppy love. I'm disgusted with you. A garage man that can't keep out of jail. Now wash your face. You're going to Philadelphia all right, and I pity Belle from the bottom of my heart, getting you—"

"You can't separate us now!" Where had she heard that before? Another girl, another slim, gold-haired girl saying that . . . Veronica. . . .

Babe remembered, too. Her fascinated eyes stared curiously at Joan. "You—you're your mother all over again. I can see it!" She cried chokingly.

"No!" Evvie thundered. "No, Babe!"

Joan's head went back defiantly—she met Babe's gaze proudly, steadily.

Evvie stood up trembling. "Joan, your Aunt Babe thinks . . . I can't say it . . . she thinks—"

"I don't care what she thinks. I must have the ticket money—I must!"

"Joan, tell your Aunt Babe, Joan—give me your word—"

"I can't—oh, won't you see that I've got to have the money for him, and it isn't puppy love?" Joan's sea-green eyes were desperate. She clutched at Evvie's sleeve. "We belong to each other—for always. It's true—what Aunt Babe thinks—"

Even when she knew that Aunt Evvie wouldn't give up the ticket Joan didn't despair. There was twelve dollars, she'd take that . . . borrow the rest somewhere . . .

Aunt Evvie saw she was losing. Joan was slipping through her fingers. Escaping her. She was deaf to reason, deaf to threats, she had no pride to sear.

"I'm so—so sick!" she said in a small, surprised voice.

"You'll be sicker before I'm through with you. And it's your own fault. You were going East to Belle, a good, fortunate girl. Now you've made that impossible. You're still going—"

"I'm not!" Joan fought the dizziness to snap the answer still defiantly.

"All right then, you're not." Evvie's tone was ominously quiet again. "I shall not argue. You made one choice for yourself, now there is just one more left for you to make. Either you go to Belle with a letter which I consider it my duty to write her, or you go to the reform school. Take your choice."

"I am going," Evvie said, "to send for someone from the Juvenile Court. Thank God, Joan is is still under age."

Out of her old-fashioned pocket she pulled a little fat gold watch. "It is five minutes past eight," she said. "I will give Joan three minutes to make her choice. Joan, they send girls to the reform school for what you've done. If I'm going to be disgraced by your conduct, I'm going to be disgraced doing my duty. Either you give me your word of honor to go quietly to the train without attempting to see this—this person again—or at eight minutes past 8 I shall take the first step to . . . to have you brought before the Juvenile Court."

Heavy-eyed, hardly comprehending at first, Joan looked from one to the other. Reform school. Then she would be powerless to help Bill . . . separated . . . never to meet again . . .

The fat gold watch ticked off the seconds.

Aunt Evvie shifted impatiently. Now that her mind was made up she was anxious to be off, have it over with. Would the girl ever speak?

And just before the minute hand came to the little dot that was the eight-minute mark, Joan surrendered. Complete, ignominious, unconditional surrender.

"I'll go on the train," she said, so low that Aunt Evvie wasn't sure she heard right.

"Without trying to see that—that jailbird again?"

Joan nodded. The tears that gushed from her despairing eyes choked and blinded her. Paroxysms of hoarse, racking sobs shook her, as Evvie's heavy hand ached to do.

"And you will go quetly, and not make any trouble?"

"Yes—"

"Then, for mercy sake, go wash your face!" Evvie concluded savagely. "Standing there crying like that—without even trying to cover your face . . . I declare I don't think you have any pride or decency at all!" Evvie was not a generous victor.

Joan groped her way out of the room. She had no answer. Neither had she any pride . . . nothing . . . but love for Bill.

There wasn't a minute to lose. They had to get the 11 o'clock boat to connect with the Overland train from San Francisco. Evvie wanted to be there early.

They got into Evvie's chugging car. Heeley was leaning out of the kitchen window, wiping red hands on a blue apron. She waved a skinny wrist. But Aunt Babe, on the front porch, felt too ill to wave.

The little brown trunk that had been Grandfather Van Fleet's had gone on ahead. There was just the little handbag for Joan to carry.

Aunt Evvie parked the car, took they key out carefully, and dropped it into her purse. "Come come—the ferry is in. Joan—move!"

"Now you sit here, and wait!" Aunt Evvie said sternly when they were off the boat, and in the ladies' waiting room, near the telephone booths.

Joan sat, very quietly, in the exact spot Aunt Evvie picked out, with the little bag at her feet. You would hardly have recognized her for the flaming, joyous, golden thing who stood with flying skirts on the windy, sun-kissed hill, with arms outstretched to Bill.

She was a light gone out. A mere ghost of a girl, with a pathetic, sensitive mouth, and dark tragic eyes that ill matched the round schoolgirl hat with it's fluttering ribbon bow.

"Come—it's time to go!" Aunt Evvie was back. With her was a square-set, sweet faced woman in a long blue coat. "So this is the little girl?" the lady said.

Joan stood up. "This is Mrs. Marden, Joan. She is from the Travelers' Aid and she is going on your train. She'll take care of you."

"My berth is right next to yours. Isn't that nice%" Mrs. Marden smiled.

What Dr. Caldwell Learned in 47 Years Practice

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person. Use for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headache, and to break up fevers and colds. Note special coupon offer:

WHAT A DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

There IS a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE it.

The next time your bowels need any assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take one the druggist can assure you is made with CASCARA. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for the system. Indeed, it helps make good blood. For cascara is nothing but the bark of a tree. The Indians chew this bark, and live to an old age without a day's sickness.

What happens when you cascarize the bowels? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One more dose—no larger, and perhaps smaller than the first—and the bowels function of their own accord for a still longer time. Until you don't feel the need of any aid of any sort for weeks-on-end.

So, the only habit you get from cascara is that of natural and normal regularity. How different from things one must usually repeat on the morrow! Cascara is the ideal laxative; and the familiar little candy Cascaret is doubtless its ideal form. Children beg for these tasty tablets, and many men and women wouldn't think of taking ANYTHING else for the purpose. And EVERY drug store has them.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Cobb and Other Star Hitters Besides Bottomley Have Failed to Deliver in World Series—Hockey Men Think Leonard Will Boom Game Here—More Praise for Sheely.

ASIDE from the disappointing showing of the St. Louis team as a whole in comparison with its New York rivals, it there was one feature that surprised baseball followers more than another it was the wretched exhibition given by Jim Bottomley, the Redbird first baseman, on the offensive.

Ty Cobb.

Normally one of the most dangerous hitters in the country, and a consistent slugger who finished in a tie with Hack Wilson of the Cubs for 1928 home run honors in the National League, Bottomley folded up like an accordion in the one-sided post-season affair.

NO BATTER in the older circuit is feared more by opposing pitchers in the pinches than the Mount City swatsmith, and he had been counted upon to prove the Cardinals' biggest siege gun in the Derby, but against the Yankee pitchers he shrunk to the proportions and potency of a bean-shooter.

In the four games he made only three hits in 14 times at bath, for the sickly average of .214, and on no fewer than six of his trips to the plate he struck out, exactly half as many strikeouts as were marked up against the entire New York team during the series.

IT IS queer how the atmosphere of baseball's blue ribbon event sometimes affects hitters who rank among the best in the game while the regular season is in progress.

Men of whom the most has been expected in the batting department often prove the weakest sisters in the October classic, while others who have not been counted upon to do much in the hitting line step out of character and proceed to pound the ball all over the premises.

There was Rabbit Maranville, in this year's series, for instance. He bats 'way down in seventh place in the St. Louis hitting order, and was not considered overly dangerous, yet he was the only one of Bill McKechnie's players participating in all four games to come out with a batting average better than .300, his official mark being .308 against Bottomley's .214.

Jim Bottomley.

THE SURPRISINGLY poor showing of Bottomley recalls the first notable form reversal of that sort in a world series. Ty Cobb was the goat on that occasion. During the regular season of 1907 Cobb had batted .350 and it was predicted that this "greatest ball player of all time" would be the hero of the world series that fall between the Tigers and the Cubs. But against the pitching of Three-Fingered Brown, Orval Overall, Ed Reulbach and Jack Pfiester, Ty made only four hits in five games for an average of .200. Again in the 1909 series with Pittsburgh, Cobb was a batting bust, making only six hits in seven games for an average of .214. In the three games pitched by Babe Adams in that series, Tyrus got only one hit.

THE mighty Babe Ruth himself batted only .118 in five games against the Giants in the series of 1922, and several other star hitters of the past might be mentioned as having fallen down woefully in the annual title argument.

Whether it is merely because they happen to fall into a slump at that critical stage, are affected by the importance and tension of the series, or overdo things by trying too hard to live up to their reputations, the fact remains that some of the greatest batsmen sometimes produce the least.

Lou Gehrig and Ruth may be omitted from the list of disappointments in the light of their recent performances, but among other star hitters in the big leagues Bottomley in looking over the records can find plenty of company.

AMONG the spectators at the world series were several men who are connected with hockey teams in the National Professional League, and all of them expressed satisfaction that it has been definitely decided that Pittsburgh is to remain in the circuit. They also express the opinion that it will help the game in Pittsburgh greatly to have Benny Leonard, former lightweigh boxing champion, with his New York backers, among the new owners of the franchise.

"Leonard has proved himself a progressive business man, a hustler and a good showman since he left the ring," said one, "and the fact that he is to be one of the owners of the Pittsburgh team is going to mean a new policy and improved ice sport in America's pioneer hockey city. Pittsburgh's position in hockey is assured from now on."

Benny Leonard.

IN CONNECTION with pending arrangements for the reconstruction of Pittsburgh's hockey team for the season of 1928-29, it is said that a deal or two may be put through soon, following the recent conference between Manager Odie Cleghorn and the new owners. It is understood that offers of $30,000 have been received from two clubs for Goaltender Ray Worters, and that instead of a sale a trade may be made whereby a couple of valuable players will be obtained in exchange for him. Sprague Cleghorn is not coming to the local club as reported. He is slated to manage the Newark (N. J.) team, transferred from Quebec.

BASEBALL men on the sidelines at the world series sang the praises of Earl Sheely, the former White Sox first baseman whom the Pirates drafted from Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League for next year.

"Pittsburgh has landed the best receiver of thrown balls in the whole country, bar none," declared a Chicago man who has been in the game for years.

"The way he handles bad throws, digs them out of the dirt and plucks them out of the air is amazing. He is a powerful hitter, too, and the only thing that keeps him from being the greatest all-around first baseman in America is a slowness of foot due to the faulty setting of a broken bone in one of his legs a couple of years ago."

IT DEVELOPS that the Pittsburgh club tried to get Sheely almost two years ago. The White Sox tried to send him

TUBE CITY SCENE OF RETURN BOUT

THE stage is set for the return heavyweight battle between Joe Packo, of Toledo, and Ike McFowler, Negro star of Johnstown, in the McKeesport ring tonight, and interest in it is such that Promoter Jim McGirr is looking for his best gate of the season to date.

When the pair met recently in the same ring, McFowler got the decision after 10 bitterly fought rounds during which he once claimed a foul and was given a rest. Packo contended he really knocked out McFowler with a body blow. He injured one of his hands during the melee. They are getting more money in the way of guarantees than they drew at the box office for their first meeting and have a privilege of a percentage of the receipts besides, so anxious was Promoter McGirr to rematch them in response to the demand of his patrons.

A strong preliminary card backs up the main event. Linn Jordan, of Johnstown, and Bobby Holmes, formerly of Buffalo but now of McKeesport, Negro middleweights, will clash in the six-round semi-final. Holmes has boxed George Perotta, Benny Ross, Chief Halftown, Young Bob Fitzsimmons, Tony Stabenau and other well-known big fellows, while Jordan is a familiar figure to the Western Pennsylvania fight fans. Al Waldeck, of Tarentum, and Battling Gizzy, of Donora, will box the second bout and Larry Marsilli, of Carrick, and Johnny Brown, of Lawrenceville, will furnish the opener.

GARDEN BOUTS COMPLETE

The card has been completed for Monday night's show at Motor Square Garden. Phil Goldstein, of the Hill and New York, boxes Johnny Mellow, of Detroit, in the main event and Tony LaRose of Cincinnati, clashes with Rudy Ceder of Tarentum, in the other half of the double windup of two eight-round bouts. Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, and Tug Phillips of McKeesport, will be seen in the six-round battle, and in the two four-rounders, Dominick Proflo will trade blows with Tiger Joe Randall, Negro or Elizabeth, and Mike Smithhammer, of the East End, will oppose Jack McCarthy, formerly of the Pittsburgh Lyceum.

Rene DeVos and Phil (K. O.) Kaplan, middleweight title contenders, box in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Maxie Rosenbloom boxes Tiger Payne and Carl Duane engages Eddie Guida in other 10-round bouts on the card.

Myer Grace of Philadelphia and Chicago, who formerly fought under the name of Young Jack Dempsey, plans to come to Pittsburgh and make his home here and do considerable fighting in this city during the winter. He is a hard-hitting welterweight.

Frank Monroe and Chuck Semach have been matched for one of the bouts on the Washington (Pa.) card Monday night. Howard Mayberry and Frankie Hart box the main bout.

GODFREY IN BOUT

George Godfrey, giant Negro heavyweight, boxes Benny Hill, of California, in a 10-round bout in Buffalo tomorrow night.

Joey LaGrey and Art DeChamplaine, of Johnstown, box on the same card in Brooklyn tomorrow night, the former meeting Irish Tommy Jordan and the latter Erwin Widman.

Baby Joe Gans boxes Johnny Reisler in New York Saturday night.

Paris Cangie, of New Castle, and Freddie Fitzgerald, of Youngstown, have been matched for the main bout at the Jolly Bowl, New Castle, Monday night. Frankie Moran, of Homewood, meets Chester Smallwood, of Sullivan, Ind., and Henry Miller, of McKeesport, boxes Nick Martin, of Cleveland, in the feature preliminaries.

CUYLER LEADS IN THEFTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Two former champions in the more or less lost art of base stealing have crowded their way into the picture among the major league comebacks of 1928.

They are Johnny Mostil, of the Chicago Whitesox, and Kiki Cuyler, of the Chicago Cubs. Each was out in front in his circuit, with the former leading with 22 and Kiki with 36.

A year ago St. Louis claimed the base stealing honors when George Sisler, of the Browns, led the American League, and Frankie Frisch, of the Cardinals, the National. Sisler and Frisch, former kings of the paths, staged comebacks to turn the trick.

Now come Mostil and Cuyler, oddly enough, not only are they ex-champions who regained their thrones just as Sisler and Frisch did in 1927, but have made it an all-Chicago affair.

GLICK, GILIS MATCHED

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Joe Glick, New York lightweight, who defeated Tommy Grogan, Omaha slugger, in his last fight, has been matched to box Hubert Gilis, of Belgium, 10 rounds, October 19, at Detroit.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK SPORTS EDITOR

OF all things! All of these years they've been kidding little Willie Sherdel about his slow ball. Said he had a great change of pace, slow, slower and slowest. And now they accuse him of making a quick pitch.

There ought to be a law. A law whereby Willie could sue those baseball guys for libel. In one afternoon they not only wreck a ball game for him, but also slander him atrociously.

IT TOOK A WORLD SERIES TO BRING OUT THE FACT THAT THERE IS SOMETHING NEW AND GOOFIER THAN USUAL, IF POSSIBLE, IN THE GREAT NATIONAL PASTIME. A QUICK PITCH.

Seems that Willie should have sent Babe a telegram that the next one was coming by express and to get ready for it.

Umps says the quick pitch is barred in the American League and was ruled taboo for the series. In other words, the batters must be protected against these slick, scheming pitchers. The uncouth rascals.

I suppose Col. Ruppert is paying the Babe 75 grand per annum to go to sleep up there at the plate. Say, instead of getting another sock at the leather, the beltin' fool ought to be fined. In the Army they shoot 'em for napping while on duty.

AL SMITH GREETS RUTH

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The world champion New York Yankees returned to their home bulliwick last night from St. Louis to receive a roaring reception as well as a greeting from Gov. Smith.

Through a cheering crowd of fully 3,000 persons in and around Grand Central station, where their special train arrived shortly after 9 o'clock, the team, led by Babe Ruth, Col. Jacob Ruppert and Manager Miller Huggins, was taken directly to the governor's suite in the Hotel Biltmore.

Ruth, beaming as his 225 pounds towered above the governor, was the first to greet the presidential candidate.

"If I could count on as many votes as you have kids yelling for you, I'd be sure I'm going to be elected," said the governor in congratulating Babe.

"You've got mine, anyway," responded Ruth.

Gov. Smith turned to shake hands with Col. Ruppert and Manager Huggins, congratulating them both and then introducing them to Mrs. Smith, as well as other members of the party that was preparing to leave shortly afterward on the candidate's southern trip.

"Say, did you hear about the place that wouldn't let the baseball returns on the world series be announced on Sunday?" the governor asked Ruth.

The Babe looked amazed and the governor added:

"Well, I'd like to see that place. It must be a hot one."

Gov. Smith posed with Ruth and other players for the photographers.

The home town reception to the Yankees was the noisiest they ever have received on thir triumphal return to the home city after a baseball warfare.

Ruth and Lou Gehrig, as was the case all along the route of the trip back from the Missouri city, were singled out for particular ovations.

"Oh, you Babe!" shouted the crowd at the station, pushing forward to get through a special cordon of police and grasp Ruth's hand as he was hustled out the corridor and into the hotel.

SOUTHERN GRID TEAMS MEET BIG THREE

ATLANTA, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The greatest football cavalcade ever to move out of the South in quest of intersectional glory is on the march today into the East and Southwest.

Eight Dixie teams—five of them Southern Conference members—will be embattled in other sections, each carrying a strong chance of overturning major opponents.

McCray, Mooks, Dudley, Johnston and others of the famous Georgia team, will be at New Haven with hopes of turning in a second victory in two years over old Eli.

The Bulldogs will miss their two great ends of a year ago, Shiver and Nash, now graduated. It was this pair whom Tad Jones called "probably the two greatest ends ever to play in the Yale bowl."

North Carolina will be playing Harvard and the Blue and White, boasting great reserve strength and several outstanding linemen and backs, including Schwartz, center; Ward, triple-threat, back; Foard, line plunger; Sapp, end, and Whisnant, experienced running and passing back, will carry high hopes of defeating the Crimson.

Virginia's Cavaliers, not downcast by a trouncing from South Carolina, will be "shooting the works" at Princeton. Close, Sloan, Luke, Flippin and several others all carry potentialities enough to upset an unwary Tiger. But Bill Roper, an alumnus of the Charlottesville institution law school, is not likely to be napping.

While these are carying the fight to the renowned three of the East, Vanderbilt's Commodores, increasing in power under the tutoring of Dan McGugan, will be on annual pilgrimage to Texas.

Last Saturday they repulsed Col-

NOW that the tumult and shouting has passed, the National League may get down to the business of setting up a defense to cope with the Gold-dust twins of the Yankees—Babe and Lou. Of course it is not assured that Ruth and Gehrig will be in the next world series, but they may be, and their memory will haunt officials and patrons of the senior loop during the cold months.

John Heydler was a dejected person as he boarded the train at St. Louis Tuesday night. Honest John was much depressed at the conclusion of the second game in New York, and when the third battle left the Redbirds on the ropes the president of the league was hanging there with them.

AFTER a night's sleep, however, Heydler yesterday was closer to his jovial mood. John appeared to be taking a philosophical view of the situation. It is hard for such a partisan to sit through eight defeats in two years, but there is nothing to do but prepare for the future.

The Yanks truly are an enigma. For two months of the championship season they staggered along like the Red Sox or Phillies, they dropping something like a 12-game lead to the onrushing Athletics. Naturally such a pace would cause the followers of the sport to estimate them as a bad set of champions. But did you notice that when the real test came—the four battles with the "A's" in the Stadium—they threw off their badge of mediocre to shine like real champs?

FROM what I have seen of the Yankees, they measure up like one of Pop Warner's football teams. Grid patrons of this district do not have to be told about Pop's elevens. They may look like bad football teams when there is nothing big at stake, but throw them into signifi-

BAMBINO SHARES IN 22 FEATS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Babe Ruth and the Yankees have rewritten the record books for the world series with the greatest exhibition of hitting power this ancient classic of baseball has ever known.

Nineteen record performances for Ruth in four games against the Cards alone tell the amazing story of his batting exploits. Seven more record-beating or equalling feats by the Yankees, as a team, and seven additional marks, the principal ones registered by Waite Hoyt and Lou Gehrig, bring the 1928 grand total of record performances to 33.

This astonishing total is double the number of record feats this year when 15 were marked up as the Yankees bowled over the 'Pirates.

Ruth has a stranglehold on nearly all the series batting records, now either holding outright or sharing in 22, running the range from startling home run feats to most strikeouts. He eclipsed the big majority of his own former records and yielded ground in only one spot to Lou Gehrig, who tied the Babe's record of four homers for a single series.

The tabulation of record performances:

RUTH'S RECORDS

1—Most series played, nine, breaking own former mark.

2—Most times batted .300 or more, five, breaking former mark shared by Ruth with Frank Frisch.

3—Greatest batting average for one series, .625, breaking mark of .545 set by Hank Gowdy in 1915.

4—Most bases on balls, total series, 29, breaking own record of 28.

5—Most strikeouts, total series, 27, breaking own record of 25.

6—Most runs scored, one series, nine, breaking record formerly shared with Tommy Leach of 8.

7—Most runs scored, total series, 31, breaking own record of 22.

8—Most runs batted in, total series, 26, breaking own record of 22.

9—Most extra bases on long hits, one game, nine, tying own record.

10—Most extra bases on long hits, one series, 12, tying own record.

11—Most extra bases on long hits, total series, 48, beating own record of 36.

12—Most games in world series, 37, beating Eddie Collins' record of 34.

13—Most home runs, total series, 13, beating own mark of 10.

14—Most home runs, one game, 3, tying own record.

15—Most total bases, one game, 12, tying own record.

16—Most total bases, one series, 22, tying record of Joe Harris.

17—Most total bases, total series, 85, beating own record of 63.

18—Most extra base hits, one series, 6, beating record of five held by self and others.

19—Most extra base hits, total series, beating own record of 14.

YANKS' RECORDS

1—Most successive games won, eight, beating former record of six, and also creating new mark of two successive clean sweeps over National League opposition.

2—Most times at bat, one club, game, 40 in fourth game, beating former record of 39 by Giants and Cardinals.

3—Most home runs, one club, game, five, beating record of three shared by Yankees with Red Sox; also beats record of four by two clubs.

4—Most home runs, one club, one series, nine, beating record of eight by Washington in 1925.

5—Most home runs, one club, inning, two, in seventh and eighth innings of fourth game, equalling record of Giants and Washington.

6—Most total bases, one club, one

MORE than 200 members of the Traffic Club participated in the annual fall golf tournament of that organization, held yesterday at the Highland Country Club.

J. Ramsay turned in the low gross score, shooting a 76 from scratch in the Class A event. In the Class A low net even, J. F. Hennessy, general freight agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad of St. Louis, was the winner with a card of 83-13-70. A. J. Bessolo, traffic manager of the Standard Steel Car Company of Butler, won the prize in the Class B low gross event with an 87.

The prize for low net in Class B was won by M H. Jacobs, general freight agent Western Maryland Railroad, Pittsburgh. He turned in 94-24-70. C. A. Muse, traffic manager of the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke Company, Pittsburgh, finished in a tie with Jacobs, but lost in the playoff.

Low gross in Class C was won by Rodney Reese, Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, with a 92. W. R. Parker, Texas and Pacific Railroad, Pittsburgh, won the Class C low net event with 94—30-64. Don Stevens, general superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Cleveland, won the blind bogey prize.

George W. Cole, traffic manager of the Sandusky Portland Cement Company of Cleveland, was the winner of the putting contest with 29 putts.

M. C. Richards, traffic manager of the Spang-Chalfant Company of Pittsburgh, was the winner of the special prize. Eleven other prizes were awarded the various winners in the sweepstakes.

George W. White, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, was chairman of the entertainment committee, while P. J. Faulconer, Nickel Plate Railroad, headed the golf committee.

The National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, tourney will be brought to a close today, following almost a month of competition throughout the country. The results will not be known, however, until Col. Franklin Blackstone, chairman of the golf committee, has received all of the cards—including a set from the society in France. Mayor Kline turned in the first card for the Pittsburgh chapter. The Forsyth-Blackstone trophy, emblematic of the champion, is the coveted prize at stake.

The Bond Club of Pittsburgh had a wonderful tournament at the Rolling Rock Country Club, J. B. McCormick and W. E. Ballard taking the honors. McCormick's net 62 won for him the Bankers' Cup, which must be captured three times for permanent possession. Ballard had the low gross, an 86. A. R. Little won the play against par.

INDEPENDENT SEASON TO OPEN IN SHARON

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Independent football will be ushered in, Sunday, when the Flekas, of Youngstown, play the Sharpsville Merchants at the Five Points Athletic Park. The Merchants started their campaign with a 14-6 win over the Darage Brothers, one of the best in Akron. Merchants plan to book some of the strongest clubs in the district here. Keystone A. C. goes to Girard, O., and the Cardinals will play Penn State Motors.

KERSCH EASY WINNER

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Lew Kersch, New York lightweight, easily outpointed Jack Duffy of Toledo in a 10-round boxing contest here last night. Duffy was floored for a nine count in the ninth round.

Babe Kellar of Cleveland, 123, won from Ward Sparks of Terre Haute, Ind., in a 10-round semifinal.

Lutherans Tough Foe

By JESS CARVER.

CARNEGIE TECH could have scheduled an easier game for the Saturday before the tussle with Wash-Jeff than the one on the books for this week-end with Dr. T. V. Holleran's Thiel Lutherans. It is difficult to see any way for Thiel, outweighed almost to the man, to beat Tech, but it is not hard to figure the Lutherans giving the Plaid a tough afternoon.

Thiel was in Pittsburgh to open the season with Pitt, and instead of being crushed under a big score, held the Panthers almost even for the first half and then only lost out by a 20-0 score. Pitt wasn't hitting right in that game, but nevertheless, the brand of football displayed by the Thiel eleven was worthy of comment.

Thiel has an eleven good enough to give most any team a fight, one that plays clean, hard football, and the sort likely to put more than one bruise on an opponent. With Schnupp and Eyth already on the injured list certain to be out of Saturday's contest, Tech cannot afford to have any more of her warriors crippled. The Wash-Jeff game on the following Saturday won't permit such monkey business.

TO WATCH BERKMAN

The Tartan coaches are building a defense for Stan Berkman, Thiel's crack halfback. His passing against Pitt was admirable and came within one play of resulting in a touchdown. He didn't run the ball much against the Panthers, mainly because Coach Holleran wishes to save him for the Tri-State Conference games, which are more important to Thiel than either the Pitt or Tech frays. It isn't likely that he will do much ball toting Saturday, but he will direct the team, punt and toss the passes.

Last year, the Tartans beat Thiel 40 to 6, the Lutherans scoring when Mitchell picked up a fumble and scooted some 30 yards for a touchdown. With their aerial attack functioning smoothly, they may score again this year.

ALLEGHENY

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—A squad of 25 Allegheny College football players, headed by Coach Mel Merritt, leaves this afternoon on their trip into New England, where, at Hanover, N. H., Saturday, they are booked to meet Dartmouth's big Green for the second successive year.

The squad leaves behind two of its regulars, Quarterback McKay and Tackle Lyden, both of whom were injured in last week's victory over Westminster.

LAFAYETTE

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Lafayette will have no scrimmage this week in preparation for the George Washington contest on Saturday. Coach Herb McCracken yesterday afternoon passed up the usual midweek scrimmage in favor of a long shadow scrimmage, the players being on the field from 3 o'clock until dark.

Considerable time was devoted to punting and placement kicking, McCracken warning his placement kickers that the team can hardly expect to run up the huge scores of the first two games and stressing the fact that the single points after touchdown may mean defeat or victory in the harder games to come. Thompson and Guest both sent the ball spinning over the crossbar with few misses.

NOTRE DAME

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 11.—Still somewhat surprised and upset over the beating they took last Saturday at Wisconsin, the University of Notre Dame gridders are hard at work preparing for the big intersectional clash with the Navy eleven at Soldier Field, Chicago, Saturday.

The work of the Irish at Madison clearly proved that what Rockne has had to say about his team this year is largely correct. When he first came out with his statements to the effect that his club was in for a poor season, the skeptics laughed. But there wasn't any tittering after the game with Wisconsin, except that done by the delighted Big Ten enthusiasts. It was the first Big Ten victory over an Irish team in eight years, and the Conference followers were entitled to the happiness that Wisconsin's well-earned victory gave them.

WEST VIRGINIA

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Coach Rodgers tapered off the work of the West Virginia football squad very little yesterday afternoon when, to the surprise of everyone, he ordered another scrimmage. Before the rough work started the A and B elevens took turns at punting and running back punts, and some real action took place on the turf of the stadium field.

Ed Bartrug got off some fine boots, while Sleepy Glenn was not far behind in hoisting the ball far down the field. Rodgers made no attempt to select a varsity A or B eleven in the interference-forming drill, which occupied the greater part of the afternoon, and every member of the squad was given individual instruction in an effort to perfect interference for the ball toter.

Rodgers evidently intends to mix the accurate forward passes launched by Stumpp with a well-planned running attack in the Pitt game Saturday, and yesterday's drill emphasized the latter method of ground gaining.

PENN STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The Penn State team got only a light scrimmage for its portion yesterday. Coach Bezdick stressed the defensive side, giving the second team possession of the ball throughout the short scrimmage.

Struble, third string player, was promoted to the first team at end, filling a berth previously held by Delp, whose hip injury prevented him from doing any scrimmage work. French, Diedrich, Wolff and Hamas retained their places in the backfield.

LEHIGH

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP.) Coach Tate, of Lehigh, has made many changes in his football lineup. Nearly the entire first string line was sent to the second squad and the varsity backfield was rearranged. Then Coach Tate gave the men the hardest work so far this season in his effort to get a working combination for the Gettysburg contest.

The hard workout yesterday exacted a little toll in injuries and a few of the players will be unavailable for Saturday. Harris, with an infected arm, and Lattig, with an injured hip, are almost certain to be out of the Gettysburg tilt.

OHIO U.

ATHENS, O., Oct. 11.—Eleven lean and hungry Bobcats will invade the Lutheran jungle at Springfield Saturday when Ohio University grapples with Wittenberg College in its first Buckeye Conference game.

The Bobcats have not tasted of the spoils of victory from Wittenberg in two years, being crushed under a 28 to 0 score last year and by the Lutheran juggernauts and nosed out, 7 to 6, two years ago.

SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE, Oct. 11.—A Syracuse University football squad, which seems like the strongest Orange group of recent years, will hold a final scrimmage today for the Johns Hopkins game at Archbold Stadium Saturday afternoon.

It will mark the final of the early season games for Coach Lew Andreas' charges. In the ensuing three weeks the Orangemen will invade the home lairs of the Nebraska, Penn State and Pitt elevens.

ST. VINCENT'S

LATROBE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Harry Robb, former Penn State back, will be the referee of St. Vincent's College-Potomac State game here Saturday with Dr. Jack Stahl, former Pitt guard, as the umpire. From present indications Scrappy Milliron will start the game at center instead of Capt. O'Donnell, as the Greensburg boy has been playing splendidly.

MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 11—Michigan University's Wolverines are holding their practice sessions behind barred gates this week in preparation for the tilt Saturday with Indiana. It is said a wide variety of plays will be uncorked against the Hoosiers.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The University of Chicago varsity squad has been split into two groups for practice this week, with Heywood, Mendelhall, Raysson and Leyers in one backfield, and Smith, Van Nice, Libby and Knudson in the other. Capt. Saul Wieslow will not be able to play against Iowa Saturday because of a knee injury.

FORDHAM

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The second long and fiercely fought scrimmage of the week for the Fordham football team, in preparation for its clash with New York University at the Polo Grounds, Saturday, was featured by speed and more speed.

Adam Elcewicz and Joe Walsh, two former wingmen, played the halfback positions.

NAVY

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—The Navy football team looked rather impressive in a practice game against the strong second team yesterday afternoon, which marked the final hard drive for the game against Notre Dame to be staged in Chicago Saturday.

Today only light formations and signal drills will constitute the practice session. By nightfall, the squad, numbering 40 players, will be rolling toward Chicago.

HOLY CROSS

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 11—Police stood guard here yesterday while Holy Cross continued practice for Saturday's game with Rutgers, following reports that efforts were being made to steal the Crusaders signals. Even members of the student body were barred from the field.

YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 11.—(INS.)—Serious scrimmage will be held today for the Yale varsity. Absence of regulars yesterday with injuries and illness so curtailed the squad that scrimmage was impossible. Coach Stevens has not yet decided upon a line-up for the Georgia game on Saturday.

ARMY

WEST POINT N. Y., Oct. 11.—(INS.)—Scrimmage against scrub elevens using Providence College formations is ruling the Army practice for Saturday's game. The service team is in good shape.

MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 11—University of Minnesota plays are not showing up well this week in the varsity scrimmages against the freshmen. Coach Spears indicated yesterday he will shift Bronko Nagurski back to fullback for the Purdue game Saturday. Nagurski had been shifted to a line position because of his poor showing in last week's game.

HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 11—Harvard varsity barely escaped defeat at the hands of the strong, fast Crimson Freshman team in scrimmage yesterday. Harper, first-string fullback, and Gordon Douglas, varsity right end, probably will be kept out of Saturday's game with North Carolina by injuries.

CLEVELAND AMATEURS BOX LOCALS AT P. A. A.

The initial fistic offering of the season at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association is an inter-city boxing show between amateur teams from Cleveland and Pittsburgh to be staged Saturday night under the sponsorship of the Allegheny Mountain Association A. A. U. The Cleveland team includes Johnny Bender, Louis Desantis, Roger Shay, Wallace Hill, Eddie Roushkop, Sam Krosvard and Gus Svitak. The local team includes: Nat Litfin, Reggie Davis, Joe Orsino, A. Andrucci, Bill Ortleib, John Toth and C. A. Sable.

FRENCHMEN TOP U. S. STARS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—A French tennis combination, all Davis cup members, maintained their prowess against American players yesterday by capturing two out of three singles tilts and tieing in doubles play. Darkness ended the play before the doubles match was over.

The foreign combination included Henri Cochet, Christian Boussus and Pierre Landry. They battled W. F. (Junior) Coen of Kansas City, Wray Brown of St. Louis and Harris Coggshall, of Des Moines.

Cochet defeated Coen, 9-7, 8-7, 6-3, and Boussus won from Brown, 1-6, 8-6, 6-3, but Coggshall battled Landry to a standstill to win, 3-6, 6-1, 8-6. Coen and Brown paired against Cochet and Boussus won a set, 6-3, but lost another, 4-6.

Wray Brown was within a game of snatching victory from Boussus in straight sets, but let up momentarily with a 5 to 2 lead and allowed the Frenchman to win the set and continued on in the third to match victory.

cant games and watch them do their stuff.

Ruth and Gehrig, in particular, seem to rise to greatness when the fever is high, and Joe Dugan and one or two others might be included in this classification. It was difficult for anybody to try to keep from watching the antics of Babe and Lou; the two big fellows fought with a fury, their actions on the field leaving the impression that they were having the time of their lives. Columbia Lou, around first, kept up an almost steady chatter of advice to his infield mates and the pitcher, and Ruth was lively as a rookie in the outfield. These two are better than any three-ringed circus in that you can follow them better than the various acts of the sawdust circuit.

BABE'S duel with the left-field bleachers in the final game of the series was an unusual sidelight. On one occasion Waite Hoyt had to hold up the game for a brief space of time until Babe had stopped his delivery of some sort of a Philippic. It must have been good, for the rough-tough lads of this section received the speech with an ovation.

Ruth has just one more series to "go" to make it an even 10. He has been on the winning side of six of the autumn classics, and he appears to be improving with age. His display of all-around brilliance in the struggles just finished added much to his prestige. There is nobody even close to him in the point of appeal, although his traits may not be so heartily applauded by the men who have seen him knock hundreds of thousands of dollars out of their pockets through his knack of making the series as short as possible. But these same fellows realize that Babe is doing a big thing for the game, and down deep within themselves they doubtless wish to see him continue.

gate at Nashville and Gold and Black followers have high hopes of shaking off the Longhorn hoodoo.

The broken field flash, Frank Peake, of Virginia Poly's pony express, will be attempting to win another from Colgate. Last year the Blacksburg team win, 6 to 0. With a heavy line, plenty of good backs and versatility on every side, they have reason to foresee the changes of a second conquest.

Duke University, winner over South Dakota Saturday, will tangle with Boston College, conqueror of the Navy, tomorrow, in Boston. Jankoski, fullback, will be the power in the offense for the Blue Devils.

Little Hampden-Sidney, coached by Charlie Bernier, will have its Death Valley Tigers at Ithaca, N. Y. playing Cornell, and Centenary of Shreveport, La., will be invading the Southwest to meet Texas A. & M.

TO HONOR SWETONIC

The Young Men's Society of St. Gabriel's Church of the North Side will hold a dinner dance this evening at the school hall in honor of Steve Swetonic, one of their members who has just returned from Indianapolis, where he was a sensation with the A. A. baseball club and star of the little world series. Steve will be presented with a suitable gift by his buddies in recognition of his wonderful season on the diamond. Charles G. Hajduk, president of the Young Men's Society, will act as toastmaster.

TEMPLE TO DEDICATE NEW STADIUM SATURDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Plans for the dedication of the new $350,000 Temple University reveal that the ceremonies to precede the Western Maryland game, Saturday, have assumed importance as a function of civic interest.

Dr. Charles E. Beury, president of Temple, has extended personal invitations to Mayor Harry A. Mackey, members of his cabinet, all of the members of City Council, members of the State Legislature, and a group of leaders in the business industrial, educational, financial, and athletic world of Philadelphia.

The dedication ceremonies, as planned so far, will take place immediately before the blowing of the whistle for the opening play of the game, and will occupy about 15 minutes. It is expected that among the speakers will be Mayor Harry A. Mackay, Edwin R. Cox, President of City Council; Dr. George Walk, President of the Temple Athletic Council; and Charles G. Erny, donor of the stadium.

LOCAL BOYS MAY PLAY STAR ROLES FOR KISKI

Two Pittsburgh boys, William Sayenga and John D. Fife, are leading contenders for places on this year's Kiski football team. Sayenga probably will be used at an end position, while Fife, who received his early football training at Fifth Avenue High School, will play fullback.

The Kiski schedule this year includes games with Army Freshmen at West Point; the Navy Freshmen at Annapolis; Pitt Freshmen at Kiski; Carnegie Tech Freshmen at Kiski (whom Kiski defeated last Saturday by the score of 20 to 0); West Virginia Freshmen at Morgantown and W. & J. Freshmen at Washington.

TOLEDO, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Winnipeg, for which E. J. Baker, of St. Charles, Ill., paid $25,000 recently, set a new world's record for pacing geldings at the Fort Miami harness races yesterday in turning the mile against time in 1:58¾. The former record was 1:59¼.

A. L. OUTFIT BOWS, 5-1

The Homestead Grays puzzled the American League Barnstormers in their battle at Forbes Field yesterday, and as a result, the locals came out on the long end of a 5-1 score. McDonald, Gray hurling ace, was well nigh invincible.

Joe Harris, former Pirate star, played at first base for the American Leaguers, and chalked up 17 put outs. Earl Mack, manager of the club, says Hunnefield of the Chicago White Sox will join his team today for the game in Butler. He is seeking Waite Hoyt, Yankee hurler, for tomorrow's game at Forbes Field against the Grays. The score:

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SPORTS EDITOR

LOOKA BECAUSE HE DIDN'T SEE THE PUNCH?

They'd have ruled out Gibby Welch's 93-yard run for a touchdown from kickoff against Nebraska last year because it was a quick return.

THE ONLY HERO WOULD BE THAT LONG-COUNT REFEREE IN CHICAGO.

There's a great combination for you. The long-count referee and the quick-pitch umpire.

Neither one ever will be able to live down his Big Moment.

They're famous in their own way. But who wants to be that way?

SHED A TEAR FOR THE POOR PITCHING PROFESSION, WHICH USED TO BE A GOOD RACKET.

It used to be that all the kids breaking in wanted to pitch or they wouldn't play. Now they all want to be outfielders.

You can't blame 'em. First they took away the spitball, emery ball and all the other trick deliveries. Now they've put the throwers on a time table.

Like the shift play in football. You've got to come to a full stop before you go ahead again.

WON'T BE LONG NOW BEFORE WE'LL BE PLAYING CRICKET AND LIKING IT. THERE'S A SPORT THAT GIVES THE BATSMAN TIME OUT FOR TEA.

Poor Bill Sherdel! The only time he ever was early he was too late.

They'd changed the rules on him before he got there.

You can't tell some folks that Tunney won that Chicago fight.

And in St. Louis they'll always tell you the Babe got only two and not three home runs in the final game.

The series was another four-game bust. But it gave the world a grand alibi. You can blame anything on a fast pitch now.

BOY, BUT IT'S EASY TO FILL UP A COLUMN ABOUT SUCH A LITTLE THING.

FIGHT RESULTS

At New York—Kid Chocolate defeated Eddie O'Dowd, 10 rounds; George Hoffman knocked out Lester Tuttle, 2 rounds.

At Detroit—Lew Kersch defeated Jack Duffy, 10 rounds; Babe Keller defeated Ward Sparks, 10 rounds.

At Montreal—Al Foreman knocked out George Chabot, 4 rounds.

At Youngstown, O.—Joe Sekyra defeated Emmet Rocco, 10 rounds; Jack McTiernan, defeated Walter Dickerson, 6 rounds; Young Guido knocked out (technical) Jack McCarthy, 2 rounds; Chet Smallwood defeated Baden Powell, 4 rounds; Dominick Profio knocked out (technical) K. O. Thompson, 1 round.

U. S. MINISTER HONORED

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—United States Minister David E. Kaufman has been named honorary president of the Bolivian football federation, an honor which was held last year by President Siles.

Battle for Section Lead

SOUTH HILLS HIGH SCHOOL engages Oliver High's warriors of the gridiron in the most important of the week-end City High School League contests this afternoon on the North Side school's field, Brighton road. The teams are fighting for the supremacy of Section II, being tied with Perry High School in a three-cornered deadlock at the top of the ladder.

With one league triumph to the credit of each eleven, and no defeats, both teams are out to keep their record clean. According to the so-called dope, Oliver holds a slight advantage over South Hills, in that it whipped Carrick High School 18 to 0, while Mazeski's proteges had all they could do to gain a one-touchdown margin of victory over the same outfit.

Oliver found Steubenville a stubborn foe last Saturday, however, and lost; the defeat in no way affecting their league slate. Three regulars were put on the hospital list, however, and this may prove to be somewhat of a handicap today. Freeland, veteran pivot ace; Jehovics, stellar tackle, and Roney, halfback, may not play. Freeland and Jehovics suffered knee injuries which are likely to keep them out of today's lineup, or at least, will greatly impair their playing, while Roney, with a badly bruised shoulder, is not expected to take to the field.

Despite its crippled condition, Oliver is confident of giving South Hills stiff, fighting opposition. Both schools are under the direction of new coaches, Ray Peters at Oliver and E. J. Mazeski at South Hills, and the result of their handiwork is anticipated.

Donora High School has been booked by Wilkinsburg High School for Saturday to fill the open date caused by the cancellation of Westinghouse High School. The reason for the calling off of the game by the Silver Lakers has not, as yet, been fully determined. It may be that the schools will permanently discontinue relations. Saturday's Donora-Wilkinsburg contest will be played, of course, at Graham Field.

to the minors in 1927, but the Pirate management refused to waive and forced the Chicago club to keep him.

Last winter, when Sparky Adams was obtained from the Cubs in the deal for Hazen Cuyler, George Grantham was made available for first base instead of second, and as Manager Donie Bush had still another first sacker in Joe Harris, it was finally decided to waive on Sheely after holding him up for a year.

Earl Sheely.

LOUIS HEILBRONER, of Ft. Wayne, one of the real old timers of the majors, and who served in every capacity from office clerk to team manager, says he feels lonesome every time he scans the field of club officials in the big show. "Nearly all of the magnates of my days have passed out of the game," said Heilbroner, who was greeting old friends at the world series. "Of all the men who were connected with the various National League clubs in executive capacities when I broke in, only one is left. He is President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club. The latest of the others to drop out was Bill Shettsline, former secretary of the Phillies. In the American League the only prominent leaders still on the job who were there when the junior body became a major organization in 1900 are Connie Mack of the Athletics and Charley Comiskey of the White Sox."

THE VARSITY COLUMN

by JESS M. CARVER

IF ONE could be a dozen places at one time, it would be possible to see some fine football this Saturday. There will be a good game right here in Pittsburgh, the annual Pitt-West Virginia tussle in the Stadium. The Dukes invade Washington, Pa., for their important fracas with the Presidents. Geneva and Waynesburg open the Conference season at Waynesburg. Thiel returns to Pittsburgh for a game at Forbes Field with Tech. John Carrol of Cleveland will be in Grove City to meet the Crimson and Westminster will seek to succeed where the Grovers fail by tripping St. Francis at New Wilmington.

Outside the city, throughout the length and breadth of the land, big teams and little will swing into the third week of the grid campaign with "wim and wigor." In the Big Ten, Chicago and Iowa clash at Chicago; Michigan, beaten by Ohio Wesleyan, opposes Pat Page's tough Indiana eleven at Ann Arbor, and Purdue and Doc Spear's Minnesota machine clash at Minneapolis. Ohio State will get a test in the Northwestern game at Evanston.

COLGATE, laying in an additional $2,500 on the line to get Andy Gustafson's V. P. I. team back to Hamilton, faces the team that upset them last year in a game that the Colgate warriors will give their souls to win. Harvard takes on North Carolina at Cambridge. Penn State and Bucknell clash again at State College, with the Lions seeking revenge for the licking they took a year ago.

Chicago fans are expected to pay a lot of good money to see Notre Dame and the Navy clash at Soldiers' Field. The edge has been taken off this game somewhat by the defeats that both the Sailors and Irish have suffered. But service teams always draw a crowd, so it will be well to get there early if you're planning to see this tussle.

SOUTH CALIFORNIA meets the tough St. Mary's eleven at Los Angeles. Texas and Vanderbilt clash at Dallas and Tulane meets Georgia Tech at New Orleans. Yale and Georgia clash in their annual affair at New Haven. Georgia was the eleven that spoiled the Eli's perfect record a year ago and gave them no better than a tie with Pitt for Eastern intercollegiate football honors. Princeton, impressive victors in the opening game, has a stubborn opponent on the books in Virginia. This game is scheduled for the Tigers' lair at Princeton.

If, you are interested in Pat Herron's team, you can watch for the Washington and Lee-Kentucky score Saturday night. Lafayette, coached by Herbie McCracken, and heading the Eastern scoring column at present, has another warmup game in George Washington. Holy Cross and Rutgers meet at Newark. The Haskell Indians, beaten by West Virginia last week, will likely take another one on the chin when they face Loyola of Chicago, the team that gave Notre Dame a 12-6 fight in the Irish opening game. California's Golden Bears meet Washington State at Berkley.

AND Tempe faces Gila at Tempe. This Gila is no relation to the famous Gila Monster. A Gila Monster is a referee who calls a subguard of a team taking a 75-0 lacing for being offside in the last quarter.

Ruth's Lifetime Record Lifted To .324

St. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The record-smashing Mr. Ruth, among other things, lifted his lifetime world series batting mark 49 points to a modest .324 by his performance of 10 hits out of 16 official trips to the plate in the four 1928 games. This made five series of .300 or better for the Babe, four of them in succession. He played a leading part in depriving Frank Frisch of having a final chance at running up five successive .300-or-better campaigns.

The Fordham flash would have made the grade with a hit in the ninth when Ruth picked the St. Louis star's foul drive out of the left field boxes on the run with one hand.

Ruth all-series record follows:

U. S. WOMEN SENIOR GOLFERS IN VICTORY

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The United States team of women senior golfers triumphed in the first international match with the players from Canada, 35 to 4, over the Westchester-Biltmore course yesterday.

In the 13 matches, all except three of the United States representatives won all three points of their individual matches. The following players all won three points: Mrs. F. E. Dubois, U. S. senior titleholder; Miss Georgiana Bishop, of Brooklawn; Mrs. Ronald Barlow, Merion, Pa.; Mrs. G. W. Roope, former U. S. senior champion; Mrs. S. S. Laird, Jr., of Westchester-Biltmore; Mrs. S. E. Bentley, Brae Burn; Mrs. Chas. Downey, Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. J. C. Barclay, Hackensack; Mrs. E. W. Stifel, Wheeling, W. Va., and Mrs. M. D. Patterson, Westchester-Biltmore.

EMMET ROCCO BEATEN; M'TIERNAN IS VICTOR

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Joe Sekyra, Dayton light-heavyweight, decisively outpointed Emmet Rocco of Ellwood City, Pa., in a fast 10-round bout last night. Seykra carried the fight throughout with his jolting left jab.

Jack McTiernan, Pittsburgh welterweight, won from Walter Dickerson of California, Pa., in six rounds. Young Guido of Farrell, Pa., scored a technical knockout over Jack McCarthy of Pittsburgh in the second round of their bout. Dominick Profio, of Pittsburgh, technically knocked out K. O. Thompson of Akron in the first round.

Chet Smallwood, Terre Haute, Ind., featherweight, outpointed Baden Powell of Wales in four rounds.

ETNA HIGH TO HOLD BIG BOOSTER MEETING

A meeting for men and women to boost athletic activities of Etna High School will be held tomorrow evening in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. J. D. McIntyre, attorney, who coached Etna's first football squad; L. A. Donaldson, of Etna; Harry Keck and Tom Birks, of the sports staff of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, will be among the speakers. Entertainers will include the Red Arrow quartet, Etna High School orchestra and Albert Berg, Jr., banjo player and singer.

Roy S. Morton, burgess of Etna, is general chairman of the committee and Kenneth C. Wickline, secretary. Other members of the committee are William Dando, Alex Andres, Michael Halleran and Lawrdnce Bock.

Etna High School has 400 students enrolled and 45 players on its squad.

TIGER BOOTERS LOSE

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 10.—(AP.)—Princeton's soccer team lost its first game since 1926 yesterday, when Swarthmore overcame the Tiger booters, 2 to 1, in an overtime game. Each team scored once in the second half and Ruddy, of Swarthmore, kicked the winning goal in the first extra period. Graham, of Princeton, and Lecron, of Swarthmore, were responsible for the other goals.

FALCON CARDED IN WEST PENN HUNT RACE

Through a reciprocal arrangement with the Genesee Valley Hunt, near Buffalo, Falcon, a brown gelding owned by Paul F. Paine, will represent the Hunt at the Western Pennsylvania Hunt race meeting tomorrow at Huntlands, the George R. McNary farm in the New Alexandria road, near Greensburg. In the Westmoreland Cup race for horses other than registered thoroughbreds, Falcon will compete with Bacardi Boy, owned by William Bacon Schiller, Jr., and to be ridden by John Jackson Bissell; H. G. Lytle's Jingo, Richard W. Robbins' Scepter and Richard Egan's Night Hawk, which will be ridden by James C. Hamilton. November 3, when the Genesee Hunt has its race meeting at the Wadsworth estate, the winner of the Westmoreland Cup will represent the local hunts.

The big event tomorrow afternoon will be the race for the Western Pennsylvania Challenge Cup, over a three-mile stretch of natural hunting country. The cup must be won three times for permanent possession and is now the property of Mrs. George R. McNary, through her horse, Red Fire. Competing with Red Fire this year will be R. H. MacDonald's Lucky Strike, from the Rolling Rock Hunt; J. W. Lawrence's Red Rambler, James C. Hamilton's Dramsul and Merry Widow, and H. K. Binns' Santley, to be ridden by George L. McCook.

The races are held with the sanction of the hunt committee of the National Steeple Chase and Hunt Association. In addition to those above, the program will include two races for farmers, each at a half mile on the flat, the horses to be ridden by bona fide Westmoreland county farmers or their sons. A halter for each and money prizes are to be won.

George R. McNary heads the committee, and John W. Lawrence is secretary. The members are Malcolm McGiffin, Richard K. Mellon, James C. Hamilton, Torrence Miller, George Paull, H. N. VanVoorhis, James M. Bovard, Henry C. Bughman, Jr., Henry W. Coulter, John O. Burgwin, L. W. Robinson, Jr., and A. C. Martin.

Serving as stewards will be Richard B. Mellon, Joseph D. Wentling, H. N. Van Voorhis and Charles Lynch. John C. Stewart will be clerk of scales, and James M. Bovard clerk of courts. Mortimer C. Miller will be timer; Harry F. Bovard, starter, and Charles F. Colbert, Jr., assistant starter. Arthur C. Martin and H. C. Bughman, Jr., will be patrol judges.

RENE LaCOSTE IN U. S. ON BUSINESS TRIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Rene LaCoste, ranked with his countryman, Henri Cochet, at the head of the world amateur players, arrived here from France yesterday on a business trip.

His visit to the United States is in the interests of a foreign automobile company of which his father is president.

He intends to be in New York for most of the two months, although a trip to Detroit to look over motor manufacturing plants there is tentatively on the program.

RACING LOSES POPULARITY

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—(INS.)—Racing in Ontario is slowly losing its popularity, according to the provincial secretary, whose report shows total wagers placed in machines this year to be $26,960,000, a loss of $3,470,000.

U. S. Golfers May Play in Germany

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Three golf champions, Johnny Farrell, open titleholder; Leo Diegel, new king of the professionals, and Walter Hagen, British open winner, conferred yesterday with Hans Samek, Berlin clothing manufacturer and golf booster, over details of a trip by the members of the American Ryder Cup team to Berlin next year to play in the German open tournament.

The three were heartily in favor of accepting the invitation and the trip to Germany virtually is assured. The dates of the German open will be fixed accordingly, either for the last Saturday and Sunday of April or for May 15 and 17, which would be after the British open and the Anglo-American Ryder cup matches.

Herr Samek, a member of the Berlin Golf Club and a former amateur champion of Germany, said he intends to invite the American Walker cup team of amateur golfers to play in Germany when they go to England in 1930.

FAIRMONT WEST LEADS VALLEY

WESTON, W. Va., Oct. 11.—By defeating Washington Irving, 46 to 7, the worst licking they have taken in five years, Fairmont West High placed itself in the limelight among high school teams of the Monongahela Valley. The Fairmont team now looks like probable champions of the Valley, and only two teams are able to contest their right so far, these being Elkins and Shinnston.

The Shinnston team seemed to be the strongest of the Valley last week, but Fairmont won from Washington Irving by three more touchdowns than they. Elkins showed potential strength by defeating Charleston High at Charleston, 22 to 6. Last year Elkins was one of the two best teams of the section and look like repeaters.

East Side Fairmont was eliminated from the scramble by Buckhannon, which team defeated them, 18 to 6. The Buckhannon team takes its place with the leaders by this victory. Opening their season with a defeat at the hands of Fairmont West, the Buckhannon boys looked none too good, but since then they have defeated Philippi and Fairmont East. West Side's big victorys also reflect credit on Buckhannon and on Weston, who held them to their lowest score of the season, 12 to 0.

Morgantown experienced more difficulty during the week, defeating Mannington by a touchdown. They led the Valley last year. Mannington is slowly coming to a better position under the coaching of Farley Bell.

TO HOLD CARD PARTY

The F. F. Dengler baseball team will hold a card party tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph Hall, Ormsby avenue, Mt. Oliver. A large selection of beautiful prizes will be given, including a wonderful door prize.

The TWENTIETH CENTURY MOLOCH

Moloch was a fire god. Ages ago parents cast their children into his lap—hoping thus to gain the favor of this deity.

Inhuman! Ghastly! But no more so than today's mad sacrifice to fire—that carries not even the hope of reward the pagans had. About half a billion dollars a year direct loss; a yearly toll of 15,000 lives to make the record gruesome. The Presidential proclamation preceding is sufficient evidence of the seriousness of the country's avoidable fire waste.

The solution to this problem is a community matter. More than six hundred cities and towns have committees on fire prevention and control. These function effectively all year.

Stimulated by the President's proclamation, thousands of communities, through civic bodies, business organizations, schools and other means, observe Fire Prevention Week.

In support of such movements the Stock Fire Insurance companies, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and affiliated organizations, have long maintained staffs of engineers and experts in fire prevention. These facilities are offered free to any community, that the spirit of Fire Prevention Week may be further promoted year by year.

Public cooperation with the Stock Fire Insurance companies has already effected a reduction in the annual fire waste, and continuous reductions in the cost of fire insurance for practically twenty years.

The 224 Stock Fire Insurance companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters invite the cooperation of each community in a careful study of its needs in the prevention and control of fire. They offer free the staff of engineers, the Arson Bureau, and other facilities. Information on this subject will be gladly furnished by

ROUND TABLE of BUSINESS

Radio Corporation in Movie Industry May Mean Wireless Movies in Home. Small Loan Business Recognized.

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE Radio Corporation has entered the amusement field. Its purchase of an interest in Keith-Albee-Orpheum and F. B. O. Pictures Corporation has the immediate advantage of giving radio a market for its new "talkie" device, but a glance into future years may indicate a greater significance.

IT MAY be an impossible dream but more miraculous things have come to pass. The development of radio, sound pictures and now television may mean that we shall see many of our movies in our own homes in the future.

Television is still very crude so that many years may pass before the Radio Corporation can send motion pictures through the air. One great stumbling block may be the cost of such productions. Advertisers have carried sound broadcasting. It is still a question, however, whether they can support picture broadcasting.

WESTERN ELECTRIC with its Movietone and Vitaphone has arranged for production and distribution of sound pictures with all of the other important amusement companies so that the present step by Radio was necessary.

LEADERSHIP in the motion picture field has been narrowed to five groups of producers. Paramount and Loew have been the strongest in the industry for years. Fox film has been a close rival through the acquisition of chains of new theaters. Warner has also established its position firmly by its control of the Vitaphone Corporation, the Stanley Company of America and First National Pictures. Keith and F. B. O., the last in the group, will be placed in an improved competitive situation by the backing of the Radio Corporation.

SOUND movies are no longer an experiment or a mere novelty. They are an established fact in the amusement industry. Reproducing equipment is a necessity in practically all of the large motion picture houses.

PRODUCERS are still using caution where the actual use of actors' voices is concerned. The technical staffs and the performers have much to learn about the new art.

CONSERVATIVE investment bankers are finding that the financing of salaried workers is as safe and deserving of their attention as are governments and large corporations. Lee, Higginson & Company have underwritten an issue of stock for the Household Finance Corporation. It is one of the largest companies engaged in making small loans.

"THE company as a result has announced a reduction of almost one-third in interest charges on small loans, in the 68 communities in which it operates," says the Russell Sage Foundation.

"THIS represents more than a money saving for necessitous borrowers without bank credit. It typifies the best and most direct blow at the loan shark problem that decent business can deal.

"THE Uniform Small Loan Law has made this announced reduction possible. This law, regulating small money lending in 24 states, permits 3½ per cent per month charges on unpaid balances. It has also allowed free competition and economic law to establish the going rates on small loans instead of leaving these to the decision of the sub-criminal loan shark group. There will be no need to reduce this legal rate, which is necessary for marginal companies, single units which are locally financed, and companies doing business in small towns where economies of mass production cannot be achieved.

"IN THE remaining 24 states, the loan shark is still the most wasteful viciousness that society tolerates. These states are in urgent need of small loan legislation, similar to the Uniform Small Loan Law, which will afford a rate sufficient to let decent capital and decent business come in and do battle with the loan shark in his own bailiwick.

"THE present New York personal loan law, for example, as the Ottinger committee report pointed out, does not authorize a rate sufficient to attract capital, and as a result thousands of families were driven to the money and credit bootleggers."

NEWS AND VIEWS

Market Movements Confused.

Confused price movements in many sections of the market imparted a nervous tone to the session today, despite the fact the general trend was upward and key industrial issues were forcing their way higher in numerous instances. The erratic movement of quotations was partly due to the impending holiday tomorrow. Traders on both the long and short side of the market were evening up their accounts for the suspension, and many of the important operators were said to be adjusting their lines in anticipation of remaining away over the week-end. Money conditions were comfortable. Call loans were in large supply and the withdrawal of some loans early in the day failed to prevent a drop in the call rate from the 6½ per cent opening to a 6 per cent rate for later borrowings. Shakeouts were engineered in a few of the recent speculative favorites, but these declines had little or no effect on the quotations of prices in other stocks in which the bull movements were maintained. Hudson Motors was forced down sharply and stop-loss orders wiped out, although there has been nothing to indicate that the powerful pool said to be operating in the stock has changed its general position.

Treasury 4¾ Subscriptions.

Subscriptions to the October 15 Treasury issue of $200,000,000 4¾ per cent certificates totaled $838,700,000, it was announced today by Secretary Mellon. The Secretary did not consider this a great oversubscription. Secretary Mellon said there was no significance to the 4¾ per cent rate placed on the certificates. It did not mean, he said, that the present money conditions were anticipated for some time to come. Neither did it mean that he meant to encourage high money rates, he said.

Gas Consumption Heavy.

The generally fine weather prevailing throughout the country for this time of the year is increasing the demand for gasoline and reports from oil trade centers are that the gasoline market is showing an unusually strong undertone for this season of the year. September was an exceptionally cool month with considerable rain, with the result that the demand for gasoline was somewhat less than was anticipated. Provided weather conditions continue favorable throughout the rest of the month, indications are that consumption will compare favorably with any of the summer months. Usually September is the last month of the year for heavy gasoline consumption.

American Beet Sugar.

American Beet Sugar Company net income of $342,564 for the four months to July 31 was equal to $6.85 on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, on which arrears totaled 14 per cent on July 1. Allowing for only regular preferred dividends for the period the balance was equal to 90 cents on 250,000 common shares.

Reading's Rail Order.

Directors of the Reading Company have authorized purchase of 30,000 tons of steel rails for 1929 delivery.

Steel Price Average Up.

Dow, Jones & Co. average price of eight important iron and steel products, based on Iron Age quotations, advanced to a new high for the year at 49.71 a gross ton, Pittsburgh, in the week ended October 10. This compares with 49.55 in the preceding week, the previous high for the year. The advance was due to a rise of 25 cents a ton in Bessemer iron and a rise of $1 a ton in open-hearth billets, Pittsburgh.

Copper Market Quiet.

The exceptional demand for lead and copper which has dominated the metal markets in recent weeks has subsided. Engineering and Mining Journal announces. Sales of copper were little more than 50 per cent of normal. Zinc experienced one of the slowest sales periods of the year. Tin also was quiet.

Lake Erie Ore Shipments.

Iron ore shipments from Lake Erie ports to interior furnaces for the first nine months of 1928 totaled 19,480,038 tons, against 21,556,077 tons in same period last year. Receipts at port of Toledo were 27,341,510 tons for the period, against 29,792,366 tons in the same period last year.

Wyoming Oil Curtailment.

Operators in the new Oregon Basin oil field, north-central Wyoming, are endeavoring to work out an agreement to curtail drilling and pro-rate runs, but so far have been unable to harmonize differences. Several small refineries in Montana and Canada look to the field for their crude supply, while Continental Oil Company, Producers and Refiners Corporation, Ohio Oil Company and others, are desirous of holding down production because of the prevailing low crude price. Some contracts have been made as low as 53 cents a barrel. In spite of the tendency to restrict drilling to minimum requirements and shutting in of several wells the field is running 4,500 barrels daily and has the largest shipments of any Wyoming field outside of Salt Creek.

Air Reduction Company.

Statement of Air Reduction Company, Inc., reported to New York Stock Exchange for six months ended June 30, 1928, shows net income of $1,378,305 after depreciation, amortization, interest and federal taxes, equivalent to $2.04 a share earned on 676,203 no-par shares of stock.

Steel Record Seen.

Production of raw steel in this country, it is now practically certain, will exceed 50,000,000 tons this year for the first time in the history of the trade. Previous high output was in 1927 with a total of 48,293,763 tons, of which 46,936,205 consisted of ingots and 1,357,558 tons of castings. September output of ingots was 4,147,583 tons and the nine months showed 36,930,520 tons. Allowing for a daily average in October the same as in September, 158,903 tons, the current month with 27 working days will show a production of 4,480,000 tons, bringing the 10 months' figure to 41,400,000 tons in round figures. And indications are that the daily October rate will exceed that of September. In fact October output may equal the March, 1927, record of 4,535,272 tons.

United States Steel.

Increase of 74,325 tons in unfilled orders of United States Steel was quite a surprise, because many had been predicting a falling off. Operations were active in September, averaging around 80 per cent, so that it was the natural deduction that shipments would exceed incoming business. The gain, therefore, is interpreted to indicate that new orders were larger than most interests realized. Conditions in the steel industry are decidely favorable and this has brought some excellent buying into Steel common. Report for the quarter ended September 30, last, to be made public after close of business on October 30, should record an increase in earnings over the second quarter of the year. The outlook for the steel industry and for the Steel Corporation is particularly bright.

National Dairy Products.

National Dairy Products Corporation has declared a stock dividend of 4 per cent payable in four quarterly instalments next year, and will continue the present annual $3 rate. Company's action gives stockholders a larger share of the steadily growing earnings of the company and at the same time conserves cash to be used in the continued expansion of the company. National is rounding out its position in the industry by purchase of other smaller dairy companies as favorable opportunities present themselves, and it is the intention of the management to continue this course next year. Declaration of an annual dividend in stock is amply justified since it represents a capitalization of the enlarged earning power that has been developed and the substantial sums that have been returned to the property. It is therefore in no sense a dilution of the equities.

Phillips Petroleum.

Daily natural gas production of Phillips Petroleum Company should reach approximately 675,000 gallons by December 31, as the result of a new plant and additions to existing gasoline plants, according to Frank Phillips, president. The additional well-pressure units being added to three plants in the Texas Panhandle area, designed to handle gas formerly wasted because of low gasoline content, are expected to add at least 25,000 gallons daily to regular production, while the new plant under construction in Crane-Upton county pool, will have capacity of 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and will produce approximately 75,000 gallons of gasoline a day.

Venezuela Fraud Spiked.

A temporary injunction restraining the activities of Venezuela Speculators, Inc., operating a land and oil concessions selling business, was obtained yesterday by Attorney General Ottinger, of New York, to whom complaints against the company had been made by the Better Business Bureau. The Attorney General's papers in the proceeding asserted that the company's claims to ownership of habitable lands holding possibilities of oil in Venezuela were "false and fraudulent." The company was incorporated last February.

Heavy Steel Prices Up.

Steel producers in the Pittsburgh district are refusing new spot orders for bars, plates and shapes at less than 2 cents. This represents a further advance of $2 a ton. Contracting for the fourth quarter is practically complete. Specifications for delivery continue heavy. Ingot production is at 87 per cent of capacity.

C. I. Pipe Stock Adjustment.

The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company stockholders will meet October 22 to vote on the retirement on October 31 of the 120,000 shares ($100 par value), non-cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock at par and accrued dividends, and increasing the number of common shares to 600,000 of $20 par from 120,000 of $100 par, the old common to be exchanged for new on a five-for-one basis. Preferred holders may exchange their stock for new no-par $1.20 dividend first and second preferred in the ratio of one share of present preferred for five new first preferred and one and one-half shares new second preferred.

STOCKS AGAIN GO UP AFTER REACTING

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—Speculation for the advance in today's market was interrupted by a sharp reaction in the motor and tobacco shares, several of which broke 3 to 6½ points, but buying support was quickly supplied, and the market headed upward again by early afternoon. Lowering of the call money rate from 6½ to 6 per cent stimulated the recovery.

There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. Most of the day's earnings reports were favorable, the only conspicuous exception being that of the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company, which showed only $1.52 a share in the first six months, as against more than $3 in the same period of last year.

The midday selling movement was most effective against Hudson Motors, which broke 6½ points to 88½, but quickly snapped back to 91½. Chrysler fell 3 points, but regained its loss. United Cigar Stores was hammered down 5¼ points, dragging other tobacco issues with it. Warner Bros., issues and Wright Aeronautical also were conspicuously heavy.

Montgomery Ward led the afternoon rally by soaring more than 7 points to a new high record at 279⅞. International Harvester jumped 10 points to a new peak at 310¼. New 1928 highs also were registered by General Ice Cream, Park & Tilford, American Zinc preferred, Federal Mining and Smelting and American Linseed preferred, the gains ranging from 4 to 5½ points.

Steel shares were in brisk demand in reflection of the large increase in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation, and reports of a high rate of operations. United States Steel common advanced more than 3 points to a new high at 162, and Republic sold 3 points above yesterday's closing price.

In the railroad group, "Nickel Plate" common dipped to 121¼, duplicating the year's low.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 24 to 31 points on covering with trade and commission house buying inspired by relatively steady cables and apprehensions of frost in the cotton belt over the week-end. December sold up to 19.30c and March to 19.13c on the initial buying movement, or about 35 to 40 points above yesterday's closing quotations, but Southern offerings again increased above the 19-cent level, while there was considerable realizing for over the holiday tomorrow. This was sufficient to check the upturn and to cause reactions of 7 points, but the market showed a steady tone at the end of the first half hour. Private cables reported fair trade calling with continental and Bombay buying in Liverpool on the fear of a possible cold wave in the South.

The buying movement tapered off on the early advance to 19.30c for December and the market was less active later in the morning, with prices reacting under some southern selling and realizing. December sold back to 19.15c but the market was steady at 19.19c for that delivery at midday with the general market showing net advances of about 20 to 28 points.

SHARES MOVE FORWARD AS POOL RAISES BIDS

The speculative movement in Carnegie Metals, forecast by the recent firming up in the price of the shares, gained a little speed today when the shares were bid up sharply at the opening of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange.

Several hundred shares of Carnegie were snapped up on a rise of more than a point in the first hour's dealings. The flurry petered out, however, after the first flush of buying had carried the price to 22½. This figure brought out moderate offerings which caused fractional recession after which it quieted down and held steady around that figure for some time. Gossip in the Street is that the pool which has been working in Carnegie on and off for the past year or more is again concentrating on the stock and there is talk of a new high for the issue on this movement. The former top was around 27. Betterment in the mining and metal industry makes the present a propitious time for a demonstration in Carnegie and there is also the factor of the company's ownership of a mining property adjacent to the Greene Cananea Copper Company's property in Mexico on which that concern made a valuable ore strike several months ago.

There was little activity in the fuel issues during the early session but prices in that section held firm around the previous closing levels.

OF INTEREST TO WAR VETERANS

UNDER a recent Federal Law you can give to your share of the $3,226,000,000 of government insurance the protection of a trust agreement.

What does this mean? Simply this:

You make your insurance payable to us as your trustee.

If you wish, you can combine any other insurance with your government policy into a single Trust Fund.

We will collect the insurance, invest the money wisely and pay out the income to those whom you name. The strongest feature of this plan is that you can also empower us to pay out parts of the principal to meet unexpected family emergencies.

Business men have been following this plan for years. Now along comes Uncle Sam and says you can apply the plan to your government policy.

Let us give you the full details of this service. Ask for our trust officer.

When Cash Is Needed

WHEN you purchase life insurance you have in mind that your heirs will be promptly provided with cash at your death.

If you mislay your policies or make them subject to delays incident to the settlement of your estate, you defeat this laudable purpose.

Some of our customers have adopted the wise course of renting separate life insurance boxes in our Safe Deposit Vaults and placing the keys in the possession of those who will benefit from the insurance.

This plan removes all possibility of delay in providing beneficiaries with the proceeds of your policies.

Boxes $5 per year and up.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY
Pittsburgh, Pa., October 11, 1928.
SEPARATE AND SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the City Controller, first floor, City-County Building, until 10 o'clock a. m., October 18, 1928, and will be publicly opened and read one-half hour later in the City Council Chamber, for 1—Construction and erection of the prison work in the new combination Engine House and Police Station Building at Broad street and North Euclid avenue.
2—Construction and erection of two Passenger Elevators in the new combination Engine House and Police Station Building at Broad street and North Euclid avenue.
3—For the furnishing and installing a new heating boiler in No. 30 Engine House, First avenue, near Smithfield street.
Specifications, plans and blank proposals can be obtained at the City Architect's office, North Side Municipal Building, Ohio and Federal streets. Contractors will be required to leave a deposit of $2 for each set of plans and specifications, which money will be refunded upon the return of same to the City Architect's office.
Each proposal must be accompanied by a bond in the sum of 50 per cent of the estimated cost of the work, with two sureties, freeholders in Allegheny county, executed before the City Clerk, or the bond of such security company which has complied with the City Ordinance with reference to furnishing bonds for contracts. Bidders attention is directed to a provision of the contract requiring a separate bond indemnifying labor and material liability which shall be given by the successful bidder when contract is executed.
The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Safety reserve the right to reject any or all bids submitted or accept any proposal if they deem it to be for the interest of the City of Pittsburgh.
CHARLES H. KLINE, Mayor.
JAMES M. CLARK, Director.

NO. 589.
AN ORDINANCE—To amend Section 3 of an Ordinance approved November 25, 1892, entitled "An Ordinance—Relating to the entry upon, over or under, and the use and occupation of any street, lane or alley, or any part thereof within the City of Pittsburgh, by electric light, electric power, telegraph, telephone or other electric companies or individuals engaged therein for the purpose of constructing or building underground systems for wires, cables, devices and apparatus for the furnishing of electricity for the purpose of electric light, electric power, telegraph, telephone or other electric services, in cases where the same is substituted for the overhead system in compliance with an Ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh," by adding thereto coil pot vaults as proper structures; permitting the placing of structures and facilities under sidewalks; and designating the depths and locations of underground structures.
SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Section 3 of said Ordinance "An Ordinance—Relating to the entry upon, over or under, and the use and occupation of any street, lane or alley, or any part thereof within the City of Pittsburgh, by electric light, electric power, telegraph, telephone, or other electric companies or individuals engaged therein for the purpose of constructing or building underground systems for wires, cables, devices and apparatus for the furnishing of electricity for the purpose of electric light, electric power, telegraph, telephone or other electric service, in cases where the same is substituted for the overhead system in compliance with an Ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh," which reads:
"Section 3. All wires, cables, conduits, tubes, subways or other parts of any underground system constructed by any such corporation, copartnership or individual, under the surface of any street, lane, alley or highway, shall be placed not less than two feet beneath the surface of the roadway of such street, lane, alley or highway, and as near to the curb line thereof as may be practical, and in no event and under no circumstances shall more than two squares of any street, lane, alley or high way be open, or the pavement thereof be disturbed at any time for the construction or repair of and underground system; and any corporation, co-partnership or individual which shall remove, take up, displace or disturb the pavement of any street, lane, alley or highway, shall promtly replace or renew the same in good first-class order and condition under the supervision and direction of and subject to the control and approval of the Chief of the Department of Public Works" and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:
"SECTION 3. All wires, cables, conduits, tubes, transformer vaults, coil pot vaults, subways, or other parts of any underground system of any such corporation, company or individual upon any of the streets, sidewalks or highways, shall be placed not less than two (2) feet beneath the surface thereof; provided, however, that if such structures would extend below a maximum depth of three (3) feet six (6) inches, they shall be placed not less than four (4) feet beneath the surface; and provided further that transformer vaults and coil pot vaults, when placed beneath the surface of sidewalks need not be more than six (6) inches beneath the surface. Underground wires, cables, conduits and tubes, other than in transformer or coil pot vaults, shall be placed as near to one of the curblines as may be practicable in the construction, installation, maintenance or repair of any such underground facilities, not more than two squares of any street, sidewalk or highway shall be open or the pavement thereof be disturbed at any time. When such corporation, company or individual shall remove, take up, displace or disturb any portion of the pavement of any street, sidewalk or highway, they shall promptly replace or renew the said portion in first-class order and condition. All work in installation of underground facilities shall be done under the supervision and direction, and subject to the control and approval of the Director of the Department of Public Works."
SECTION 2. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

NO. 597.
AN ORDINANCE — Authorizing and directing the grading to a width of 32 feet, paving and curbing of Oakhill Street, from Shadeland Avenue to Unnamed Way 773 feet, more or less, westwardly therefrom, letting a contract therefor, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses of the same be assessed and collected from property specially benefitted thereby.
WHEREAS—It appears by the petition and affidavit on file in the office of the City Clerk that a majority of property owners in interest and number abutting upon the line of Oakhill Street, from Shadeland Avenue to Unnamed Way, 773 feet, more or less, westwardly therefrom, have petitioned the Council of the City of Pittsburgh to enact an ordinance for the grading to a width of 32 feet, paving and curbing of the same. Therefore SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That Oakhill Street, from Shadeland Avenue to Unnamed Way, 773 feet, more or less, westwardly therefrom, be graded to a width of 32 feet, paved and curbed.
SECTION 2. The Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to advertise, in accordance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Ordinances of the said City of Pittsburgh, relating thereto and regulating the same, for proposals for the grading to a width of 32 feet, paving and curbing of said street between said points; the contract or contracts therefor to be let in the manner directed by the said Acts of Assembly and Ordinances; and the contract price or contract prices, if let in separate contracts, not to exceed the total sum of Sixteen Thousand Five Hundred ($16,500.00) Dollars, which is the estimate of the whole cost as furnished by the Department of Public Works.
SECTION 3. The costs, damages and expenses of the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties specially benefitted thereby, in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same, and the City's share of said work be chargeable to and payable from Code Account No. .... People's Bond Issue 1928.
SECTION 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.
Passed in Council, Oct. 1, 1928.
Approved Oct. 5, 1928.
CHARLES H. KLINE, Mayor.

Council Looking Into Our 25-Cent Bus Fare

The bus-riding public may yet get relief from the excessive fare charged by the Pittsburgh Railways Company on its busses operated by the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company. Council, in committee, has taken up the matter of having the law department prepare for tentative consideration of Council, as a legislative body, an ordinance which would give the city some power in the matter of rates that it does not now possess.

It appears that this had been discussed in Council two years ago in considering the ordinance establishing the Traction Conference Board. The chairman of this board, Charles A. Finley, now says it has nothing to do with bus fare regulation.

It is evident that circumstances have been quite favorable for the establishment of the Pittsburgh Railways Company's motor coach business in Pittsburgh. The ability to put into effect and maintain a rate of fare two and a half times as great as that charged for similar service in other cities indicates a situation which other corporations among the Byllesby interests must regard with envy.

What Council may be able to do about a situation it has permitted to get out of its hands is a matter the future must develop, but it should make every effort to correct a wrong that may prove much more serious than it is at present, if bus lines continue to grow.

It seems that voluntary reduction of fares cannot be expected from the Pittsburgh Railways Company, part of a vast combine of public utilities, the policy of which appears to be to get what it can and hold what it gets. Ten-cent bus fares pay a good profit in other cities and there is no reason for thinking that rate would not be a paying one here, with the business properly developed.

Even before the Pittsburgh Railways Company went into the bus business here, it had, no farther distant than Jamestown, N. Y., the example of a street railway company operating bus lines separately and as feeders to its rail lines, the fare being the same on both, with transfers from one to another. The busses were not "luxurious," but they were adequate, clean and serviceable.

Pittsburgh people do not want the Railways Company to haul them either in their cars or their busses at a rate that would be unprofitable, which, of course, would be disastrous to the public in the end, but it does want a square deal. That policy is supposed to be the modern attitude of public service corporations, but evidently it is considered of no value by the Byllesby interests in Pittsburgh. At least it has not been made evident in the matter of bus fares.

In that matter the attitude appears to be "our charge is a quarter no matter what it be elsewhere. The public service comission gave us the right to charge it. Council did not, and does not, dispute our right to charge it. The Traction Conference Board has nothing to say about it. What are you going to do about it?"

AFTER A 10,000-MILE RIDE.

Here you see Senor Aime Felix Tschiffely arriving in Washington on horseback after riding from Buenos Aires, 10,000 miles away, on the other side of the Equator.

It was a slow, tiresome ride, up the coast of South America, on through Central America, and all the way to Washington.

He left Buenos Aires in April, 1925, taking three years and five months for the trip.

The achievement is interesting, showing determination, and proving especially the fine qualities of a horse that could stand such a trip.

But so far as the world of today goes this ride, which would have been of the greatest importance a hundred, or even fifty, years ago, means nothing now.

Wherever that man went on horseback men could go now in automobiles, or on motorcycles, covering in a couple of weeks the distance that took the horseman over three years.

Or, if roads were too bad, a flier could make the trip high up over the forests, mountains and rocks in half the time that a motor car would need.

What is wonderful and marvelously useful in one age is merely a curiosity in another.

Once men's LIVES depended on the bow and arrow, the javelin hurled from a distance. Now these are toys.

Now men's lives depend on safety from gas attack and explosives. And they may in time become out of date.

One Building to a City

The Future Will See It.

The old days when the Tower of Babel rose about half as far as New York's Metropolitan Life tower, and Jacob dreamed about a ladder reaching to heaven with angels going up and down, would be amazed to hear of the 75-story building that Chicago plans over the Illinois Central tracks.

A 1,000- room hotel will be part of a building devoted to wearing apparel. The cost will be $15,000,000, for a structure 15 stories higher than any business building on earth.

That's a step toward the REALLY tall buildings on which flying machines will one day land their passengers—one building to a city, one city to a particular industry, populations living on hilltops not more than a few hundred miles away.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Human Brains

"Little head little wit;
Big head less it."

THIS amusing old couplet, which sounds like a spiteful emanation from some small-headed genius, might be thought to find vindication in the reported results of an investigation conducted by Dr. C. B. Langworthy, of Johns Hopkins Medical School, of the brains of porpoises. These animals, it appears, have much larger brains and bigger and more convoluted cerebral hemispheres than men have.

To be sure the animals themselves are much larger than we are, being in fact, cousins to the whale, but then there comes that disarming statement about the convolutions of their cerebral hemispheres. We have always been told by the experts that it was not so much the size of the human brain that gave it its supposed intellectual force as the number and complexity of those very convolutions. It was quality not quantity that counted.

But according to this report it seems that the porpoise has superior brain quality as well as quantity; at least as far as the anatomist's scalpel can discover. Such an immense literature has been built up on the evolutionary importance of brain development in giving the human race its supremacy over the other inhabitants of our planet that this investigation, if it is going to challenge the accepted teaching on this subject must be pushed to the limit.

What use has the porpoise for so large and highly developed a brain? It is hardly to be supposed that those animals do any thinking as we understand thought. But in that case a big and complicated brain must have other duties to perform besides those that we believe to characterize it. What is there, then, about the structure or life of the porpoise that can reasonably be supposed to call for the employment of so remarkable a physiological machine, apparently as good as that which we have been taught to look upon as our proudest possession.

One thing pointed out is that the porpoise "is a more highly developed animal from the evolutionary point of view than man, for after reaching the cat or dog stage of development the porpoise took up an aquatic habitation and underwent further evolutionary changes to suit his new environment."

It would seem, therefore, that the porpoise has become possessed of his big and complicated brain since the remote time when, like his huge cousin, the whale, he abandoned the dry land for the sea as a place of habitation. Did the exigencies brought about by this strange migration produce the brain development? And what about the intelligence of porpoises as compared with that of their fellow denizens of the ocean?

There is an immensely interesting field for human curiosity guided by scientific instinct to explore in that mysterious submarine world which was chosen by a part of the land-world's mammals in preference to their ancestral home. The mammals were the last great division of land life to be developed, and while some of them followed the straight and narrow path of evolution that led up to man, the forebearers of the porpoise heard the song of the deep and went down, like the "Forsaken Merman" to dwell forlorn in the palaces of the sea.

Tea

AMERICANS use slightly less than a pound of tea a year apiece—about 250 cups.

Nearly a third of their tea now comes from Ceylon.

Last year tea imports fell 7 per cent. Use of coffee is increasing, also of miscellaneous drinks in which caffeine is present.

Caffeine, by the way, is the nearest approach to a perfect stimulant that we have. Imbibed in moderation, it exhilarates mildly and exacts very little penalty.

Isn't It So?

Idleness is one thing that never works out right.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Double Your Efforts

YOU feel that you work harder than anyone else in your department.

You think that you are just as capable as some who have been advanced beyond you, and that makes you sore.

You have begun to think it is not worth while to work as hard as you do because your efforts are not suitably rewarded.

And that very thought proves what is probably thought of you at headquarters at the present time.

The management is not sure that you are reliable.

You might make errors and pass judgment without sufficient knowledge of the important matters that might come to your notice.

It may be necessary to have someone check up on your work.

And an error should not be made by the head of a department.

Too much is involved in big deals to make it advisable to employ a man to direct others, and then pay another to watch him.

In big business one must think clearly, quickly and accurately.

You are too nervous and have not enough control over your actions.

Don't reduce your efforts, for it might lose you your present job.

And don't make excuses for your shortcomings, for this means you too easily overlook your errors.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELS

Within the Shrine

THE gloom is soft and sweet the air
In this vast room,
As though the ceaseless breath of prayer
Must spring from bloom.

From some white bloom transcending those
Of all man's flowers,
More fair than violet or rose
In earthly bowers.

And yonder glows within the shrine
A golden spark
That speaks of Love whose glories shine
Across the dark.

How meaningless the rest would be,
A futile dream
Of incense, painting, melody,
Without that gleam!

In life's great room we find it so,
Your life and mine
Must still keep Love's white spark aglow
Within the shrine.

Different Aims

BRITISH golf authorities want a new golf ball that will be harder to drive and easier to lose. Their aim is to make the game more difficult.

We doubt that there can be an Anglo-American entente on this subject. The demand here is for an unlosable ball that can be knocked easily from tee to tee.

Great Passages from the Bible

A Prophecy of Calvary

(Isaiah 53; 1-12)

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities.

Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

Tales that are Told

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a Scotchman that was hit by a taxicab. The driver took him to his home, when he and a cop found the address in the victim's pocket. Then they picked up the family and the whole outfit went to a hospital in the same cab.

When the guy that was hurt was carried into the hospital he woke up and winked at the doctor.

"Well," he says, "I got a good long ride for nothing, anyhow."

"No you didn't," says the doc. "The driver charged your wife full fare the whole distance, and now he's after her for extra fare because he says there was one too many in the cab."

"Who is the scoundrel?" says the Scot, getting weaker.

"He's your brother Donald."

"There's nae use in living any maire," says the unlucky man. "All my luck has gone bad." And he died.

Cheaper In the End

A MOTORIST who had been summoned for exceeding the speed limit was up before the magistrate.

"But the evidence of this man is all wrong, sir," he protested. "I wasn't doing anything like 60 miles an hour."

"Were you watching the speedometer?" asked the magistrate.

"No, sir; I didn't need to—I was just out for a spin. I wasn't going anywhere at all."

The magistrate cleared his throat.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There is no other American city responding so enthusiastically to the nonsensical as this whopping village. New York has what impolite sneerers call "a tabloid audience"—a definite majority that will knock off work for the day to see anything different.

This overwhelming curiosity is symbolized by the thousands who sit up all night in uncomfortable seats to see the monotonous six-day bicycle race. The recent dance derby attracted a crowd at the finish that required all available police reserves.

The mere announcement a famous motion picture star will arrive at one of the railroad stations will fill the rotundas. And a Fifth avenue parade brings business to a full stop on that thoroughfare. Windows are broken by the press of crowds.

The disgraceful sabotage marking the public admittance to the bier of the late Valentino would not likely have occurred in any other city in the world. Even today the cafe where Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder had their first flirtation is patronized heavily by the purely curious.

The scene of any murder mystery will have its half circle of curious for weeks. Two years after the famous Elwell crime a group daily clotted across from his home in the West Seventies. A big theatrical premiere has a larger sidewalk crowd than its first night audience.

These demonstrations are participated in almost solely by natives and the personnel is not what one might expect. You see well dressed men and women of obvious intelligence enduring all sorts of discomfort merely to satisfy what seems to be an uncontrollable urge.

There are occasions when this curious gesture becomes quite ghoulish as when, following a midnight electrocution at Sing Sing, a hushed crowd huddles in the snow just to see the executioner drive from the scene of his legalized murder.

Zoe Beckley, incidentally, was a Wall street stenographer who decided she wanted to be a newspaper writer and made the grade. She found time at her typewriter to write articles about the brisk business world in which she lived and these she carried on her way home in the evening to the late T. E. Niles, a managing editor who gave Rube Goldberg, C. L. Edson, Grantland Rice, and many others their first chance in New York. Her efforts were rather terrible, but she refused to give up her ambition, and at the end of a year she developed into such a finished writer she left stenography flat. She is the wife of Joseph Gollomb, a popular fictionist.

Thinking in 'Lower Case'

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

A Mr. Hartwell, of Spring Valley, New York, has issued a little pamphlet called "Democracy With a Small D."

He points out that while in some cases the use of a capital is a mere fad, as in the case of the four seasons, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, there are times when the use of a capital has a certain connotation.

For instance, when one writes the word church with a capital C you infer that the writer is a Catholic or an Episcopalian.

So when one uses a capital N for nation or small s for state you judge that he is either a federalist or a states right man.

Republican and Democrat implies a party man, while republican and democrat allude to a certain theory of government.

Nation and state imply that the state is a part of the Nation which is paramount, while State and nation lays the emphasis on the State and not the nation.

He says that republicanism and democracy do not suggest partisanship and should be encouraged.

President Wilson, in his opinion, made a fundamental mistake in always thinking of democracy in terms of the Democratic party.

He was so much a Democrat that he refused to co-operate with the Republicans.

The United States is the only government which did not have a coalition cabinet. In every other country, under the stress of war, partisanship was thrown aside and in some nations representatives of every party were received in the cabinet. In our country only Democrats were permitted to advise the President.

The result was that his heart was broken and he failed, because he spelled democracy with a big D.

For this reason our author thinks that the young people in their thinking should think "lower case," as the printers say.

In other words they should hesitate to line themselves up with a party as long as possible.

The DeCoverly papers told about the evils of party spirit, and Washington warned us against party spirit and entangling alliances.

No one party or church has all the truth. Each in a measure is right, but to line up with one in antagonism to the other leads us to wrong extremes.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

THE Maharajah of Patiala is visiting Berlin with his six wives and personally superintending the purchase of their fall wardrobes. He has a turban made to match their costumes. He doesn't even have to tell his favorite for the day to hang around. All he has to do is wear the turban that matches her gown. It saves a lot of conversation, and a maharajah has to encourage silence.

When two women get along amicably for years, you can bet they don't like the same kind of men.

Chicago's Fashion Art League sends out word that women are becoming dress conscious, in Chicago.

In New York the women are wearing less and less and becoming more and more unconscious of the fact. They are extremely undress unconscious.

Men are afraid of black cats and mice. That used to be women's prerogative. Ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria aroused the whole house in Vienna last week when a black cat got into his room. He ran through the halls in what is recorded as "an old-fashioned nightie," and shrieked for somebody to bring him a gun.

I suppose by "old-fashioned nighties" they mean that the ex-king doesn't wear the new pink and blue and green ones with which the clothing store windows are hilarious.

Will the men who wear them please hold up their hands?

Mrs. Josephine Hiltwein, of Chicago, has secured her third divorce from the same man. And from her wall she has yanked down a motto and stuck it in the furnace. It read: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Old-fashioned girls are getting the jobs in California, while flappers are being rejected, according to the University Bureau of Occupations. They want girls they can depend upon, is given as the answer.

In other words, the interesting ones find husbands.

It is quite the thing to remarry one's divorced husband. Not only are women doing that every day, but Chicago boasts one who remarried three times and is getting another divorce. Los Angeles has one who was divorced 10 years ago and is to remarry number one.

The new motto is: "The more you see of the others, the better you think of the first one."

I know a woman who corresponds with all her former husbands and any one of them would take her back, so she says. She gets a certain satisfaction out of that knowledge. She talks about it so much I sometimes wish she would tell one of them she'd go back, and get a real jolt. They forget it's a game two can play.
